ARBITRATORS TO SPEEDILY GET TO WORK

No Indication That Any of Them Will Decline Their Membership.

MINERS' THREE DEMANDS

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
603 Fifteenth St., N. W.,
WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 16.

President Roosevelt is receiving the plaudits of a grateful people for settling the most injurious coal strike in the history of the republic, and averting distress and commercial disaster.

CARROLL D. WRIGHT.
Commissioner of Labor, Appointed Recorder of the Arbitration Commission.

Telegrams of congratulation have been coming in all day, and tonight are piled high on his desk.

Gen. John M. Wilson, the only member of the arbitration commission in the city today, has announced his formal acceptance. All others will consider it a command from the president and serve to the best of their ability.

The organization of the commission will take place at once, and there will be no delay in beginning the investigation. The headquarters will be in Washington, but of course it will be necessary to conduct the investigation in various parts of the coal region, and also in New York, the headquarters of the coal-carrying railroads. The report will be made to the president. It will be reviewed by him and then communicated to the two parties—the miners' union and the coal operators—for their agreement.

President Roosevelt will summon the members of the commission to Washington for a conference, and then the arrangements for its first session probably will be made. It is expected that this part of the program will be fixed within a few days.

No Probability of Any Refusal.

No information has been received at the White house that any one of the six arbitrators selected by the president will decline to serve.

The court of arbitration will decide which of the demands of the striking miners ought to be granted, and in what respect the coal operators ought to be sustained. At the beginning of the strike last May the specific demands of the miners, as presented to the operators by President John Mitchell of the United Mine Workers, were as follows:

First—An increase of 20 per cent in the wages of the miners who are paid by the ton—that is, for men performing contract work. These men involve about 40 per cent of all the miners.

Second—A reduction of 20 per cent in the time of per diem employes. The mines are operated about 200 days a year, 10 hours a day. This demand, if granted, would result in reducing the day to eight hours, so that the mines could be operated 240 days at about the same pay, hence an equivalent of 20 per cent increase in the earnings of the employes, though no increase in rate of wages was demanded.

Third—That 2,240 pounds shall constitute the ton on which payment is based for all coal mines when the miners are paid by weight. This would apply to such miners as are paid by the quantity of coal dug, and not to those paid by the day.

As a specific proposition, the court will not be called upon to determine whether the operators are to recognize the United Mine Workers; but the very fact that the demands of the miners' union are to be submitted to arbitration itself constitutes a recognition of the organization by the operators.

Messrs. Baer, Truesdale, Olyphant and the other operators

Two Suggested by Sargent.

Moreover, the presence on the commission of Grand Chief Clark of the Order of Railway Conductors is a further tribute to organized labor. Mr. Clark, by the way, as well as Bishop Spalding, were suggested to President Roosevelt by Commissioner of Immigration Sargent, former chief of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen.

Brig.-Gen. John M. Wilson, the first member of the coal strike arbitration commission chosen, says his selection was a complete surprise to him.

"Of course, an invitation from the president is in the nature of a command, and I shall accept that designation," said Gen. Wilson today. "The appointment was a great surprise to me, for I was never consulted on the subject and had not the slightest idea that my name was under serious consideration in connection with the commission. The first information I received came to me this morning about 6:30 o'clock while I was in bed. A note was sent up to me from my next door neighbor, Judge Maury, congratulating me upon my appointment as a member of the commission. I then sent for the morning papers and read the official announcement. I shall do my duty

DEATH GRAPPLE OF VENEZUELANS

Battle of La Victoria May Decide the Fate of the Dictator.

STILL IN PROGRESS

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

Caracas, Oct. 16.—The battle near La Victoria broke out again this morning. According to government reports received here, the revolutionists are said to be losing the positions they gained at Cuji yesterday, notwithstanding that the government is short of ammunition.

Gen. Matos is reported to be at Villa de Cura with 1,500 men. Hope of an ultimate government victory is entertained in official circles here.

Dispatches emanating from Caracas are subjected to government censorship.

The Venezuelan government has had no news from Valencia for three days. It finds it impossible to communicate with that city even by way of Puerto Cabello, as the telegraph lines have been cut.

Valencia was attacked Monday and Tuesday of this week by insurgents under Gen. Riera.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 16.—A cable dispatch received at the state department this morning from United States Minister Bowen at Caracas, dated last night, reads: "Battle Victoria continuing." It is believed here that Castro is making his last stand at this point, and that the defeat of the revolution will be determined by this engagement.

PANAMA, COLOMBIA, Oct. 16.—Gen. Perdomo, minister of state and supreme commander of the Colombian army, who has been invested with presidential power, arrived here today. He was accorded an enthusiastic reception.

Gov. Salazar, with all the high civil and military authorities, met Gen. Perdomo at the railroad station. A guard of American marines presented arms on his arrival, and such was the enthusiasm of the crowds assembled that the guard was unable to prevent the people from rushing into the depot when the train from Colon reached this city.

YOUNG CORBETT WINS FROM JOE BERNSTEIN

New Yorker Puts Up a Great Battle, but Broken Bone Stops Him.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

BALTIMORE, Oct. 16.—Young Corbett, the champion featherweight pugilist of the world, was awarded the decision over Joe Bernstein of New York, "the Ghetto champion," before the Eureka Athletic club tonight in Music hall. The men were to have boxed 10 rounds to a decision at catch weights. Bernstein was in the pink of condition and weighed 124½ pounds. The champion looked as if he had not trained an hour, and was beefy. He declined to give his weight.

With the call of time the men went at it hammer and tongs. The New York boy was favorite with the 3,500 spectators, and his every telling blow was cheered to the echo. Bernstein, in the third round, landed a right swing, which opened the Denver boy's left eye, and throughout the battle claret flowed freely from the wound.

After five rounds of sparring, the champion went after Bernstein, and a succession of rushes followed. He found that the New Yorker gave as good as he received and showed no inclination to shirk. At the end of the seventh round Bernstein called Referee Joe Pollock of New York to his corner and showed him that a small bone in his left hand was broken, and Bernstein's seconds then threw up the sponge.

ROBBERS IDENTIFIED.

One of Men Who Attempted to Rob Aged Meach Brothers in Ohio Was College Graduate.

CLEVELAND, O., Oct. 16.—Identification was made today by the local police of two of the men implicated in the attempted robbery of the aged Meach brothers in Lorain county, Tuesday night. One of the two men killed was Frank C. Gramville, who has been living in Cleveland for some months. He was a married man. His wife was shown a photograph of the dead man today, and burst into tears.

The second man is said to be James Tracy, whose family lives in Illinois, 40 miles west of Chicago. He is said to have been a college graduate nine years ago, but became reckless and drifted into criminal pursuits.

Casey and the fourth member of the band have been bound over to the grand jury.

WENT TO ENGLAND TO CLAIM HIS BRIDE

LONDON, Oct. 16.—(Copyright Cable.)—The culmination of a pretty little American romance occurred today at St. Margaret's, Westminster, when Miss Sarah Rankin Gilfry, daughter of Henry Gilfry of Washington, principal legislative clerk of the senate, married Hugh Armor Ward of New York. The young people wished the marriage to take place in Washington in the autumn, but the bride's family decided to spend the winter on this side, so Mr. Ward and his best man came all the way across the Atlantic to claim his bride.

ROCKEFELLER'S TREAT.

He Provides a Show for Baptist Sunday School Teachers.

NEW YORK, Oct. 17.—(Special.)—In a special from Cleveland the World this morning says:

John D. Rockefeller provided a show last night at Forest Hill for the past and present teachers of the Euclid Avenue Baptist Sunday school. A temporary stage had been erected. The artists were Miss Jessie Pike, a singer, and Warren G. Richards, a monologist. Mr. Rockefeller paid all expenses. The Standard oil magnate sat in the front row and led the applause. More than 200 persons were present.

British Congratulations.

LONDON, Oct. 16.—(Special.)—"Peace hath her victories no less renowned than war. The victory of Mr. Roosevelt is among the greatest of these." This is the text which, it may be said, London papers this morning take in congratulating Mr. Roosevelt and the American nation on the termination of the coal strike.

HARK FROM THE TOMB.
G. C.—Here's an Old Document Nearly as Good as New.

MINER SHOOTS MAN WHO CALLED HIM "SCAB"

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

MT. CARMEL, PA., Oct. 16.—Returning to his Midvalley home, a Mt. Carmel suburb, this afternoon, his first visit home in five months, spent in working at a Shenandoah colliery, Charles Smith was called a "scab" by his neighbor, George Geisel. Several hours later, fired with liquor, Smith entered Geisel's home and emptied his revolver at the latter before he could arise from his chair, the bullets taking effect in the hand, arm and leg.

Leaving his man for dead where he fell, Smith returned to his home, which was immediately surrounded by a mob clamoring for his blood. The mob was about to carry a lynching plan into execution when the local police arrived and escorted the would-be murderer to the city jail.

Lieut.-Col. Rickards, commanding the Sixteenth regiment, had been called upon for assistance by Mining Superintendent R. A. Mercur, and had a guard en route under arms, when word was received recalling the guardsmen.

Smith was hurried to the county prison to escape a rapidly formed plan of the infuriated people to wreak their vengeance on him.

A roughly estimated vote of the strikers here today revealed that the majority is for a further stand-out, unless their union is formally recognized, and will so instruct their delegates to the impending convention.

The guardsmen have settled to the conviction that their present tour of duty will find them eating Thanksgiving turkey in the hard coal fields. There is a well-defined impression, gained from the openly avowed sentiment of the strikers, that the national guard services will be needed for some weeks after the miners return to work, a day of reckoning for the non-union workers being set at about the first pay-day.

TWO RAILROADS SUED.

Damages of $150,000 Wanted from Pennsylvania and Bessemer.

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Oct. 16.—(Special.)—Suits aggregating $150,000 have been commenced by Attorney D. F. Anderson against the Pennsylvania Railroad Company and the Bessemer & Lake Erie Railroad Company.

Charles Banbury of Sandy Lake, Pa., a postal clerk, has brought suit for $50,000 for injuries received in a Pennsylvania wreck at Eastbrook, Pa., July 19, and William Gulliford, engineer, of Jamestown, Pa., and John Strauss of Albion, Pa., brakeman on a Bessemer & Lake Erie train, who were hurt in a head-on collision near Houston Junction, Pa., have each sued for $50,000. In the first wreck one man was killed and in the latter four men.

JUDGE CANNOT BE HYPNOTIZED

Ed Butler Pays High Price to Professor, but Loses Money.

CASE MUST GO ON

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

Columbia, Mo., Oct. 16.—Ed. Butler, the millionaire Democratic boss of St. Louis, who is on trial here on a change of venue, charged with bribing St. Louis councilmen to vote right on the Scullin street railroad ordinances, is alleged to have employed a hypnotist to influence the judge in his favor on all judicial decisions that might arise during the trial.

The story of the employment of the hypnotist comes from some of Butler's closest friends in St. Louis. He is alleged to have promised the "professor" $3,000 for the job of making up Judge Hockaday's judicial mind for him at all critical points of the case.

During the trial a man of mysterious mien occupied a seat in the rear of the court room and constantly kept his eyes on the judge. The peculiar manner in which he acted during the preliminaries gave rise to the belief that he is Butler's high-priced hypnotist. Hour after hour he stared at the judge. Occasionally he shifted his position, but he never seemed for a moment to remove his gaze from the countenance of the judge.

From the tenor of the court's decisions, it is evident that the professor has not earned his money, for the only point decided in favor of Butler is the one postponing his case till November, though the attorneys for the defense asked a longer postponement in order to secure the testimony of certain witnesses now absent.

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 16.—Circuit Attorney Folk, who returned from Columbia, Mo., tonight because of the continuance of the trial of Col. Edward Butler, charged with attempted bribery, will tomorrow begin an investigation to learn why a deputy sheriff returned marked "unfound" subpoenas for four witnesses for the defense in the Butler trial. The failure to subpoena John B. McCarthy, one of the four, was responsible for the granting of the continuance to the defendant. Circuit Attorney Folk said tonight:

"I intend to sift this matter thoroughly, as the whole thing looks like a put-up job. It will go before the grand jury. Such things will not do in the sheriff's department. We cannot afford to overlook such palpable neglect."

Judge Hyden Is Dead.

BEATTYVILLE, KY., Oct. 16.—Judge Allen Hyden of Booneville, who was shot from ambush three days ago, died today.

MINERS WOULD LIKE TO KNOW FIGURES

Men at Shamokin Dislike Going to Work Before Wage Question Is Decided.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

SHAMOKIN, PA., Oct. 16.—When bulletins came tonight that the district executive boards had indorsed President Mitchell's action in paving the way to end the strike, the strikers became greatly antagonistic toward the plan of going to work and remaining at toil every day thereafter until the arbitration commission could have time to inquire into the business of the coal companies, so as to be able to determine whether the miners are paid ample money for their work.

The men say that now is the time to settle with their employers, and that it should be known how much the employes are to be paid before they go into the mines. The miners, however, trust Mitchell implicitly.

Cavalry and infantry were used tonight to escort non-unionists from the Henry Clay shaft to their homes. Several thousand people were scattered along the Shamokin streets as the non-unionists and soldiers walked by. One striker was arrested for shouting "Scab" at a soldier.

The ninth district United Mine Workers' officers left here this morning for Wilkesbarre to attend the conference tomorrow.

REPLY TO ROOSEVELT.

Mitchell Wires to Him News of What Was Done at Wilkesbarre Toward Ending Strike.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 16.—There was received at the White House tonight quite a long telegram from Mr. Mitchell in reply to a message the president had wired him yesterday giving the final result of the strike agreement, with certain suggestions from the president that had been accomplished. It was the president's wish to have a speedy resumption of mining.

Mr. Mitchell's response gave what had been done in Wilkesbarre today toward declaring the strike off. It was received at the White House too late to be laid before the president tonight, but will be given consideration in the morning.

MOSQUITOES DROVE SHEEP TO DEATH

NEW YORK, Oct. 17.—(Special.)—In a special from Rockport, Tex., the Sun this morning says: A flock of 6,000 sheep belonging to George Brandreth and feeding on Matagorda island, were driven by mosquitoes into the water of Cedar Canyon and all but 400 were drowned. The mosquitoes are so bad on the island that families living there have had to abandon their homes.

WHOLE REGIMENT DOES CAKE WALK

Fourteenth Men Grow Enthusiastic and Serenade Col. Thompson.

HOBSON IN CAMP

By WILLIAM L. ROSS,
Staff Correspondent.

Mahanoy City, Pa., Oct. 16.—The Fourteenth regiment had as guest for three hours this afternoon Capt. Richmond P. Hobson, the hero of the Merrimac. In all his experiences since the ending of the Spanish-American war, Capt. Hobson never received a more hearty ovation than was given him by the 600 Allegheny county soldiers in this command. Capt. Hobson came to this city to lecture tonight before the teachers' Institute on "The United States as a World Power." He came to camp at the invitattion of Col. Thompson this afternoon and in his honor a dress parade was given on the drill grounds just west of Camp Glenn.

The regiment passed in review before him and the full parade exercises were given without a hitch. With the regiment he returned to camp, dined at officers' mess and then spent an hour at headquarters meeting the officers and recounting Spanish war experiences.

As he left camp to go to the teachers' meeting the band turned out and played "Auld Lang Syne," amid the applause of the whole command. Three cheers followed him down the hill from the grounds.

Boys Do Cake Walk.

An enthusiastic mood had seized upon the regiment from the presence of the distinguished guest. This broke loose in an impromptu band concert, ending in the whole command cake-walking behind the band to the colonel's tent. There the band played "Hail, Hail, the Gang's All Here," and a call was made for a speech. The colonel came out and for 15 minutes talked to his men, complimenting them upon the excellent record they had made at Camp Glenn and urging them to continue as they had begun.

"Those of you reading the Pittsburgh papers know that the people at home have had good reasons to be proud of the way this regiment has conducted itself in the field."

With uncovered heads the men sang "The Star Spangled Banner" and returned to their quarters.

Tonight the air is full of singing about the camp grounds. The nearness of a return home from the strike settlement has undoubtedly much to do with the cheerfulness of the command.

Tomorrow evening the locals of this valley, one of the most important in the anthracite region, will hold meetings to choose the delegates to the convention at Wilkesbarre Monday.

Mitchell's Word Supreme.

The changes made by President Roosevelt in the original demands of the operators in regard to the composition of the board of arbitration has worked a corresponding change in the feeling of the strikers toward the plan of settlement.

President John Mitchell's open favor for the arbitration will remove all effective opposition to the agreement to the plan so far as he Mahanoy valley's concerned, for Mitchell's word is supreme here.

Tonight the streets are crowded with the strikers discussing the favorable aspect matters have assumed.

Tomorrow an inspection of all the camps in the Second brigade will be made by the colonels of the regiments and the captains of the battery and troop under Gen. John A. Wiley. The special car and engine of the Reading railroad will be used, so that the entire inspection can be made in one day.

Four Hungarians applied for work at the colliery at Gilberton this afternoon. They went inside the ropes in full sight of a number of strikers. Work was resumed. When they left they were soundly thrashed by the union men and driven from the vicinity, after promising to be good from now on. None was seriously hurt.

NERO, A BIG LION ATTACKS TRAINER

Inflicted Frightful Gashes on His Back, Hand and Legs. Spectators Stampeded.

TERRE HAUTE, IND., Oct. 16.—Dick Dekenzo was attacked by Nero, a big lion with a wild animal show, at the close of an exhibition tonight. The lion inflicted frightful gashes on Dekenzo's back, hands and legs. Only the prompt action of attendants saved the trainer's life.

The spectators were stampeded and many were bruised in the wild rush to escape from the tent.

LIKES AMERICANS BEST.

Crown Prince of Siam Says They Are Big Hearted and Easy to Get Acquainted With.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 16.—Chowfa Maha Vajiravudh, crown prince of Siam, arrived here today as the guest of William Potter, former minister to Italy. Accompanying the prince is his brother, Prince Chakrabongse, and their aides-de-camp, Col. Phya Rajahvalloh, Capt. Luang Sarasiddhi and Luangh Surayudh.

At 6:30 o'clock this evening the crown prince and his brother held an informal reception for the representatives of Philadelphia newspapers.

The crown prince said he wished the American newspapers would use larger type. The print here hurts his eyes. It is larger in England, he said, but in other respects he thinks he likes the American newspapers best.

"I like the American newspapers best, just as I like the American people best. They are so big-hearted and easy to get acquainted with," he said.

BRIDGE FALLS AFTER THE TRAIN PASSED

CHICAGO, Oct. 16.—According to the Chronicle, 300 passengers on the Wabash railroad had a narrow escape from death this afternoon. The train had just crossed a bridge over the Calumet river when the structure collapsed and fell into the stream.

Arrested for Embezzlement.

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Oct. 16.—(Special.)—A. W. Campbell, wanted at Rochester, Pa., on a charge of embezzlement from an installment company, was arrested here today. He will be taken back to Pennsylvania.

MINERS WILL RESUME WORK IN ONE WEEK

A Convention Called to Meet Monday to Act on Arbitration.

LITTLE DOUBT OF ITS APPROVAL

For a Few Weeks There Will Not Be Work Enough for All of the Strikers.

NOT WHOLLY SATISFIED

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

Wilkesbarre, Pa., Oct. 16.—The executive boards of the three anthracite districts of the United Mine Workers, in joint session today, unanimously decided to recommend to a delegate convention of striking miners the acceptance of the arbitration proposition submitted by the president of the United States. It is reasonably certain that the advice will be followed and the great struggle brought to a close.

The convention will assemble in this city next Monday morning.

If the plans of the strike leaders are not disarranged a general resumption of mining will take place about next Thursday. It is expected the convention will last two days, and that there will be an interval of one day from the time the convention adjourns until the time set for the men to go back to the mines.

Not Work Enough for All.

There will not be enough work at first for all the strikers, as it is not the intention of the companies to dismiss the non-union men who have stood by them during the strife. The organization will take care of such other men as are unable to immediately find work. Some of the mines, too, are wholly or partly flooded and others need repairs.

While the great "third party," the public, is satisfied with the promise of an early coal supply, it cannot be truly said there is much rejoicing among the striking mine workers over the result. They admit the near ending of the long idleness is extremely satisfactory to them, and that they have won a great victory in gaining arbitration, but they feel that the real reward in putting up such a stubborn struggle is yet to come in the decision of the arbitration commission.

Mr. Mitchell's Statement.

Owing to pressure for news, Mr. Mitchell made this signed statement this morning:

Appreciating the anxiety and impatience of the public and the mine workers for some authoritative statement from this office, I issue this bulletin to say that I was unalterably opposed to the acceptance of or acquiescence in the form of settlement proposed by the coal operators, because it restricted the president of the United States in selecting the men who were to determine the questions involved in the strike.

Those restrictions having been removed and a representative given to organized labor, as well as to organized capital, I am now prepared to give my personal approval to a settlement of the issues involved in this strike by the commission selected by the president, and I recommend to the executive officers of districts 1, 7 and 9, in their meeting today, that an immediate call be issued for a convention whose authorization is necessary to declare the strike at an end.

In the meantime, I trust that the people of our country will be as patient as possible, as we are moving as rapidly as the interests of our people will permit.

Some Points Criticised.

Some opposition was shown in the meeting to certain features of the plan, but this did not interfere with the unanimity of the vote to call the convention. These are the same executive boards which on May 8 ordered the strike to begin, which action was approved, in the face of Mr. Mitchell's opposition, by the Hazleton convention a few days later.

The matter of the term of years that the agreement shall be in force was a source of much inquiry. The union is strongly opposed to the operators fixing the term of years. One district president said this feature had been left to the discretion of the commission, as suggested in Mr. Mitchell's proposition, while other officials did not know anything about it.

QUAY WELL SATISFIED.

Too Modest to Claim for Himself the Credit for Taking First Decisive Step Toward Peace.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 16.—(Special.)—"I am satisfied," said Senator Quay when asked for an expression on the coal strike.

Not another word would the Republican state chairman say. That he was greatly pleased could be told by his manner, but the man who first took decisive steps to bring about peace takes no credit to himself.

Chairman Quay remained all day in state headquarters. He saw a big crowd of visitors and transfacted much business. All who talk with him realize that he is confident of a great Republican victory, and that, in his opinion, the majority by him predicted at the outset of the campaign is increasing daily.

GOV. STONE PLEASED.

Expresses His Satisfaction Over Peace at a Political Meeting.

LANCASTER, PA., Oct. 16.—In addressing a Republican mass meeting at Walkers Woods, this county, this afternoon Congressman Butler declared that he would vote against any revision of the tariff.

Among the other speakers were Gov. Stone and Attorney General Elkin. The governor expressed satisfaction at the conclusion of the coal strike and that it had been settled "without humiliation to the state, as it ought to be, when the people take a hand in it."

HARRISBURG, PA., Oct. 16.—(Special.)—Gov. Stone declines to discuss the time and manner in which the troops will be withdrawn. The prospects are, though, that all of the soldiers will be ordered home inside of a week, and that the movement will be made by regiments.

The cost to the state of keeping the troops on duty will be at least $750,000, and to avoid further expense the governor wishes to recall them as soon as possible.

Reading's Coal Shipments.

READING, PA., Oct. 16.—Since Monday night the Reading Railroad Company has brought down from the Schuylkill region 559 cars of coal, equal to 16,770 tons, the largest quantity shipped in any 72 hours since the strike.

NO CHANGE ASKED IN RACING RULES

Lipton's Third Challenge for America's Cup Received in New York and Accepted.

RECALLS LAST TIME

Sir Thomas Hopes That This Attempt Will Not Cause People to Think Him Importunate or Covetous of Precious Emblem.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

New York, Oct. 16.—Sir Thomas Lipton's third challenge for the America's cup, sent by the Royal Ulster Yacht club, was made public at the New York Yacht club tonight, after being read and acted on by a committee appointed for that purpose.

The challenge is almost identical with that sent by Sir Thomas in 1900. There was not a particle of doubt of its acceptance by the club after it had been read on Wednesday. Commodore Ledyard, being quite ill at his Newport home, Vice Commodore Fred G. Bourne presided at a meeting held in the committee room. Commodore Ledyard was then called up by long distance telephone. He appointed the following committee: Vice Commodore Bourne, Secretary George A. Cormack, Edwin D. Morgan, E. M. Brown, J. P. Morgan, J. M. Forbes, Archibald Rogers and William Butler Duncan, Jr. All the members of this committee excepting Mr. Morgan were present.

The committee then went into secret session, and the challenge was read to them, while hundreds of yachtsmen, impatient to hear the news, stood in the big model room down stairs.

In about an hour the committee announced the challenge had been accepted. Following is the text of the challenge:

No Change to Conditions.

Royal Ulster Yacht Club,
Mount Pattinger Road, Belfast,
7th October, 1902.

To G. A. Cormack, Esq.,
Secretary New York Yacht Club, New York:

Dear Sir—I am requested by Sir Thomas J. Lipton, Bart., K. C. V. O., to forward you this challenge for the America's cup, subject to the same conditions as governed the last contest, and which proved to be so satisfactory, namely, the best three out of five races over the same courses with like starts and other details.

The first race to be sailed on Thursday, 20th August, 1903.

The second race to be sailed on Saturday, 22nd August, 1903.

The third race to be sailed on Tuesday, 25th August, 1903.

Further races (if any) to be sailed on each following Thursday, Saturday and Tuesday until finished.

I therefore, on behalf on the Royal Ulster Yacht club, and in the name of Sir Thomas J. Lipton, a member of the club, challenge to sail a series of matches with the yacht Shamrock III., against any one yacht or vessel constructed in the United States of America for the America cup.

The following are the particulars of the challenging vessel, viz: Owner, Sir Thomas J. Lipton, Bart., K. C. V. O. Name of yacht, Shamrock III. Length of load on water line, 86 ft. Rig, cutter.

The custom house measurement will follow as soon as the vessel can be measured for registration.

I shall be much obliged if you will cable the receipt of this challenge.

(Signed) Hugh Kelley,
Honorary Secretary Royal Yacht Club.

Letter from Lipton.

This letter was received from Sir Thomas Lipton:

Oaidge, October 7, 1902.

Dear Mr. Cormack:

You will receive by the same mail a communication from the secretary of the Royal Yacht club conveying a challenge on my behalf for a series of races for the America's cup to take place next year. In view of the eminently satisfactory and congenial arrangements made by your club for the two contests to which I have already been privileged to engage, I am sure you will see from the terms of the challenge, no change whatever in the conditions which governed the last contest entered into by me.

In thus desiring an opportunity of making a third attempt to obtain possession of the America's cup I hope I may not be deemed importunate or unduly covetous of the precious trophy so long and worthily held in trust by the New York Yacht club.

Yours, faithfully,
Thomas J. Lipton.

To G. A. Cormack, Esq., Secretary New York Yacht Club, New York, U. S. A.

OPERATION SUCCESSFUL

Lieut. Peary Can Walk Better With Fewer Toes—Condition is Most Satisfactory.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 16.—The following statement in reference to Lieut. Peary's operation and general condition was given out today:

"The operation itself was simple and successful. A speedy recovery is anticipated and it is thought that it will not be long before he will be able to resume his official duties in the navy.

"The operation does not in any way affect his physical condition, saving that, as it will facilitate his walking, it will contribute to even better health. He is in first-class condition physically, in spite of his prolonged and necessarily trying experience for the last few years in the Arctic region."

SON TOO ECONOMICAL.

Turns Out Aged Mother Because Warmth Costs Too Much.

MERIDEN, CONN., Oct. 16.—(Special.)—Mrs. Caroline Schultz, nearly 80 years old, complained to the selectmen today that her son, August Kuhn, had turned her out of doors. She made her home with him for several years.

According to her story, a month ago Kuhn said that, owing to the scarcity of coal, he would have to economize on room and that she would have to go. He procured a policy for $100 on her life and then turned her out.

She was given an order on a restaurant and an investigation is being made.

NEW THEATER OPENED.

Not Large, but $2,000 Realized for Seat Sales for First Night.

NEW YORK, Oct. 16.—(Special.)—Mrs. Robert Osborne opened her playhouse, formerly the Berkley Lyceum, today. The occasion was the auction sale of seats for the first performance next Tuesday of "Tommyrot," and the burlesque of "Iris." About $2,000 was realized, a large sum for this small theater.

Mrs. Orme Wilson purchased first choice of boxes for $150, and Mrs. Cornelius Vanderbilt got second choice for $100.

Registration a Farce.

SAN JUAN, P. R., Oct. 16.—The election registrations have been a complete farce. The Federals were shut out in a majority of the precincts of the island, due to an order of the executive council placing a majority of Republicans on each board.

NEEDED CITY REFORMS

Committee Is Chosen to Nominate Candidates for Next Year. Federation Adjourns at Titusville to Meet at Carlisle.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

Titusville, Pa., Oct. 16.—The last day of the state convention of the Federation of Women's Clubs opened with Mrs. Ellis Lewis Campbell of Wayne in the chair. The election of a nominating committee to select candidates who will be elected at the convention at Carlisle next year was the first work of the session. Those chosen were: Western district, Mrs. William Fleming, president Women's Press club, Pittsburgh, and Mrs. Julia

MRS. ANDREW EASTON,
Delegate from the Woman's Club of Pittsburgh.

Perkins, Erie; alternates, Mrs. Sarah G. Hannsler, Bradford, and Mrs. J. J. Covert, Lawrenceville. Central district, Mrs. Orville B. Lake, Williamsport, and Mrs. E. Z. Weller, Harrisburg; alternates, Mrs. McKillip, Bloomsburg, and Mrs. Nevins Pomeroy of Chambersburg.

Mrs. C. B. Stillwell of the Saturday club of Wayne, talked at length on glimpses from the biennial at Los Angeles, she being the delegate elected at Reading last year to make this report.

She was tendered a vote of thanks.

The afternoon session was opened with a discussion on reform along the lines of cleaner streets, better police protection, honest elections and woman suffrage on school matters. Mrs. J. M. Oakley and Mrs. Taylor Scarlett of Philadelphia were prominent in this talk. Miss Beulah Kennard of Pittsburgh spoke of playgrounds and parks as beneficial to children in crowded districts of cities.

Mrs. F. P. Iams of Pittsburgh advocated better sanitary conditions. Mrs. W. F. Abel of the same city discussed the smoke nuisance from a local point of view, advocating the use of stacks and chain grates, whereby 90 per cent could be abated.

The curfew law was discussed in its many phases by Mrs. Elma Sherman of the Titusville Women's club, and president of the local Children's Aid society, to whose efforts this city owes its curfew ordinance. She was enthusiastic in her expressions regarding its operations and hoped that it might be extended to other cities and towns.

Mrs. Taylor Scarlett reported for the eastern district on the conference of education, and, with Mrs. R. H. Pratt of Carlisle and Mrs. Edward Biddle talked very encouragingly of the ultimate good to be accomplished through the public school savings bank and the best system of operating them.

Mrs. Patterson of the Woman's club of Pittsburgh, representing the western district under the educational head, advocated the placing of women on school boards.

Delegate from the Tuesday Musical Club of Pittsburgh, Who Played at the Recital in Titusville on Wednesday Evening.

PROHIBITIONISTS AT OLD CITY HALL

Dr. Swallow Again Told of the Burning of the Capitol and Other Horrors.

The state candidates of the Prohibition party spoke last night at Old City hall, and had for an audience just 15 persons fewer than the 263 the "Muddy Water" party had last Saturday night. As usual, the Rev. Dr. Silas C. Swallow, the prohibition candidate for governor, again told of the burning of the state capitol and predicted the election of the Republican candidates.

Lee L. Crumbine, the Prohibition candidate for lieutenant governor, said the meeting was for civic righteousness and clean politics. Two epigrammatic utterances stood out above the rest of his address. "A license voting pulpit, preaching a non-license sermon, can only provoke a wink from a license pew and perhaps a contribution," said Mr. Crumbine. "Newspaper and magazine sapheads tell us that we ought to provide a substitute for the saloon, the poor man's club, as they call it. There is a substitute for the saloon. No better substitute has ever been devised than the American home."

Dr. Swallow told in his speech about the burning of the capitol, "to conceal evidence of defalcations in the state treasury."

The J. G. Dailey quartet entertained the audience with hymns. M. H. Stevenson, the Allegheny county chairman of the party, also spoke.

DEFEAT FOR CARRIE NATION.

Pitched Into the Street by an Ungallant Texas Saloonkeeper.

AUSTIN, TEX., Oct. 16.—(Special.)—Mrs. Carrie Nation arrived here today and tried to take charge of a saloon. Alderman Bill Davis, proprietor of the place, was present and asked her who she was.

"I am Carrie Nation, sir," she replied, "and was never known to leave a saloon hell until I got good and ready."

"I am sorry, Carrie," replied the proprietor, "but it makes no difference who you are. One of us has got to go out."

Upon Mrs. Nation's second refusal to vacate, Davis caught her by the back of the neck and one arm and threw her into the street. She was forced to take the train out of town for her next speaking place.

to the best of my ability as I have always endeavored to do."

It was suggested that being the first member of the commission named, he probably would act as chairman.

Judge Gray May Preside.

"That does not follow," replied Gen. Wilson. "I should think Judge Gray would be the man to preside over the commission. I happened to be named first because the proposition to appoint a commission suggested the selection of an engineer officer first. I have notified the president of my acceptance and await further orders."

Carroll D. Wright, chosen by the president as recorder of the commission, said that he would accept.

"I could not decline even if I desired to do so," he said. "I could not conceive of any of the appointees declining. These are times when all patriotic men, from the highest to the lowest, must accept the duty laid upon them. This is one of them."

Parker and Spalding.

NEW HAVEN, CONN., Oct. 16.—(Special.)—Edward Parker, whom President Roosevelt has appointed one of the coal strike arbitrators, left here tonight for New York. Since Tuesday he has been attending the annual convention of the American Institute of Mining Engineers. Mr. Parker said:

"All I know about my appointment is through the newspapers. I have had no word from President Roosevelt officially. Naturally I assume that the published announcement is correct, and manifestly it would be improper for me to discuss any phase of the situation or anything even remotely connected with the strike. I shall be in Washington in a few days."

He left New Haven tonight.

PEORIA, ILL., Oct. 16.—Bishop Spalding declined to express himself definitely this morning concerning his appointment by President Roosevelt as a member of the board of arbitration owing to the fact that he had not yet been officially notified of his appointment. He said he was highly sensible of the honor that such an appointment would confer and felt that it would be his duty and pleasure to accept in the event that the president considers him worthy. He had not received the slightest intimation that his name had been considered by the president and his advisers and was much surprised by the press announcement.

$150,000 Bequest to a Hospital.

BOSTON, Oct. 16.—(Special.)—The will of Lamont G. Burnham, retired coal merchant, contains a bequest of $150,000 to the Boston City hospital to construct and equip the "Lamont G. Burnham" ward.

STOCKMEN MEETING IN PITTSBURGH

Three Hundred Delegates Will Attend 15th Annual Convention at Schenley.

The fifteenth annual convention of the National Live Stock association will be held at the Hotel Schenley, beginning today. The meeting promises to be made memorable by an attack upon the beef trust, which is threatened by a faction of the delegates. The fight will be led by J. B. Blanchard, a leading dealer of Omaha, and his sentiments will be indorsed by many independent dealers.

The Pittsburgh members have been making great preparations for the entertainment of the delegates, and have evinced comparatively little interest in the contest between the combine dealers and the independents. Three hundred delegates are expected.

The western delegates will arrive in a special train over the Baltimore & Ohio railroad this morning. A banquet will be held in the dining room at the Schenley tonight. Covers will be laid for 350 guests. The Hon. Frank McCain of Lancaster, Pa., will be toastmaster.

General Manager Simon O'Donnell has planned a series of excursions to the places of interest about the city for the delegates on Saturday. A number of informal receptions will be tendered the wives of the visiting delegates.

BREAKS UP IN ROW.

Democrats Fail to Nominate Man for Congress in District Sure to Win.

BOSTON, Oct. 16.—After several days spent in balloting, the Ninth congressional district Democratic convention broke up today without making a nomination. The scenes at the closing sessions were boisterous, physical encounters being prevented only by the energetic action of the police. As the time for filing the convention nomination expired at 5 o'clock today, the delegates will not reconvene, and the Democrats must resort to nomination papers, to be filed before 5 p. m. tomorrow.

The district is overwhelmingly Democratic. It is remodelled from the old Ninth, long represented by John F. Fitzgerald, who at one time had the distinction of being New England's only Democratic congressman.

The failure to nominate today was not unexpected. Five times the convention sat, and in a total of 47 ballots taken the vote scarcely varied.

Bogus Rent Collector Abroad.

J. P. Armstrong called at the residence of Mrs. Jacob Hudson, No. 112 Tecumseh street. He said he was the new rent collector and demanded the month's rent. The rent amounted to $30 and Mrs. Hudson handed him two $20 bills. Armstrong gave her a receipt for the $20 and excused himself until he went to a nearby grocery store to get change. He never came back.

Expects Solution in Philippines.

ROME, Oct. 16.—Cardinal Gotti, prefect of the propaganda, received today and bade farewell to Archbishop Guidi, apostolic delegate to the Philippines. He said he was sure that the archbishop's presence in the islands would mean the successful solution of religious questions there.

Better Wages for Colorado Miners.

DENVER, Oct. 16.—(Special.)—The Colorad Fuel and Iron Company has voluntarily decided upon a general increase in wages of its 10,000 coal miners. The increase is in the nature of a readjustment, and in some cases amounts to 25 per cent of the present scale.

Mising Sailors' Boat Found.

CLEVELAND, O., Oct. 16.—All hope that the 10 men who had left the foundering steamer C. B. Lockwood off the port of Ashtabula, Lake Erie, Monday night, were still alive was dispelled when the overturned boat that they had embarked in, was picked up this afternoon, off that port, by the boat J. G. Gremmer.

PALE LUNA WAS TOTALLY ECLIPSED

Interesting Phenomena Observed in the Heavens Early This Morning.

ASTRONOMERS' QUERY

They Do Not Yet Know How to Account for the Lighter Rim the Planet Presents During Obscurity.

As successful a total eclipse of the moon as had ever been seen in Pittsburgh took place early this morning, beginning somewhat after midnight. The eclipse was observed by Prof. Frank L. O. Wadsworth, director of the Allegheny observatory.

Eclipses of the moon are not uncommon, recurring in fact, with great regularity, and for astronomers generally there is much interest in them, although every one of them religiously observes the eclipse each time it takes place.

Before the eclipse began the sky was clear, except for occasional wisps of clouds that skurried across the surface of the moon. After half the period of totality had passed over a bank of clouds came up and almost totally obscured the dusky disk, so that Prof. Wadsworth for a while feared that the eclipse would pass over without presenting him another opportunity to use the big telescope on the hidden satellite. In 10 minutes, however, the clouds passed away, the stars came out again and the dark moon, with a rim of semi-orange color, again came into view.

This lighter-colored edge was of special interest to Prof. Wadsworth for the reason that the difference between the center of the lunar disk while under eclipse and the lighter rim have not yet been divined by the observers of celestial phenomena.

As everybody knows, a lunar eclipse is caused by the shadow of the earth being cast upon the moon, just as a solar eclipse is caused by the moon interposing her bulk between the sun and the earth. Yet the moon is darkly visible to earth dwellers through the shadow cone which falls upon the satellite's surface. The partial visibility is caused by rays of the sun, which are bent around the earth and fall obliquely upon the moon. Those rays fall with equal illuminating power upon all parts of the moon's surface presented to the earth, so that naturally the whole surface should shine through the shadow with equal luminosity. Yet the edge or rim of the moon is always lighter or more visible than the rest. Astronomers are trying to learn why this is thus, and Prof. Wadsworth took his observations with this object in view last night.

The moon entered the penumbra of the earth's shadow at 10:17 p. m. and cut the edge of the real shadow at 11:17 p. m. Exactly at 12:19 a. m. the last silvery edge of the moon was obscured and the total eclipse began. At 1:03 a. m. the obscuration was half over, and at 1:48 the eclipse ended.

Then the silvery body began to emerge and gradually grew larger and larger, until exactly an hour later she left the shadow of the earth and the total eclipse was over, although there was a slight dimness on the edge until 3:50 a. m., when the penumbra was left behind.

RUSSIA PROPOSES TREATY.

Would Renew Old Agreement With Turkey for Establishment of an Alliance.

LONDON, Oct. 17.—In a dispatch from Bucharest, Roumania, the correspondent of the Daily Mail says he has just returned from Constantinople, where he investigated the reported Russian diplomatic advances to Turkey. He says he is able to affirm positively that the Grand Duke Nicholas of Russia, during his recent visit to the sultan, proposed to Turkey the revival of the Unkiar-Skelessi treaty, which was concluded in June, 1833, and which established a Russo-Turkish alliance.

Under the terms of this treaty the porte undertook, at Russia's request, to exclude in time of war all foreign warships from the Black sea, while Russia undertook, at Turkey's request, to furnish aid by land and sea forces.

CURIO HUNTERS ABSENT.

Prices for Souvenirs of Edward Noyes Wescott Are Very Low.

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Oct. 16.—An auction sale of part of the effects of the late Edward Noyes Wescott, author of "David Harum," was held here today. The valuable bric-a-brac, library and personal belongings of Mr. Wescott had been reserved from sale by the heirs, but several articles of interest were knocked down at a small price.

A solid mahogany bedstead used by Mr. Wescott just before his death went for $1.40. A stag's head, shot by the author, sold for $1.25. A music cabinet brought $1. The entire sale netted only $75.

NEW FIELD GUN.

It Has Been Decided Upon for United States Artillery.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 16.—The board of ordnance and fortifications today definitely decided on a recommendation regarding a field gun for the United States artillery.

If this recommendation is approved by the secretary of war, the ordnance bureau will be directed to proceed at once with the manufacture of field guns, using as a type the best features of the various types of guns which have been considered by the board of ordnance and fortifications.

EX-CONVICT IN OFFICE.

Startling Revelation in the Trial of Fire Chief Croker.

NEW YORK, Oct. 16.—(Special.)—There was a sensation at the trial of Fire Chief Croker today, when it was shown that Lieut. John Rush, supervising engineer of the department, is a former convict. With tears streaming, Rush, when his pardon was produced, pleaded that the paper be not shown to anyone in the room.

Rush stubbornly refused to answer questions regarding his history. He had been serving time for grand larceny in the second degree.

Struck Big Gas Well.

NEW CASTLE, PA., Oct. 16.—(Special.)—Thomas W. Phillips of this city has just struck a big gas gusher in East Franklin township. It is estimated that the flow of gas will amount to as high as 25,000 cubic feet every 24 hours. The pressure is estimated at 700 pounds, and the question as to the most advisable method of controlling the supply is causing much worry to the operators. The derrick quivers violently.

Gets Damage for Broken Leg.

STROUDSBURG, PA., Oct. 16.—(Special.)—A verdict in favor of Joseph B. Kirk, a New York city commission merchant, was given this afternoon for $787 in his suit for $10,000 against the borough of East Stroudsburg for injuries sustained by breaking his right leg in a fall on Broad street.

LITTLE RELIEF FOR COKE.

Connellsville Yards Are Gorged, With Small Increase in Cars.

CONNELLSVILLE, PA., Oct. 16.—(Special.)—Little of anything has been done the past week to relieve the crowded and overstocked coke yards. The oven yards are piled high and in some instances vacant lots are being stored with the surplus fuel over what can be shipped. Cars are being supplied a little more freely than for the preceding few weeks, and is somewhat easing up the crowded condition of the yards. The cars are loaded immediately, no matter whether it be Sunday or a holiday.

On several occasions recently whole trains of coke have been forked from the ovens in a night. Extra inducements had to be made to the men in such cases. At some of the works at least 100 cars could be loaded from the stock pile. Every plant in the region could supply a fair-sized train with stock coke alone.

Plants selling to the H. C. Frick Company are faring much better than they would if they were operating independently under present conditions. One of the provisions of this arrangement is that the independent works operated every day in the week are to get cars if there are any in the market. Usually they get their full share, but with the present supply of the railroads, this share all over the region is often meager for the demand. Shipments from the Connellsville region last week reached 11,662 cars, an increase of 692 over the previous week.

BOUT DECLARED DRAW.

Marvin Hart and Kid Carter Go Six Rounds of Hot Slugging.

PHILADELPHIA, PA., Oct. 16.—One of the best sparring contests ever witnessed in this city took place at the Pennsylvania Art club between Marvin Hart of Louisville and Kid Carter of Brooklyn. The two men were in fine form, and for six rounds they were at it hammer and tongs, demonstrating conclusively their entire ability to give and take any amount of punishment.

Although, under the law, no decisions are permitted in this city, the audience was unanimous in declaring the bout a draw. In the third round a hard blow on the jaw sent Hart to the floor, and he shrewdly took the count, the brief respite being sufficient for him to recover his strength.

The bout was a combination of science and of brawl, with which both men were amply supplied. When the final gong sounded both showed the effects of their strenuous work, but were evidently able to go further if necessary.

ASKED TO RESIGN.

Pastor of Christian Church at Denver Is Convicted of Sensationalism.

OMAHA, NEB., Oct. 16.—With the first day of the Christian church convention came the announcement from the general board of the church that the Rev. Bruce Brown, pastor of the Central Christian church of Denver, has been asked to resign on the ground of "sensationalism."

It was stated in connection with the announcement that Mr. Brown has invited to his pulpit laymen to discuss labor and other questions, and that at one time he permitted an avowed enemy of the Christian church to speak from his pulpit, in order that he might combat the man's views in a formal answer.

Mr. Brown was asked by the board of elders to resign, but he said he believed a majority of the general board would sustain his position. That board, however, by a decisive majority today insisted upon Mr. Brown's resignation.

APPEALS FOR LOW TARIFF

German Chancellor Says the Government Bill Alone Will Insure Commercial Treaties.

BERLIN, Oct. 16.—The reichstag, at its session today, entered on the discussion of the tariff bill. Chancellor Von Buelow recommended that the bill be passed as drawn up by the government, saying that the house committee's proposals increasing the minimum tariff would render the conclusion of new treaties impossible. The tariff proposed by the government, he added, was the extreme limit if Germany wished to obtain from other countries greater concessions than she now enjoyed.

The chancellor sketched the fiscal and economic conditions of Europe and the United States, and said:

"We must strengthen our politico-commercial armor so as to enable us to meet our opponents as equals in the economic arena."

BOARD DISCUSSED MISSIONS.

Eight Hundred Thousand Dollars Wanted for Next Year.

OBERLIN, O., Oct. 16.—The annual meeting of the American board Congregational missions was devoted chiefly to reports from committees on the missions and addressed by missionaries. President Albert T. Perry, D. D., Marietta, presented the report on missions in charge of Secretary Barton, and Dean Frank K. Sanders, D. D., New Haven, Conn., made the report on the missions superintended by Secretary Smith.

The report from the committee on home department was presented by the Rev. Willard B. Throp of Chicago. He advocated the raising of $800,000 next year as a minimum sum and this proposition was heartily received. The missionary addresses were by the Rev. John Howland, Mexico; the Rev. C. N. Ransom, South Africa; President C. F. Gates, Harpoot, Turkey, and the Rev. George A. Wilder, Mt. Silanda, Africa.

The following officers for 1902-03 were nominated: President, Samuel B. Capen; vice president, Henry Hopkins; corresponding secretaries, Judson Smith, D. D.; Charles H. Daniels, D. D.; James L. Barton, D. D.; treasurer, Frank H. Wiggin.

CUBAN TREATY ASSURED.

Business Men on the Island Confer With President Palma.

HAVANA, Oct. 16.—Business men who have been called to consult with President Palma on the proposed Cuban-American commercial treaty feel assured that the cabinet will approve the proposition of the United States and that it will be sent to congress within a few days for adoption.

There is some fear that the radical element in congress will object to approving any commercial treaty without first settling the question of coaling stations and without being informed clearly of the intentions of the United States with regard to the reinforcement of the Platt amendment.

MACHINE MEETINGS.

Large Turnout to Hear Congressman Graham in Allegheny.

Some unusually large meetings were held last evening in the interest of the Republican county ticket. The largest was in upper Allegheny, where Congressman Graham spoke in Harugari hall, Spring Garden avenue. The parade before the meeting was a creditable one. An overflow meeting in the public school building was necessary. Senator Muehlbronner spoke at both meetings, and also at a meeting in Liberty hall, Ninth ward.

At Whitaker, Mifflin township, a large meeting was addressed by Dr. Barchfeld, George J. Churchill, the "Muddy Water" orator, and others.

STRUCK BY TRAIN ON THE CROSSING

Mrs. Lizzie Cowatt Fatally Injured Near Home in Rankin.

CHILD DROWNED IN TUB

Seven Men Held to Await Action in Glenwood Murder. Long List of Cases Reported Yesterday for Investigation.

Mrs. Lizzie Cowatt, wife of a mill worker, was fatally injured on the tracks of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad near her home at Rankin yesterday morning. The woman was trying to cross the tracks when she was struck by an eastbound passenger train and thrown a considerable distance. When picked up by the train crew it was found that her left leg and right foot were crushed almost to a pulp, and at the McKeesport hospital it was announced that both would have to be amputated. The victim is about 28 years of age and has several children.

Mary Kultimieski, whose parents live at No. 1623 Penn avenue, was drowned in a tub of water yesterday while playing about the yard. The child was little over a year old.

Alice V. Reynolds, aged 2 years, died yesterday at the home of her parents, No. 7231 Bennett street, of burns received last Tuesday.

May Shepard, a 5-months-old child of East Seventh street, Tarentum, was found dead in bed yesterday morning.

Rosceo Velko, an employe of the McClintic-Marshall plant at Rankin, was so terribly injured yesterday while at work that he died while being taken to the Homeopathic hospital. His stomach was pierced by a piece of wire. He was 28 years old.

James Barnak, 40 years old, died early yesterday morning at the McKeesport hospital from the effects of a gun-shot wound inflicted September 6. William Young, a negro, is now in the Allegheny county jail charged with the crime.

Jacob Weiland of No. 5 Spring lane, Allegheny, died suddenly yesterday evening at his home from consumption. He had just returned home from Colorado, where he had been in search of health and as he died without medical attendance the case was reported to the coroner. He was 29 years old and a widower.

John and Joe Cardelli, Tony Peligranzi, Jenero Barcucca, Joe Curaro, Humbert Morroci and John Lonrari, the seven suspects arrested in connection with the mysterious murder of Guiseppi Gingnotti in the Glenwood freight yards Wednesday night, were arraigned before Magistrate John H. Armstrong at No. 4 police station yesterday morning and remanded to jail to await the action of the coroner in the case.

GIVES GOVERNOR POWER.

Amendment of Ohio Code Would Permit of Municipal Appointments by Chief Executive.

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 16.—The legislative conference committee having in charge the municipal code, struck from the bill the amendment adopted Wednesday placing the appointment of the members of the board of public safety in the hands of the commissioners of the sinking fund and in its stead was inserted a provision that this board, to consist of two or four members, as council may determine, is to be appointed by the mayor and confirmed by a vote of two-thirds of all members elected to the council. If council fails to confirm within 30 days after nominations are made the governor is to appoint.

This provision, it is claimed, practically provides that almost every city in the state, more especially those with Democratic mayors, are to have boards of public safety appointed by the governor. In few, if in any of the municipalities of the state, will either party have two-thirds of the council, and all that will be necessary in Democratic cities to insure the appointment of the fire and police boards by the governor will be for the Republican members of the council to vote against confirmations of the appointments made by the mayors.

The sections relating to the city councils were drafted and provisions made for rotation in office of councilmen.

Car Plunged Into Store.

A Rebecca street car jumped the track on Beaver avenue, near Washington avenue, Allegheny, at 10:45 last night, and ran into James McFarren's grocery store The car was slightly broken and the front of the store damaged to the extent of about $300. No one was hurt.

The Lamp Exploded.

Victor Johnson, a 4-year-old Polish boy, was fatally injured at his home, 2220 Tustin street, last night, by the explosion of a lamp. The lad upset the lamp while carrying it. The flames ignited his clothing, inflicting terrible burns. He was taken to the Mercy hospital.

LARGEST PIANO HOUSE BETWEEN N. Y. AND CHICAGO

It is a fact worthy of note that, Pittsburgh has a Piano House that handles annually more pianos than any other in the country outside of New York City and Chicago.

But more than that, W. F. Frederick, whose house is referred to above, has the exclusive agency for a very large territory for a greater number of recognized high grade "standard" pianos than any other dealer in the United States, without any exception.

This is a distinction and is full of meaning to all who want to buy a piano. A dealer whose business is sufficiently large to justify many manufacturers of fine instruments in giving him exclusive agency is worthy of your patronage.

W. F. Frederick has exclusive agency for (genuine) Chickering, Hardman, Kroeger, Behr Bros., McPhail, Haines & Co., Gildermeister & Kroeger, Strich & Zeidler, Tabler, Schubert, Foster & Co., and other pianos, not merely pianos with a title, but with a name known and respected.

Where can you see so many?

What's more, our list starts off with the world's very greatest—the greatest of the great, the Chickering, the oldest piano in America and accredited by the leading musicians and critics of the day as the best piano ever produced—best today as it has been the best for nearly a hundred years—the leader at beginning of the 20th century as it was the pioneer at the beginning of the 19th century.

Besides having the agency for the above named pianos we sell Estey and Mason & Hamlin Organs, and the latest and beyond doubt the best of all, the Chase & Baker Piano Player. So, does it not strike you that when you want a musical instrument you should go to W. F. Frederick, 613 Smithfield street, near Seventh avenue. Entire building. G. Schroeder, Manager.

MACHINE MAKES ANOTHER BLUFF

Attacks the Validity of the Citizens Party County Ticket.

IS NOT A NEW QUESTION

Dauphin Courts Have Decided That Such Nominations Are Perfectly Valid—Chairman W. B. Hays Predicts Big Victory.

The machine has asked the local courts to declare invalid the nominations of the Citizens party candidates for county offices. The proceedings were instituted yesterday by John P. Hunter, acting as attorney for Mr. O'Sullivan, Frank E. Smith and Joseph Henry, orators of the "Muddy Water" party.

The objection to their nominations is that they were nominated for the same offices by a Democratic convention, and that they cannot again be nominated for the same offices. The candidates excepted to with the offices sought, are as follows: D. F. Collingwood, treasurer; George H. Stengel, register of wills; J. D. McNeil, recorder of deeds; James M. Fahnestock, sheriff; Francis X. Barr, clerk of courts; Robert J. Cunningham, controller; James A. Clark, commissioner; James Evans, commissioner; James Purcell, director of the poor. No attack is made on the candidates for judges, congress or assembly, as they are not county offices.

Question Has Been Decided.

The question has already been disposed of by the courts. The local judiciaries have ruled against the position taken by the machine and so has the Dauphin county court. Judge Simonton, in the case in which an attempt was made to prevent the name of Judge Frederick W. Gunster from appearing twice on the ballot, decided in favor of Gunster. He had first been nominated by the Democrats and then by the Republicans. In this case the Citizens candidates were first nominated by the Citizens party and then by the Democrats. The act of July 9, 1897, restricting the number of times a candidate shall appear on the ballot, has been set aside by the Dauphin courts.

The Citizens are not worried over this latest move by the machine to attempt to "avert the deluge." Every time the Flinn people have gone into the courts against the Citizens they have lost their case. The anti-machine leaders are confident that this proceeding will result in another failure for the old organization.

It was only yesterday that the machine was rebuked by the Dauphin county court when a decision was given sustaining the Citizens-Democratic legislative nominations. Chairman W. B. Hays of the Citizens executive committee, made this statement about the decision:

No Doubt About Winning.

The decision of the Dauphin county court practically removes all obstacles to the fusion movement. This is the result we looked for in view of the court's opinion in the congressional contest. There were only two points of law involved, one being as to the power of the Democratic county convention to make such nominations, and the other the delegating of that power to a committee. The court has decided both questions valid, and of course we are pleased with the result. It is also a rebuke to the roosters who instigated the movement. While it gives us a clear field, the moral effect of the decision will strengthen our ticket considerably.

What our candidates want is a fair, square fight, and now they will have it. The ring only succeeded in convincing the public of the utter hopelessness of its cause. Realizing that it could not win in a fair fight, it invoked the aid of the court to deprive our candidates of Democratic support. The result has been a miserable failure.

Our campaign thus far has been a vigorous one and we will keep up the good work until the last vote is polled. We have the machine on the run and we will give it a drubbing at the polls in November. A canvass of the vote is now being made and the result thus far is surprising, even to us. Judging from the gains we have made over last spring's contest, the majority over the ring, in the city districts especially, will be overwhelming.

RECORDER BROWN NOT TO CALL ELECTION

Citizens Confident They Can Elect Successor to John Paul May Mandamus Executive.

Recorder Brown has finally decided not to call a special election to fill the vacancy caused by the death of John Paul, select councilman from the Thirty-second ward. Mr. Brown made this announcement yesterday on his return from New York. The recorder says he doubts his authority to issue the call for a special election; but the reform element says he is afraid that the machine would be defeated.

"I do not think I have the authority to make a proclamation for a special election to fill that vacancy," said Mr. Brown. "The law on vacancies says that the mayor shall call a special election, and I am not mayor, but recorder. There will be a regular election in February, and that is not a long time to wait. An election by virtue of a proclamation by me might be illegal. If the people of the ward go into court and mandamus me I will cheerfully comply with the judgment of the court."

The Citizens party will probably mandamus the recorder, for the people of the ward are desirous of representation in select council. At present the machine has a majority of one in the body. The Citizens believe they can carry the ward by a majority of 150 against any candidate the machine can put up. The recorder last week intended to call the election, for he offered th nomination on the machine ticket to Jacob Minsinger.

TWENTIETH ANNUAL REUNION.

Veterans of the Seventy-Sixth Pennsylvania Met Here Yesterday.

The Seventy-sixth Pennsylvania Volunteer Regiment association held its twentieth annual reunion in Union Veteran Legion hall yesterday. About 40 of the old soldiers were present, and they had a good time. Letters were read from a number of absent comrades.

The following officers were elected for next year: President, John Wigle of Zelienople, Pa.; treasurer, Capt. John McNevin, Altoona, Pa.. Next place of meeting, Pittsburgh, Pa., time to be named by the officers.

After the meeting the comrades and their wives were entertained at dinner at the Hotel Boyer by Col. Alfred Hicks, president of the Allegheny Steel & Iron Company, who served three years and a half in the regiment, rising from the ranks to be lieutenant colonel.

For music that is really fine, even superb, you must come this afternoon and evening to the New Exposition. Damrosch, Kell and Luckstone tonight!

Hotel Victoria serves the best business men's lunch for 50c. Try it.

The last two days of the New Exposition will be "whirlwind" ones. Twenty thousand visitors tonight, and 50,000 tomorrow night, at the tremendous farewell to Damrosch, seem positively assured!

"YELLOW BOOK" AGAIN TO BE INVESTIGATED

Committee Meets Today to Probe Charges Against Other Bureaus.

The "yellow book" committee has been called to meet in the select council chamber at 3 p. m. today. The committee is a sub-committee of the public safety committee appointed to investigate the assessments made by the machine on policemen. Recently its field was enlarged to include firemen and other employes of the public safety department.

Because the Wallace act, the old charter of Pittsburgh, stipulated that no councilmanic committee could consider any subject that did not originate in councils, it is alleged by machine councilmen that the investigation of the "yellow book" committee is illegal. That is what John S. Lambie, president of select council, thinks, for he said yesterday:

"The 'yellow book' investigation is illegal, for councils did not authorize the public safety committee to make the investigation. If that committee were to call me to testify I would refuse to appear. Nobody can be compelled to testify."

The committee is undertaking the investigation independently of any action of councils, on the ground that the new charter act does not limit the powers of committees, as the old charter did.

CONGESTION WORST YET.

Frick Coke Company Unable to Ship East for Three Months—More to Come.

The H. C. Frick Coke Company has suffered more this week from the freight congestion than at any time in its history, and an official of the company yesterday admitted that no coke had been shipped east for three months. The rumor, however, that the company had closed its offices in Philadelphia and would send no more coke to the eastern market is denied. This company has not sold a ton of coke since July 1, its entire product being required to fill contracts taken early in the year at $2.25 a ton for furnace coke.

The withdrawal of 57 locomotives from the freight service for the transportation of the G. A. R. encampment has been the cause of the heavy decrease in the shipments of coke and other freight on the railroads. There is plenty of coke in the yards, but the roads are unable to handle it.

The prospective settlement of the anthracite strike is making matters worse, as all the motive power and cars will be rushed to that district to relieve the coal famine in the east and remove the state troops.

WOODIN KILLS THREE.

Slays Father-in-Law, Mother-in-Law and His Own Baby.

MT. PLEASANT, MICH., Oct. 16.—Archie Woodin, in a fit of jealous rage, today killed his father-in-law and mother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Gulick, his own 1-year-old child, and attempted to kill himself. The tragedy occurred at Gulick's farm.

Some time ago Woodin and his wife had some words and he struck her. She left him and went to the home of her parents. Today Woodin went out to take her or the child away, and got into an altercation with Gulick.

Test for Yourself the Wonderful Curative Properties of Swamp-Root

To Prove What Swamp-Root, the World-Famous Kidney and Bladder Remedy, Will do for YOU, Every Reader of the Pittsburgh Gazette May Have a Sample Bottle Free.

Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y.:

Gentlemen—In justice to you, I feel it is my duty to send you an acknowledgment of the receipt of the sample bottle of Swamp-Root you so kindly sent me. I had been out of health for the past five years with kidney and bladder trouble. Had our best physicians prescribe for me. They would relieve me for the time being, but the old complaint would in a short time return again. I sent for a sample bottle of Swamp-Root, and I found it did me a world of good. Since then I have taken eight small bottles bought at my drug store and I consider myself perfectly cured. It seemed as though my back would break in two after stooping. I do not have the smarting and irritation, nor do I have to get up during the night to urinate, as I formerly did three or four times a night, but now sleep the sleep of peace. My back is all right again, and in every way I am a new man. Two of my brother officers are still using Swamp-Root. They, like myself, cannot say too much in praise of it. It is a boon to mankind. We recommend it to all who are suffering from kidney and bladder diseases.

My brother officers (whose signatures accompany this letter,) as well as myself, thank you for the blessing you have brought to the human race in the compounding of Swamp-Root.

We remain, yours very truly,
Police Officers of Greater New York. { JAMES COOK, 58th Precinct. HUGH E. BOYLE, 65th Precinct. JOHN J. BODKIN, 58th Precinct.

If you are sick or "feel badly," begin taking the famous new discovery, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, because as soon as your kidneys are well they will help all the other organs to health. A trial will convince anyone.

Weak and unhealthy kidneys are responsible for many kinds of diseases, and if permitted to continue much suffering with fatal results are sure to follow. Kidney trouble irritates the nerves, makes you dizzy, restless, sleepless and irritable. Makes you pass water often during the day and obliges you to get up many times during the night. Unhealthy kidneys cause rheumatism, gravel, catarrh of the bladder, pain or dull ache in the back, joints and muscles; makes your head ache and back ache, causes indigestion, stomach and liver trouble; you get a sallow, yellow complexion, makes you feel as though you had heart trouble; you may have plenty of ambition, but no strength; get weak and waste away.

Swamp-Root is pleasant to take and is used in the leading hospitals, recommended by physicians in their private practice, and is taken by doctors themselves, because they recognize in it the greatest and most successful remedy that science has ever been able to compound.

If you are already convinced that Swamp-Root is what you need, you can purchase the regular fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles at the drug stores everywhere. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root—Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

EDITORIAL NOTICE.—Swamp-Root, the great Kidney, Liver and Bladder remedy, is so remarkably successful that a special arrangement has been made by which all of our readers who have not already tried it may have a sample bottle sent absolutely free by mail. Also a book telling all about kidney and bladder troubles and containing many of the thousands upon thousands of testimonial letters received from men and women cured by Swamp-Root. In writing, be sure and mention reading this generous offer in the Pittsburgh Daily Gazette when sending your address to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y.

Buy Furs Where You Have Confidence

It is so easy to be deceived in furs. Everybody realizes this. And that's why people who always depend on their own judgment in buying other goods never think of buying furs excepting from a house of established reputation in which they have implicit confidence. The fact is, one must depend almost wholly upon those who sell the goods. That is one of the great reasons why Weisser's fur department is so satisfactory. Everybody who knows anything about the character and methods of this store knows that every statement made by this store can be relied upon absolutely. We are always glad to give to every customer the benefit of our expert judgment in the selection of furs. Everything that can be found in a first-class fur department anywhere is here, and the range of selection is large enough to suit every taste and every purse. Moreover, our prices for furs, as in every other department, are always as low as, and in many instances lower, than you can get the same goods for elsewhere.

The Latest Waists.

This store has achieved an enviable reputation of always carrying the best stock of Waists in the two cities and of charging more reasonable prices than can be obtained elsewhere. Just now we are showing an immense variety of the newest things in cotton vestings, piques, damasks, botany flannels, plain and embroidered, etc. We have waists in all sizes. And the little prices will surprise and delight you.

FRIDAY, OCTOBER 17, 1902.

SIXTEEN PAGES.

President Roosevelt has gathered a large sheaf of fresh laurels by the settlement of the coal strike. It was he and he alone who brought the contending parties together, and he did it by assuming a leadership that gave direction to the forces of public opinion. When he called the contending parties into conference the coal operators refused to agree to any arbitration and virtually rebuked the president for his interference, but they could not prevent him from sharply defining an issue between corporate arrogance and public necessity. The result is that the operators found their position untenable and they have capitulated.

The settlement of the coal strike is the last of a series of victories won by President Roosevelt by direct appeal to public opinion. The senatorial oligarchy used the legislative hold-up to defeat Cuban reciprocity and the president carried the issue to the people with such effect that the opponents of Cuban reciprocity have been on the run ever since. Many of them will be left at home in the congressional elections; others have been busy issuing explanations and apologies and promise to be good hereafter. It is not doubted now that when congress reassembles the reciprocity bill which stuck fast in the senate will find the way clear for action. The president has won that fight. Another instance is trust control. He was warned by powerful interests that he would hazard his political future if he agitated that subject, and forthwith he laid the matter before the people in a series of strong, sincere speeches. Such was the response of public opinion that every Republican state convention held since has fallen in line with the president's policy, and open opposition within the party has been abandoned. The recent masterly address of Attorney General Knox is now generally accepted as indicating the lines on which legislation will proceed. Another instance has been the raising of the issue of tariff revision. Prominent Republican leaders in congress were much averse to meeting the difficulties and perplexities with which the subject abounds. This was the attitude of Mr. Payne, chairman of the ways and means committee, and Speaker Henderson was so resentful of the president's policy that he refused to accept a renomination, but public opinion has declared itself so strongly in support of the president that in New England and throughout the west congressional candidates are giving prominence to tariff revision as a campaign issue, and while in parts of the east there are still signs of opposition, it is now generally accepted that the subject is one which the Republican party must take up and with which congress must deal.

President Roosevelt's force of leadership has made a great impression not only in this country, but all over the civilized world. The London Spectator recently devoted an elaborate article to the subject, presenting our president's example as a good one for the British ministry to follow. In the course of its remarks it made some thoughtful comments upon the importance of leadership in the working of democratic institutions. It said: "When you get, as you get in the United States and in England, an enormous mass of floating democratic opinion, it is best for the democracy that it should have strong and far-seeing directors of that opinion. The people will follow if they are told where to go, and they want and like to be told where to go. They may be told to go here, or to go there, by this or that would-be leader, and they will seldom go wrong if both courses are plainly pointed out to them by their advisers. A democracy is always to a certain extent distrustful of itself. It is uncertain, in the first place, if it is left to itself, whether it properly grasps the whole of the facts of any particular problem it has to face. It is uncertain, again, as to what will be the consequences of its action if it takes action. Therefore it desires leaders whom it can trust and whose verdict on this or that suggested policy it can accept. It is, of course, easily possible for a nation to exist for many years and to attain a really large measure of internal prosperity without having asked for or having been given leaders. But there will always come a time when some question arises about which it cannot readily make up its mind; or when having made up its mind that something must be done it is uncertain what to do. That is the situation in the United States today and it accounts for the promptitude with which popular opinion has approved Mr. Roosevelt's fearless, straight forwardness." There is matter for deep consideration in these wise remarks.

An obstruction to leadership and to the accompanying operation of public opinion which must before long produce a constitutional crisis is the development of the legislative hold-up in the customary procedure of the senate. It is a late development, first becoming conspicuous in connection with silver legislation. Originally the previous question was applied as freely to terminate debate and bring on a vote in the senate as in the house. Later the rules were amended so as to remove all limitations upon debate, but the idea was never entertained that such privilege could be applied to the suppression of legislation. The contentions excited by the slavery issue were bitter and violent, but it never occurred to the leaders on either side that a minority could suspend action by refusing to allow a pending question to come to a vote. This, however, was attempted in the senate in the struggle over the repeal of the silver bullion purchase law. For months the opposition refused to allow a vote to be taken, and Mr. Vest openly declared in the senate that unless the majority would agree to a compromise they would not get any legislation whatever. The obstructionists were finally brought to terms, not by any weakening of the legislative hold-up which they wielded, but because the secretary of the treasury plainly manifested his intention to stop bullion purchases anyhow. He had greatly reduced them and made a construction of the law which practically left it to his discretion to stop them altogether. Then the obstructionists gave way. The same game was worked last session against Cuban reciprocity. It had passed the house and if it were put to vote it would have passed the senate, so its opponents would not allow a vote to be taken. By this method the operation of public opinion is to a large extent evaded, as the opposition refrains from going upon record. Instead of majority rule carried on according to the arrangements of the Constitution, an oligarchical control is substituted and nothing can be done until its exactions are satisfied. Here is an issue involving the foundations of republican government, and the chances are that President Roosevelt will have to take it up and fight it out before he gets through.

THE END OF THE COAL STRIKE.

It is rare, if ever, that any benefit can be secured without some set-off, and the pending settlement of the coal strike is no exception to the rule. President Roosevelt has brought the mine operators to terms and has won a great victory for the people. Under the circumstances there was no other way for the protection of public interests of the parties immediately engaged in the conflict. But at the same time encouragement has been given to strikes and the tendency to bring labor troubles into politics has been intensified. Unless the mine operators show more tact and address in the future than they have in the past the way in which the present conflict was ended may be the route to future disturbance.

In order to understand the case it should be known that the miners' helpers are mostly foreigners, who have been imported into the region in such numbers that under ordinary conditions there is not work enough for them all. The miners break the coal out of the seam and the helpers, known as "butties," load the coal on the mine car. The miner is paid by the car load and out of his earnings pays his "butties." At the time the present strike began the "butties" were showing a disposition to break away from the miners and form an organization of their own.

This was the situation when President Mitchell endeavored to get the mine operators into conference, but instead of availing themselves of the conservative influence of the leaders of the union, the operators adopted a course which forced the hands of the leaders and practically compelled them to sanction a strike, although it was their desire to avoid one. The operators put themselves in a false position by their arrogance and were forced out of it by the pressure of public opinion. The effect upon the excitable foreigners, who constitute the "butties," is not calculated to make them moderate and reasonable in their demands in the future, or promote good discipline in the routine of mine management.

The leaders of the miners have frankly admitted that the workers do not always act fairly and reasonably, and that local strikes have taken place which were not justified. President Mitchell has contended that the way to cure such evils is to recognize the union and settle conditions with it by agreements, which the union will enforce. Senator Hanna, himself largely interested in coal mining, has been saying all along that the anthracite operators have been making a mistake in not availing themselves of the authority of the union in maintaining discipline. He has said that in the bituminous fields the operators would not want to see the union disbanded, for it helps them to handle the men, settle differences, prevent local strikes and secure stable business conditions.

The wise policy for the mine operators to adopt now is to do what they have protested they will never do—recognize the union and work with it. Unless they do so the present settlement will almost certainly be the prelude to further trouble just as was the political settlement of the strike of 1900. This is so obvious that it is to be expected that if the present managers of production in the anthracite region are incapable of adopting such a policy they will be succeeded by men who are capable.

THE VOLCANIC DANGER.

Both Mt. Pelee and La Soufriere are in violent eruption again. The flashes from the former are visible to residents of other islands in the chain, while the fall of ashes from the latter has compelled a suspension of business on the island of Barbadoes. These reports indicate a greater disturbance than any of those which wrought destruction upon Martinique and St. Vincent during the spring and summer.

There is little left to destroy in the immediate vicinity of the two mountains, but their continued and increasing violence give ground for the gravest apprehension of a cataclysm like that which ended the career of Krakatoa in the Indian ocean. In these columns attention was called some time ago to the similarity between the eruptions of Mt. Pelee and La Soufriere to those of Krakatoa. It will be remembered the activity of that volcano began in March. The first eruption was not regarded very seriously. Others followed at intervals, however, each more violent than the one preceding until finally the supreme effort came in September. The explosion was the greatest in history, being heard and felt at a distance of 1,500 miles. It resulted in the complete destruction of the island of Krakatoa and a tidal wave that cost over 12,000 lives in Sumatra and other neighboring islands. So powerful was it that dust was hurled into the uppermost strata of the atmosphere.

If the analogy between that disaster and the eruptions of the Caribbean volcanoes holds to the end the alarm that is felt throughout the West Indies is not idle. The distance between Mt. Pelee and La Soufriere is as great as from either to the nearest undisturbed islands. Consequently the area of disturbance is much greater than that of Krakatoa. A similar end to their activity would carry widespread disaster through the West Indies and possibly to the nearest coasts of North and South America. At best science can only conjecture the cause of seismic activity, or the possible end of such a disturbance. It may be the annihilation of inhabited lands or the creation of new islands or mountain chains. But in any view, the prolonged threatenings of Mt. Pelee and the Soufriere cause misgivings for the safety of the unfortunate people remaining upon Martinique and St. Vincents and for their neighbors of Barbadoes and Guadaloupe—even for those farther away. For these reasons every word of news from that quarter is charged with unusual interest.

RIGHTS TO BE GUARDED.

While the proposed Pittsburgh & Western improvements in Allegheny should be welcomed as a part of the general effort of the railroads to accommodate the enormous traffic of the Pittsburgh region, the ordinances need to be carefully considered to safe-guard the interests of other railroad systems and the public. The Wabash is aiming at a connection with that territory and the Erie, or others may desire to come in. Additional facilities are admittedly needed and no rights should be granted that will prevent the entrance of new lines—no plans approved for purposes of obstruction.

Allegheny has a general contract with the Pittsburgh & Western providing for the use of its tracks by other railroads desiring to enter the city. That is a correct principle and good as far as it goes. It does not, however, completely cover the ground. In the particular matter under discussion the point of danger is that tracks may be so located as to interfere with the contemplated grades of the Wabash, and it is the duty of Allegheny councils to see that the ordinances do not permit any such manipulation. The same duty rests upon Pittsburgh councils in connection with the important ordinances pending in this city. The primary interest of the cities is to secure the best possible facilities, and this includes the right of competing lines to cross each other, and even to occupy the same tracks under proper restrictions.

Public opinion has crystallized upon another point in connection with the Pittsburgh ordinances. That is, they must be amended to make the railroads responsible for property damages resulting from proposed changes. The city may properly assume certain expenses, for example the repaving of Liberty street after the removal of the freight tracks. But the city cannot undertake to pay damages suffered by changes of grade of streets, or relocation of tracks which are for the exclusive advantage of the railroads. The city will derive benefit from improvements that will fully accommodate its business and should be generous in granting privileges to the railroads for that purpose. But the franchises to be conveyed are immensely valuable to the railroads individually, and it is only fair that those who receive them should assume all expenses, including damages to property, and make reasonable compensation.

DISTURBED REGIONS.

It is an interesting coincidence, but, of course, nothing more, that the regions of this year's most pronounced seismic and political disturbances in the western hemisphere are washed by the waters of the Caribbean sea. But while the tremors of Mt. Pelee and La Soufriere and of the earthquakes in Central America have subsided and their dead been buried if the scars remain, Venezuela and Colombia are yet in a state of violent eruption, and the outbreak in Haiti cannot be considered at an end.

In Colombia, Venezuela and Haiti "every prospect pleases and only man is vile." In the last the climax of revolution appears to be past, but a stable government has hardly assumed sway. In Venezuela and Colombia the climax seems to have just been reached. President Castro of the one country is fighting with his back to the wall, if he has not already succumbed, and the report that reaches Germany that President Marroquin of the other country has been captured, while it may not be true, sheds light on the conditions prevailing. Castro and Marroquin reached power by means of revolution. Each cast out the constitutional president to step into his place. Each is now the victim of revolution, and their countries are sacked and wrecked from end to end and from mountain to sea by the attendant violence of the battling partisans. Even after peace comes it will take them long to recover.

Happily conditions in the other countries of South America remote from the Caribbean contrast strongly with conditions in the more northern states. Their governments are stable, their peoples are pursuing the arts of peace in an orderly way and there are no clouds on their horizons. There is a lesson here for Venezuelans and Colombians, but it is doubtful whether they are ripe for it.

The unexpected has not happened in the Union party case. Both tickets have been thrown out by the Dauphin county court. In making his decision Judge Simonton justly observed that the difficulties of that alleged party were inherent in its original declaration that it was not intended to weaken the affiliations of its members with the great opposing parties. Those affiliations led naturally to two sets of delegates, more than two-thirds of the seats being contested and the remnant was not sufficient for a legal organization. The result is no loss to the state. The party had no separate purpose and its indorsement of either party state ticket would have been an injustice to the other half of its membership.

President Mitchell and his district executives have officially approved of President Roosevelt's commission and called a delegate convention of the miners for 10 o'clock Monday morning. It ought not to require lengthy deliberation on the part of that convention to secure a vote to return to work at once. Nothing will reflect more credit upon the miners at this juncture than strenuous efforts to get out the coal that is needed at once, as the work of distribution ought to be well under way before the season of navigation closes on the lakes. The northwest is much interested in this phase of the problem.

The coming exhibition at the Carnegie Art galleries will be the best in their history. This is not said in detraction from the merits of former exhibitions, which were excellent of their class. They were limited, however, to new paintings and represented the passing moment. This season will represent the masters of many years and the works that are as enduring as time. The value of the canvases to be hung is an indication, merely, of the treat in store for the lovers of art who attend.

Objections filed in the Citizens party nominations are based upon the previous nomination of the same candidates by the Democratic party. Judge Simonton passed upon a similar objection based upon that clause of the ballot law prohibiting repeated nominations and decided the clause of no effect because it offers no guide as to which nominations shall be rejected or which retained. But the Allegheny county courts are capable of judging whether the same rule applies.

Reports from San Juan indicate that our Porto Rican citizens are too facile in adopting the methods of the American practical politicians. At the rate they are going they will soon be advocating ballot reform and the initiative and referendum in legislation as past masters.

Nine contracts were awarded yesterday for the construction of county roads, so that gradually the good roads movement becomes a concrete reality for Allegheny county.

President Roosevelt began walking without crutches again yesterday. Evidently the coal operators knew when to surrender.

Faking, as Usual.

Facts Are Stubborn.

From the Scottdale Observer.

Mules and facts are stubborn things. It is a fact everybody in this neck of the woods is enjoying the comforts and pleasures of life, and the majority of citizens will vote in November to have 'em continued.

MORE SCARED THAN HARMED BY FAMINE

Now That Strike Is Settled, Gotham Finds It Does Not Need Coal.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Herald Building, Herald Square,
NEW YORK, Oct. 16.

One of the peculiar local features of the coal situation today was that no one seemed to need coal. In spite of the howl for coal that has been raising a discordant hubbub throughout this city for two months, now that it is announced the strike is over, coal dealers find that no one is in a hurry to buy hard coal, after all. Some persons, supposed to have authentic information, declare that there has been plenty of coal within half an hour of New York right along, but which was not brought in while there was a possibility of getting along without it; that coal will come to market now and anyone wanting it can buy it at a material reduction from the ruling figure yesterday. The prediction is made that the price of coal will drop 50 per cent within a week and will go down steadily until it reaches the nearly normal rate by the end of the year. This is all cheering news, and perhaps is the principal reason so little coal is in demand now. As is often the case, the apprehension was based evidently on the fear of what might be, rather than on what was. The coal scare is over. The details of settlement of the strike are discussed dispassionately tonight, and one hears more comments on the skill with which President Roosevelt has solved a great problem than on the solution itself. The weather has not been bad hitherto, and the feeling is that New York can get along without any great supply of coal until the first consignment of the coal mined after the strike ends reaches the city. There never was a more marked illustration of the buoyancy of spirits of New Yorkers, "the most good-natured people in the world," than in the ease with which they have risen from the black depths of despair to the heights of satisfaction. Now that the strike is over, they are content to wait for coal until it can be served conveniently and at reasonable cost. To take things as they come, is the way of New York.

Gas Collector's Lively Experience.

They have a cheerful way of collecting gas bills in this city—sometimes. A collector for one of the companies went to a tenement on the East Side to take the 25-cent pieces from a slot gas meter, and straightway got into a row with the widow occupying the apartments. Stories differ as to which started the battle, but it is established that the collector hit the widow with a lamp; that she scalded him badly with a kettle of water, and that he broke her nose and loosened several of her teeth with a quart milk bottle. Having finished these social and official amenities, he went to hospital, and the lady, on coming out of her swoon, appeared at a police station. This is only one instance. To correct any false impression it might create as to the New York way of collecting gas bills, it is only fair to say that most of the collectors contrive to do their business without friction with the family.

Opera Composer Ignorant of Music.

One of the interesting figures in the artistic world of New York is A. Baldwin Sloane, who is springing into prominence as a composer of music for comic operas and musical comedies. He has already turned out several successful scores and has others on hand. The peculiarity of Sloane is that he is absolutely ignorant of the science of music. He actually cannot read the ordinary musical notation, although he turns out catchy melodies with a facility unequaled by any other man in the business. A lyric is handed to him, and as he glances over it he hums a melody that will fit it. Then he scribbles down some hieroglyphics on the back of an envelope or any other scrap of paper handy, and, when he gets to a piano, plays it over, correcting it here and there as he goes along. Once the air is satisfactory an arranger takes the melody as he plays it on the piano, jots it down in regular crotchets and quavers, and gets it ready for orchestration. Sloane is a nervous, quick-moving chap, both in speech and manner, and full of music. He has so much work on hand that he is busy perpetually, and is in the happy position of being able to decline orders every day. And yet he knows positively nothing about music by rote, or "as she is wrote."

Molineux Jury Nearly Complete.

Ten jurors have been obtained for the trial of Roland B. Molineux. It is hoped that the remaining two will be obtained tomorrow. As soon as this is accomplished—if it is—court will adjourn until Monday, when the examining of witnesses will begin. Molineux is bearing up well. In fact, he looked much better today than yesterday.

New Postoffice Site.

A revival of the agitation to get the new postoffice building in Herald square was noted today. In real estate circles it is said that the edifice may occupy the block on the west side of Broadway between Thirty-fifth and Thirty-sixth streets, going through to Seventh avenue. This is the block which contains the Herald Square theater and the National Guard arsenal, Park & Tilford have a large warehouse in the block also, while the rest of it is made of tenements and small stores. It is said that the tenements and owners of the properties have been canvassed and that it would be possible to purchase the site at a cost well within the appropriation. The committee having the selecting of a site in hand are giving this one particular attention, and it is possible that the new postoffice will be established here. Should this be done, it will still more revolutionize the character of that side of Broadway, and from Thirty-third to Thirty-sixth street it will be so changed that an old-timer coming back after four or five years' absence would not recognize it.

A Menagerie at Quarantine.

Little Margaret Carnegie, only daughter of Andrew Carnegie, may be satisfied that the "largest and hairiest lion in the world," which she ordered for the Bronx zoo, will be in its new quarters in a day or two. It arrived today on the Hamburg-American liner Pennsylvania. The vessel is detained at quarantine because of a case of smallpox among the steerage passengers, and, of course, the lion is kept there too. It may be released tomorrow, however, and sent straight to its new home in Bronx park. The lion has plenty of company on board, for there are five other lions, three tigers, two leopards and other valuable animals. Dr. Hornaday, director of the New York Zoological society, purchased them lately while abroad.

Strike Settlement Pleases Wall Street.

Wall street jumped with joy when the settlement of the coal strike was announced as practically reached. Prices went up and the stock exchange had a good day of it. The market was active and advancing from opening to close. Aside from the material advantages from the settlement in the shape of a rush of business, there was pleasure to be seen in the faces of the brokers themselves, and everyone seemed to feel that the end of a painful dilemma had been reached.

Cupid Utilizes the Eclipse.

Among the many good things about the eclipse of the moon tonight is the excuse it gives for spooning couples to stay out late. You cannot see a midnight eclipse of the moon if you go to bed at 10, and so long as you are up you may as well be outside, where a good view of the heavenly spectacle is obtainable. So there have been more young couples—and elderly couples too, for that matter—walking along quiet streets, with occasional excursions into Broadway, after 10 or 11 o'clock, than New York has seen for many an evening. This does not mean the army of regular nocturnal paraders, either, because eclipses make no difference to them; but the staid workaday folk who do not hear midnight chime once in three months. The eclipse was too much for them tonight, and they had to break their healthful rule of early retiring, for just this once.

Comedian-Managers Congratulated.

Now that Weber and Fields have decided to build a theater in Boston, their old friends in Broadway are fairly besieging the little music hall to congratulate the comedian managers. They went through their performance tonight as usual, but afterward there was such a gathering of acquaintances that it is pretty certain Weber and Fields, with their whole company, will be on deck to give the eclipse of the moon earnest and deliberate inspection.

Coal Scare Solves Another Problem.

It is possible there will be a better supply of maid servants in New York this winter than for several years. So many families have moved into hotels or boarding houses, in consequence of the scarcity of coal, that a number of domestic servants have been thrown out of place. Solving the hired girl problem by being frozen out of house and home suggests Ella's story of the burning down of houses to enjoy the luxury of roast pig; but it is the only method that has been satisfactory for a long time in this city. Moreover, it is likely that many families which have taken to boarding will continue it for the rest of the winter, notwithstanding the strike settlement, so that girls should be plentiful until the spring.

Gunning for Big Game.

District Attorney Jerome, after keeping quiet for some weeks, has been exceedingly active of late. Now that he has succeeded in raiding several large gambling houses, he is hopeful to catch some of those mysterious police beings "higher up." It is said that he came near doing it at one of the houses where there is suspicion that the "gambling combine" holds sway; but, as Jerome naively remarked this afternoon, the scuttles were open and it took the police some time to break in the front door.

Cupid Snares for the Cadet.

The neat gray uniform of West Point cadets is one of the most commonly seen of the soldierly clothes that appear in Broadway from day to day. Whenever a West Pointer can get leave to run down to New York, he is pretty sure to find himself in a Broadway theater in the evening, and so sure as he makes his appearance in any of the houses where there is a musical comedy on the boards, the "show girls" plume themselves to their prettiest and the gallant youth from up the Hudson may know that he is the object of admiration to some of the fair femininity behind the footlights, just as much as they are to him.

Merely a Snow Bird.

One of the papers refers to Bird S. Coler as "Birdie." This is rather rough on the gallant young Democratic candidate for governor of New York, but since it is conceded that he will be snowed under on election day, he will not have to stand it very long.

Rumor Kills Russell Sage.

Wall street had a whirl of excitement today, through a report that Russell Sage was dead. It was soon proved to be untrue, but it caused much concern in the meantime. There is little doubt that the rumor was set afloat for stock-jobbing purposes, although it was impossible to trace it to its source. Dr. Munn, who is Mr. Sage's physician, says that his patient ate a light breakfast this morning and is getting along very well. At the same time, it would not surprise the street if Mr. Sage were never to be seen there again.

Good, Old-Fashioned Hotel Doomed.

One of the famous old hotels of New York will soon disappear. It is the Westminster, at Irving place and Sixteenth street, a house much patronized by Pittsburghers who like to keep away from the whirl of Broadway when in New York. The Westminster has been acquired by John F. Hollingsworth, who takes it in part payment for the Parker building, a 12-story edifice at the corner of Fourth avenue and Nineteenth street, where the Cyclorama used to be a few years ago. The value of the Westminster is placed at $300,000. The rest of the total of $1,750,000 for the Parker building was paid in cash. The Westminster is a house of old-fashioned methods and old-fashioned comfort. It has the modern conveniences, such as electricity and good elevators; but there is none of the tearing, roaring haste of the big hotels further uptown, and to many Pittsburghers it has always been suggestive of an old English inn rather than a Twentieth century American hotel. However, it will be destroyed after a while, and in its place will go up a sky-scraping hotel such as modern conditions seem to demand. It may be a year or two before the work of destruction begins, however.

Mascagni's New Opera Produced.

There was a brilliant audience at the Metropolitan opera house tonight, when Mascagni gave his new opera. "Iris," for the first time in this city. The production had been twice postponed because Mascagni would not put it on until it had been rehearsed to his satisfaction, but it went tonight with perfect smoothness. It seemed as if all musical New York was present, and the "rail birds" were out in force, as if rejoicing over the recent court proceedings to determine their right to hear operatic music from the back of the parquet. The whole affair was pronounced a success.

Where His Value Came In.

"So you charge two dollars for one poor 'possum," said the guest to the rural landlord.

"I do," replied the landlord—"Not that he's worth it, of hisself, but I sprained my left leg an' swore myself out the church a-ketchin' of him!"—Atlanta Constitution.

PERSONALS.

The Hon. W. S. Shallenberger of Rochester, second assistant postmaster general, went to Washington last evening after having attended the reunion of his class at Washington and Jefferson college on Wednesday. While waiting for his train at Union station, he said that he had greatly enjoyed the two days with his old classmates and had met with many friends whom he had not seen for years. "The postoffice department," he said, "is doing everything possible to provide better mail facilities for the public, so far as the revenues will permit. The intention is to extend and perfect the service in the rural districts, but it requires time. The revenues are rapidly increasing, and so is the extension of the service, which is now as nearly perfect as possible. The president in his efforts to bring about a settlement of the strike was animated only by an earnest desire to serve the best interests of the public and he had no feeling of partisanship. It would be a great error and the cause of general regret if anyone should so construe his action."

J. T. Brown, formerly a resident of Westmoreland county, but whose residence is now at Atchison, Kan., was at the Union station last evening, returning to his home after a brief visit to the scenes of his boyhood. As a young man he was employed on the engineer corps of the Pennsylvania railroad and assisted in making the original survey of the road between Greensburg and Pittsburgh. This was his first visit to this city since 1857. He said: "Old Story, the former ticket agent at the station here, is about the only one of my old friends whom I can find, and he is now retired and living on the old farm, through which the original route was surveyed."

The hotel men all declare that never before in the history of Pittsburgh, except during convention times, or upon some special occasion, has the city been so crowded. Every hotel is overcrowded and for several days hundreds have been turned away. Last night was especially trying upon the strangers who arrived on late trains and could find no accommodations, and many of them made the lives of hotel clerks a burden.

Dr. G. M. Anderson of Valencia, member of the legislature from Washington county, went to New York last evening, where he expects to be joined by State Senators Snyder, Sproul and Scott; Speaker Marshall and Representatives Bliss and McClain, who compose a committee of the state legislature to visit retreats of insane criminals.

The officers, heads of departments and clerks of the Imperial Laundry Company, to the number of 40, were banqueted at the Hotel Victoria last evening by the firm.

THE DEATH ROLL.

Anthony Blackburn.

Anthony Blackburn, aged 72, died yesterday afternoon at his home on Fourth street, Carnegie, after an illness of several months. He was born in Guernsey county, O. For several years prior to his removal to Carnegie he was engaged in the shoe business in Steubenville, O. He has been in the same trade in Carnegie for over four years. Four months ago he cut his hand and blood poison set in, from which he never recovered. He was a member of the Manning Methodist Episcopal church of Steubenville. He is survived by one son. The remains will be taken to Steubenville for burial on Saturday.

Mrs. Elizabeth Farr.

Mrs. Elizabeth Farr, aged 65, died early yesterday morning at her home on Bessemer Terrace, East Pittsburgh, after a short illness. The deceased had been a resident in the vicinity of Braddock for many years and was well known. She is survived by a large family, all of whom are prominent in business circles. The surviving children are: Harry, Edward, Charles, Arthur and Thomas Farr, Mrs. Joseph Baumgartner and Mrs. Elizabeth Thomas, all of Braddock.

Obituary Notes.

Mrs. Elizabeth Moore, 76 years old, widow of Florence Moore, is dead at her home in Boston, near McKeesport, as a result of injuries received in a fall recently. Four children survive.

Peter Guenther, 57 years old, is dead at his home, No. 7 Wickline lane, Allegheny. He was a native of Germany, and is survived by his widow and two sons.

Lieut.-Col. Charles Porter, U. S. A., retired, is dead at Washington, D. C., after a long illness. His remains will be interred in the National Arlington cemetery with military honors.

Dalzell's Splendid Abilities.

From the Wilkesbarre Record.

The rather surprising news comes from Pittsburgh that Senator Quay will support Congressman Dalzell for speaker of the next house of representatives. The senator has for many years been the bitter opponent of the Pittsburgh representative, so that the latter's friends naturally inferred he would be hostile to him if he became an active candidate for the speakership. In the same connection it is stated that Senator Penrose, too, will be friendly to Dalzell. If this be actually true and both senators become active supporters of the Pittsburgh representative, then it will be easy to unite the entire Pennsylvania delegation in his behalf, and his chances of success would be altogether promising. His splendid abilities were recognized by Speakers Reed and Henderson, and by all the leaders of the house. For 14 consecutive years he has represented the Pittsburgh district in congress, being elected in each instance by overwhelming majorities. This year he is practically without opposition.

Pennypacker and Pattison.

From the Philadelphia Inquirer.

It is not only considered the proper thing for a candidate to do, but it has come to be expected of him that he will face the people and discuss with them the political and business topics of the day. We have, therefore, both Judge Pennypacker and Mr. Pattison on the stump daily and nightly. But there is a difference between them. The Democratic candidate for the governorship studiously ignores all the great topics in which the nation is interested, while the standard bearer of the Republican party sees no reason why he should not talk over with the public the very conditions which have brought prosperity. If there is one thing in which the people are interested it is prosperity. Mr. Pattison, in the light of history, can promise nothing in that direction. His party's triumph was followed by disaster. That is not a pleasant subject for him to refer to, hence he very naturally turns to something—anything—else.

POWER TO CURB ILLEGAL TRUSTS

Comment of the Press on the Speech of Attorney General Knox.

The most encouraging feature of Attorney General Knox's luminous exposition of the trust problem is the assurance that congress and the president under its authority have power to regulate and control these great combinations without amendment of the constitution.—New York Herald.

In other words he thinks that a constitutional amendment is not necessary to deal effectively with trusts. This, we may assume, is the answer of President Roosevelt to the question raised by himself in his recent speaking tour, for it is not to be supposed that the attorney general made his speech at Pittsburgh without the concurrence of his chief.—New York Evening Post.

That new laws ample for the correction of these evils can be enacted by congress without any amendment to the constitution Mr. Knox "unhesitatingly" affirms. This implies the president's abandonment of the opinion expressed on his western tour that the only remedy was by amending the fundamental law—a process imposing many years of delay and foredoomed to final failure.—New York World.

The attorney general's reasoning and his conclusions will commend themselves to the approval of just minds. They are sane and sensible. The remedy of congressional enactment requires no such interval of time, involves no such uncertainty as the president's plan of the constitutional amendment.—New York Tribune.

Mr. Knox's views are substantially the same as those which the president has publicly expressed, but what the attorney general had to say last night regarding the efficiency of the present laws, and the need of new ones, for trust regulation was of a much more specific and definite nature than the suggestions made by the president. It is safe, however, to regard the speech of Mr. Knox as the amplification of the opinions already expressed by the head of the administration.—New York Commercial Advertiser.

Attorney General Knox's speech will be discussed with great care and fulness for some time to come. For the moment we note two striking features of it. The chief of trust evils, "existent and possible," and the "source from which minor ones flow" is "over-capitalization!" Then amendment of the constitution, or law of congress, or even effort on the part of the attorney general, is scarcely needed. As a matter of fact no case of over-capitalization has yet failed to cure itself—by going to smash.—New York Sun.

Attorney General Knox has done a public service in his Pittsburgh speech by pointing out both the powers and the limitations of federal lawin dealing with the trusts. Congress ought, in the line proposed by the attorney general, to make it possible to regulate and suppress discrimination by corporations producing and selling in more than one state. When this power has been tested and failed it will be time enough to discuss additional changes and a wider constitutional power for congress.—Philadelphia Press.

It is gratifying to have the opinion of so excellent an authority as Attorney General Knox in support of the converse proposition that congress has not exhausted its powers in the matter and that the anti-trust law can be made effective without need of an amendment to the constitution.—Philadelphia Record.

To begin with, he clears the ground. The only attempt which congress has made at dealing with the trust question is that which found expression in the so-called Sherman act, and as to his opinion of this statute Mr. Knox leaves no room for doubt.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

The address delivered in Pittsburgh last night on the question of the trusts by Attorney General Knox was the most complete and scholarly presentation of that difficult subject which has been made by anybody this year.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

Attorney General Knox argued with great force that the powers of congress are adequate and that the Sherman law should be amended, not the constitution. So far as the Sherman law reaches existing conditions it has been vigorously and loyally enforced by the present administration.—Buffalo Commercial.

LOCAL PASTOR IS MODERATOR

Presbyterian Synod of Pennsylvania Honors the Rev. Dr. W. L. McEwan.

MANY REPORTS HEARD

Committeemen Named—Dr. McIntosh's Last Report—Pittsburgh Leads the State in Supporting the Church Boards.

The Presbyterian synod of Pennsylvania, which opened in the First church, Allegheny, yesterday, honored Pittsburgh by electing the Rev. Dr. William L. McEwan, pastor of the Third church, East End, moderator. The choice was hotly contested, the

THE REV. DR. W. L. McEWAN.
Yesterday Elected Moderator of the Presbyterian Synod of Pennsylvania.

Rev. George S. Chambers of Harrisburg being only four votes behind the successful candidate.

At the opening yesterday morning about 175 ministers and laymen, representing the 23 presbyteries in Pennsylvania and West Virginia, reported. Besides the regular delegates many were also present to represent the several boards and causes of the church. A number of prominent men who attended the centennial of the Washington and Jefferson college, arrived in Pittsburgh yesterday and will remain over for the centennial celebration of the old Pittsburgh synod. The First church was beautifully decorated with plants, flowers and streamers, and the synod was formally opened with a sermon by the Rev. Thomas R. Beeber of Norristown, the retiring moderator.

Pittsburgher Won Fight.

The afternoon session convened at 2 o'clock and the question of selecting a moderator was taken up. The Rev. G. B. Bendit of Philadelphia nominated Dr. Chambers, which was seconded by the Rev. Dr. M. H. Chilkins of Northumberland presbytery and a number of others. The Rev. Dr. Loyal Graham of Philadelphia placed the name of Dr. McEwan before the synod. In doing so he said the synod meets in the First church, Allegheny, this year because it is the one hundredth anniversary of the organization of the old Western Theological seminary, and a man from this section was the logical candidate for moderator at this time.

The Rev. W. L. Patton of the Wayne presbytery, the Rev. Dr. Henry D. Lindsay of Allegheny and others seconded the nomination of Dr. McEwan.

The name of the Rev. J. M. Gimmel of the Blairsville presbytery was also put before the meeting, but Mr. Gimmel withdrew. The vote was then taken on the two candidates. The tally showed Dr. McEwan had received 79 votes and Dr. Chambers 75. The election was then made unanimous.

Dr. McIntosh's Last Report.

After Dr. McEwan was installed by Dr. Beeber, the retiring moderator, short addresses were made by each. The Rev. Dr. D. S. Kennedy, pastor of the First church, Allegheny, delivered a short address of welcome and read the report of the committee on arrangements, which was adopted. The synod was then presented with a new gavel by the Dr. Lindsay on behalf of the Rev. J. M. Work, pastor of the First church of Canonsburg. The handle of the gavel was made from timber preserved from the old log cabin of John McMillin, and the head was made from wood taken from old Providence hall in Canonsburg.

The report of the stated clerk, the Rev. Dr. Robert Hunter of Philadelphia, was read. It dealt chiefly with the last meeting of the synod and was approved. The roll of the presbyteries was called for the presentation of their records, all of which responded with the exception of that of Erie. This was followed by the reading of the report of the committee on synodical home missions and sustentation by the Rev. Dr. John S. McIntosh, who for the past 15 years has acted as chairman of the committee, and who resigned on Wednesday to accept a chair in a California theological seminary.

New Members Appointed.

The report showed that there are three vacancies in the committee and the Rev. A. R. Van Fossen of Allegheny, the Rev. Dr. John R. Davies of Philadelphia and the Rev. T. D. Stewart of Shenango, were nominated.

The report makes the following recommendations: That $35,000 be raised by the presbyteries of the synod during the coming year; that the apportionment remain the same as last year; that steps be taken to prevent overlappings in the home mission fields and that Dr. White be appointed to attend the home mission convention to be held the second Tuesday in November at Philadelphia; that presbyteries insist upon the grouping of weak churches, and that each presbytery be urged to secure offerings from each of their churches.

Dr. McIntosh also presented the report of the corresponding secretary of the committee, the Rev. J. M. McJunkin. The report shows that the number of ministers and missionaries employed was 169; churches and missions aided, 200; pastoral charges aided, 147; infants baptized, 606; adults baptized, 427; added on profession of faith, 1,489; added on certificate, 665; total number of additions, 2,164; total number of communicants, 13,510; total number of Sabbath schools, 206; total Sabbath school membership, 17,917; total contributed to payment of pastors' salaries, $88,634; total contributed to current expenses, $25,762; total contributed to building and repairs, $27,560; total number of church edifices reported, 173; total value of church edifices, $391,300; average value of church buildings, 3,417; total number of parsonages, 61; total value of parsonages, $114,600.

Pittsburgh Leads the State.

Contributions to the different boards of the church amounted to $14,407. The work among the foreign population is left in the hands of the presbyteries, which the synod through its committee, assists when help is needed. Five presbyteries were helped during the past year and the total appropriation for this purpose amounted to $13,240.

In addition to the sum expended by the five presbyteries, the presbyteries of Pittsburgh and Philadelphia expended sums which brings the total amount used in the Pennsylvania synod for mission work among the foreign element to over $25,000. The report also shows that the women's sustentation committee during the year contributed $825 91 and that the total amount contributed by the women amounted to $1,252 07.

The report of the treasurer shows that during the past year the receipts from presbyteries amounted to $25,666 34. Of this amount Pittsburgh contributed $4,360 10, which was $1,473 91 in excess of the next largest contribution to the fund from presbyteries. The total paid out to presbyteries amounted to $28,770 02.

Synodical Reports.

The total amount received from all sources was $37,086 86, and the total expenditure during the year amounted to $39,112 25. Of the total of $4,360 10 contributed by the Pittsburgh presbytery, the Third church gave $900 to the fund.

Dr. McIntosh, in discussing the report, said that of the 1,010 churches in the synod, 205 had failed to contribute anything to the home mission and sustentation fund during the past year, and that if they had contributed their share, the board would not have reported a deficit in receipts from synodical sources of $2,681 07. At the close of his remarks on the report Dr. McIntosh bid an effectionate farewell to the synod. Dr. Chambers, his successor as chairman of the committee, presented a minute on the 15 years' service of Dr. McIntosh, which was adopted by a unanimous rising vote.

After addresses by John W. Baer and Dr. Graham in behalf of the home mission board the afternoon meeting adjourned.

The Evening Session.

The evening session of the synod was devoted largely to a popular meeting under the direction of the synodical sustentation committee. The Rev. Dr. William P. Fulton presided. The devotional exercises were led by the Rev. G. Allison Platts. There were addresses by Moderator McEwan and the Rev. Dr. W. A. Patton. Dr. McEwan spoke of Pennsylvania's vast and highly developed resources and her foreign population.

He said God has emptied the ends of the world into the lap of the synod, which was perhaps an intimation of "our recreant course in not reaching out more actively in spreading the gospel in the old country." He compared the life of the Scotch-Irish with that of the Slav, and said that while the former rose the latter sank lower after leaving the mother country.

He said the work among foreigners at Schoenville was the most remarkable ever heard of and that the young men who made house to house visits selling Bibles and other religious books had exhausted the supply in the United States and books had to be ordered from Europe.

Dr. Patton condemned the neglect of the synod in not contributing more largely to the sustentation cause. He said it is within the province of the synod to make the work of the committee one of magnificent proportions.

Program for Day.

The program for today is as follows: 9 a. m.—The Rev. H. D. Lindsay of the North church, Allegheny, presiding. Prayer by the Rev. S. Edward Young of the Second church, Pittsburgh. Address on the "General Historical Review" by the Rev. W. H. Roberts of New York, the missionary secretary, and on the "Christian Education" by the Rev. W. S. Plumer Bryan. Necrological report and narrative read, followed by an hour of prayer, conducted by the Rev. Robert M. Patterson. 2 p. m.—The Rev. Frank A. Sneed of the East Liberty church, Pittsburgh, presiding. Addresses on "Foreign Missions" by the Rev. Arthur Brown; "The Relationship and Claims of Home Missions" by the Rev. George S. Chambers of Harrisburg, and on "Missions For Freedmen" by the Rev. Henry T. McClelland of the Bellefield church, Pittsburgh. 7:30 p. m.—Former Gov. James A. Beaver, presiding. Prayer by the Rev. Maitland Alexander of the First church, Pittsburgh. Addresses on "Some Movements in Present-Day Evangelism" by the Rev. David R. Breed of the Western Theological seminary, and on "Apostolic Evangelism" by the Rev. David S. Kennedy of Allegheny.

RECEPTION FOR QUAY AND DALZELL

Chairmen Robertson and Brown Join in an Invitation to Leading Republicans.

There are funny things in politics. One of the most amusing is to hear the machine speak words of praise for Senator Quay. No doubt many men will smile today when they read this invitation signed by County Chairman Robertson and City Chairman Brown, which has been sent to many Republicans:

The Republican executive committees of Allegheny county and the city of Pittsburgh will tender to the Hon. M. S. Quay and the Hon. John Dalzell a public reception at the Hotel Schenley on Friday, October 24, from 5 to 6 p. m. in recognition of their valuable and long time services to this county, directly enhancing its present greatness, and contributing largely to its wonderful prosperity.

You are earnestly requested to call upon these two gentlemen on this occasion. You are also hereby notified that you are made a vice president of the Republican meeting to be held at Carnegie hall, Forbes street, at 8 o'clock of the same evening and we herewith inclose you two stage tickets.

The speakers at the meeting referred to are announced as Senator Quay, James Burke and Congressman Dalzell.

New Material for Mail Bags.

THINKING MADE EASY.

There Is a Way.

"I asked husband to get some Grape Nuts, the ready cooked food. He brought them at noon and I served a dish for dinner, for I thought what was good for breakfast was good for any other meal. Well! do you know we did not eat half so hearty of the meat, potatoes, etc., after eating the Grape Nuts. It filled that vacancy which the regular fare did not.

"The 'newspaper puffs' as I used to call them (I know better now) are not one bit too strong—are not strong enough, for steadier nerves, better complexion, increased endurance and a renewed reserve fund of strength are now mine, and I cannot be too thankful. I can walk five miles without one-half as much loss of strength as when I formerly walked one.

"If, in cleaning house and numerous other back breaking tolls we women must do, we would all prepare a dish of Grape Nuts instead of the old time 'cup of tea to brace up on,' one would soon see the difference.

"I have found, since using Grape Nuts, that mental occupations, which months ago were taxing and fatiguing, are now real pleasures. I can think steadily and with such ease. By putting a spoonful of Grape Nuts in a cup of good, rich Postum, I have a drink fit for a King." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

You are familiar with the many styles of weather that Mr. Ridgway has been handing out to Pittsburgh. Yet the same-sized crowds as visited the first plan of lots at Fetterman are on the grounds to see the second plan.

What would even a snow storm amount to in cooling the ardor of intelligent men and women who have summed up this opportunity in its true significance? The marvelous, unparalleled real estate activity in the "TUNNEL-LAND" is no greater than developments out this direction warrant.

FETTERMAN ADDITION.

Before you get off the car be sure you see the landmarks of Fetterman. Look for the property that has the improvements. If you do not see electric lights all over the plan, and the great work of street improvements very much in evidence, you are not on the second plan of Fetterman. Remember that the Second Fetterman Plan adjoins the first plan, extending along West Liberty Avenue—as does the first plan. It is not across the street from the first Fetterman plan, but is 300 feet farther out in the direction of Mt. Lebanon.

We cite this as a friendly warning, that you may not stop off at the wrong plan, realize your mistake, and suffer the consequent keen disappointment when it is too late.

We repeat again: The Second Fetterman Plan is 300 feet farther out than the first plan. It has the same wonderful traction service and is even a finer lying property.

Come Out Any Hour--Day or Night

The Mt. Lebanon Hill Top cars that run to Fetterman can be boarded anywhere from the Union Depot on Liberty street to Smithfield street, and on Smithfield street at any crossing. Some of these cars are especially chartered. You will notice Fetterman streamers on them. Until the Tunnel Lines are finished you will have to take one of these Mt. Lebanon Hill Top Cars to reach Fetterman. You can step off the car right onto the property. You can see as well at night to select your lot or lots as you can during daylight. Immense arc electric lights are stationed at all the street crossings throughout the plan.

In fact we do not ask you to come and see an ordinary suburban proposition. We are showing you a city blessed with city advantages. You get paved streets, and you can buy lots on these paved streets at prices which cause the stereotyped sort of real estate promoters to wonder how we can do it. That is the whole "sum and substance" of the matter. Had it been impossible to buy the property this way we would never have touched it. That is a good point for you to remember. Whenever Haas & Lauinger's clients cannot undersell the market they never go before the public. That is the policy which has made us a success and is the one to which we are going to stick.

It's the Prices and the Tunnel That Make Fetterman the Investment Which Appeals to Thinkers.

The sale of our first plan was made famous with prices and street improvements unprecedented in all the annals of the business. This sale will be made just as famous. We don't have to get steeple-high prices for this magnificent property any more than we did during the record-breaking sale of the first plan. We didn't buy the land at steeple-high figures. That's the reason. That's why we can defy competition, giving you paved streets, electric lights and other up-to-date high-way improvements for less money than owners of adjoining real estate are now asking for unimproved acreage that doesn't begin to lie as fine as this matchless, most wonderfully-endowed level stretch of ours.

These facts do not need to be dwelt upon for the crowds that were here at the sale of first plan, but to persons who have not seen this great new residential district the pointer is valuable. It may influence you to investigate before you bind your self to a less interesting proposition.

Another thing you should give heed to is the GREAT HIGH-SPEED TUNNEL QUESTION. You want to think how this question is going to effect the property. Take up the matter with your eyes open and go into it thoroughly. You will then learn that of all the sections out this way Fetterman is the best. It is the best to make money out of and the best to live in. BEST because you will have two great HIGH-SPEED TUNNEL LINES instead of one. You will be able to go home from the corner of Fifth Avenue and Smithfield street in ten minutes. You can board a car at the Lake Erie Depot or the B. & O. Depot and reach Fetterman in 7 to 8 minutes. You can leave the Union Depot and get to Fetterman in 12 to 14 minutes.

Plowing up the Streets of Fetterman by Electric Light to Make Way for Extensive Paving Improvements.

Choice Lots In This Second Great Plan of Fetterman are going at

$50 TO $600

5 Per Cent Down.
Balance 2½ Per Cent Per Month.
No Taxes! No Interest!
10 Per Cent Discount When Paid Within 60 Days.

When you see the property you will readily understand that there will not be very many, if any, lots left for those who hesitate.

Remember that you get paved streets and electric lights. Remember that the great tunnel lines will bring the property within seven to ten minutes' ride of the busy city.

ROAD CONTRACT FIGHT NOT OVER

Award of Contracts by the County Commissioners to Be Attacked in Court.

FLINN GOT LION'S SHARE

Other Contractors Want to Know Why Bids Were Not Opened on October 6, as Advertised. Improvement to Cost $600,000.

The action of the Allegheny county commissioners in awarding contracts for nine new county roads, aggregating over $600,000, of which Booth & Flinn captured over $330,000, will probably result in suit being brought against the commissioners, on the grounds that the bids were not opened legally.

Contractors James H. McQuade and John J. Sweeney, who were bidders, yesterday placed their case in the hands of Attorney Robert N. Douglas, who will probably enter suit at once. "As advertised, the bids were to have been opened at noon on Monday, October 6, but were not opened until Friday, October 10. This procedure, it is said, is in violation of the law, and it is on these premises that the contractors, McQuade and Sweeney, will bring suit.

Mr. McQuade was seen at his residence last night and said: "It is not quite clear to Mr. Sweeney and myself why the proposals were not opened on the day advertised. To satisfy ourselves we went to the county commissioners' office yesterday seeking information. I applied to James A. Clark and was told by him that as he had not been present at the opening of the bids, he was not in a position to say anything. He referred me to W. W. Murray, but he refused to give us any satisfaction.

"Seeing that we could do nothing there, Mr. Sweeney and I went to the office of Mr. Douglas and presented the matter to him. It is likely he will enter suit at once."

The Allegheny county commissioners let the contracts on Wednesday. The total cost of the improvements will be $600,000, and the contracts were approved by E. J. Randolph, acting for Controller W. E. Thompson, who is with his regiment in the strike field. The awards were as follows:

Freeport road, section 1, to Keeling & Ridge for $75,095. The next lowest bidder was Ross F. Houston, whose bid was $77,554 40.

Washington pike, to Booth & Flinn, Ltd., for $65,676. The next lowest bidder was S. Gamble, whose bid was $64,225.

Dravosburg road, to Booth & Flinn, Ltd., for $105,692. The bid of M. F. Howley & Co., $111,089, was next lowest.

Noblestown extension road, to Booth & Flinn, Ltd., for $65,200. Foley Bros.' bid of $68,499 was the next lowest.

Noble lane road, to Foley Bros. for $19,179. The bid of Booth & Flinn, Ltd., $19,952 50, was the next lowest.

Glenfield road, to Booth & Flinn, Ltd., for $56,344. Keeling & Ridge, the only competitor, bid $106,810.

Evergreen extension road to Keeling & Ridge for $78,380. The only competition was Booth & Flinn, Ltd., $75,440.

Natrona branch road, to J. C. McSpadden for $34 Nc. The bid of John Sweeney, the next lowest, was $14,675.

Butt Creek road, to J. C. McSpadden for $87,197 50. M. F. Howley & Co., the only competitor, bid $87,147.

GREAT ENTHUSIASM IN LAWRENCEVILLE

Citizens of Several Wards Join in a Ratification of the Fusion Ticket.

The industrial district embracing the Ninth, Twelfth, Fifteenth and Sixteenth wards rang with enthusiasm last night. The occasion was a ratification of the Citizens ticket by a street parade, followed by a mass meeting at the Springfield school. The school hall was entirely too small to accommodate those who clamored for admittance. Addresses were made by H. K. Porter, L. S. Levin, F. J. Donahoe, Andrew Fulton and J. M. F. Foster.

At the Lincoln club, Mt. Washington, there was an informal reception to George H. Stengel, candidate for county register. Mr. Stengel made a brief address. Other meetings last night were held at the Twenty-third ward headquarters, No. 528 Lytle street, Glenwood; in Black's hall, Turtle Creek; at the Coraopolis tennis grounds, in Spring Garden school and in the Second ward school, Allegheny.

Meetings will be held tonight in Vorwaert's hall, Eighteenth ward; Charles hall, Fourteenth ward; Brushton school, Thirty-seventh ward; Mechanics hall, West Liberty; Knox school, Thirtieth ward, and East McKeesport school.

HIGHWAYMEN SECURE FIFTY-THREE DOLLARS

Two Men Severely Beaten and One Is Place on the Railroad Track.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

KITTANNING, PA., Oct. 16.—Ford City was the scene today of one of the worst hold-ups in the history of the county. Fred Weaver, a young man employed at the pottery works, was on his way home in daylight with his wages amounting to $53 in his pocket, when he saw two men standing in the road. Weaver paid no attention to them, but in passing he was struck over the head. As he recovered he sprang at the man who struck him and kicked him, when the other thug drew a knife and struck Weaver twice on the right breast, cutting him severely.

After securing the $53 the highwaymen threw Weaver over the river bank and left him for dead. He was found later and a doctor dressed his wounds, which are not serious, though painful. Today six tramps were arrested, but Weaver could not identify them and they were discharged.

CONNELLSVILLE, PA., Oct. 16.—While returning to his work at the Scottdale coke works late last night, James Brown, 65 years old, was held up and beaten into unconsciousness by two colored men near the Davidson coke works. The old man was placed across the rails of the Pennsylvania tracks and left for the first train to grind him to pieces. For nearly an hour the wounded man lay helpless upon the tracks and only regained consciousness a few minutes before a heavy coke train passed. Half conscious and bleeding from his wounds, he managed to reach this place, where he informed the police. He was sent to the Cottage hospital, where his recovery is thought doubtful. Thirteen arrests were made, none of whom were the right men.

Eleventh Reserves Reunion.

LATROBE, PA., Oct. 16.—(Special.)—The annual reunion of the Eleventh Pennsylvania Reserves was held here today. About 250 aged survivors marched the streets and were earnest listeners to the speeches delivered in Young's hall by the Rev. R. B. Mansell, D. D.; the Rev. C. M. Hartzell and J. H. Sutton, a member of the regiment. A sight-seeing trip was taken through the Latrobe Steel Company's plant and a bean bake was served the visitors.

Trolley Injunction Dissolved.

GREENSBURG, PA., Oct. 16.—(Special.)—Judge Lucien Doty today dissolved the temporary injunction proceedings brought by the borough council to restrain the Greensburg & Southern Street Railway Company from operating on West Otterman street. Council had asked to have the franchise of the company declared void for the reason that it had failed to operate cars regularly on a short spur.

Child Bleeding to Death.

PARKERSBURG, W. VA., Oct. 16.—(Special.)—Chester Nolan, the infant son of Charles Nolan, is bleeding to death. The little one's nose began to bleed on Monday and it has been slowly flowing ever since. Only a few days ago a 2-year-old child of the same couple bled to death from a slight wound on a finger.

SYNOD WARNED AGAINST NEGLECTING COLLEGES

Dr. Campbell Says United Presbyterians May Soon Be Absorbed.

MERCER, PA., Oct. 16.—The closing session of the Synod of the West of the United Presbyterian church was devoted to the support of the church colleges. Dr. J. O. Campbell, field secretary of Westminster college, presented the claims of colleges of the church to the consideration of synod. Dr. Campbell contended that the selfishness which the church displayed in the support of colleges was a disgrace to the denomination, and that unless the United Presbyterians were more liberal in the support of their colleges and seminaries in 10 years that denomination would be absorbed by larger denominations and United Presbyterians would cease to exist.

Dr. J. A. Henderson of Erie, the recognized leader of the reform movement in the United Presbyterian church, advocated the revision of the rule of admission to membership in the church, claiming that the demands of the time was for a more liberal rule. During the conference the ministers in attendance gave approval of the remarks of the speaker by shouting "Amen" with as much vim as old school Methodists.

Judge S. S. Mehard of Mercer, Dr. F. F. McGillen of Allegheny and Dr. J. A. Henderson were elected trustees of Westminster college. The Rev. Mr. Bailey, who has led the fight against Prof. Barnes on a charge of heresy, was defeated. The Rev. H. H. Houston of Struthers was elected moderator.

The following resolutions in the Wallace case from the judiciary committee was adopted: "We have examined very carefully the paper of the Rev. J. R. Wallace, also the record of Lake presbytery relating to his release from the Jamestown congregation on August 14, 1902, and the preceding actions of said presbytery leading up to said release. We have heard Mr. Wallace and the clerk of Lake presbytery on the matters referring to Brother Wallace's appeal, and recommend the following: First, that the minutes of Lake presbytery be approved, as far as they relate to the Wallace case. Second, we find no reason to reopen the case.

Synod Goes to Wooster.

STEUBENVILLE, O., Oct. 16.—(Special.)—The Rev. Robert J. Spear of the foreign mission board addressed the Presbyterian synod of Ohio tonight. Wooster was chosen as the next place of meeting. The Rev. E. T. Swiggett of Morrow was elected trustee of the synod for five years. President Holden of Wooster university addressed the synod today. Delegates to the Anti-Saloon league convention at Washington, D. C., are the Rev. F. A. Wilbur, Zanesville; the Rev. W. F. McAuley, Youngstown, and the Rev. J. T. Black, Dayton.

ANOTHER CAWLEY VICTIM IS DEAD

Adelaide Expires at Hospital After an Operation Was Performed.

JAMES WAS PUT IN JAIL

Warden Lewis Told Charles of It, but He Appeared Indifferent and Refused to Speak—Agnes in a Dying Condition.

Adelaide Cawley, aged 5 years, a twin of Raymond and the fifth victim of the Homestead tragedy, which was committed by Charles Cawley early last Friday morning, died at the South Side hospital at 9 o'clock last night.

Dr. J. P. Kerr, who has been in attendance of the injured children at the hospital, performed an operation of trephining the skull yesterday morning and the child was not strong enough to survive the shock. Adelaide's body was removed to the morgue an hour after her death. A post-mortem examination will be held by the coroner this morning and the child's remains will be taken to Homestead today for burial.

Agnes Is No Better.

Agnes Cawley, a 10-year-old sister of the dead girl, is still at the South Side hospital. She rested well yesterday, and last night the hospital authorities said there was no perceptible change in her condition. There is still, however, no hope for her recovery, and the physicians may not perform an operation.

When James Cawley was brought before Police Magistrate John H. Armstrong at the Oakland police station yesterday morning, the magistrate told him he had understood he had confessed to Inspector Denniston, and that he was prepared to plead guilty to the charge of highway robbery.

James Plead Guilty.

Between sobs the boy told the magistrate his statement was correct. He was led back into a cell weeping and was sent to the county jail to be held for trial unless bonds in the sum of $1,000 could be furnished.

James was still shedding tears when he reached the jail. He was met by Warden Edward Lewis and was given a cell on the third tier, his brother Charles occupying one in murderers' row. The two boys did not meet in the jail during the day and will not be allowed to see each other.

Warden Lewis yesterday afternoon had a little conversation with the maniac boy and finally informed him his brother James was occupying a cell in the jail. Charles appeared very indifferent and did not even inquire of the warden what his brother had been arrested and was being locked in the jail for.

Indifferent to Brother.

"This was the most marvelous part of the whole affair," said Warden Lewis last night. "I expected that Charles would ask something about his brother, but he never opened his mouth, and I did not remain long in his cell."

Charles Cawley had no visitors yesterday. Patrick J. Boyle of the South Side, an uncle of the boys, called at the jail but denied that he had seen either of the boys. He stated that his visit to the jail was merely to see Warden Lewis, and as soon as he finished his business with the official he left.

It is believed the uncle is making an attempt to secure bail for James. The trial of James, with Donahue and Wright, the other two men now incarcerated in jail for being implicated in the robbery, will come up at the December term of court.

Assistant District Attorney Robb and County Detective Robinson, after their visit to Charley on Monday afternoon, stated that they would have the plans of the boy's inventions brought down from Homestead and the boy would be allowed to work on them in the jail. This move has been stopped by the warden, who says he will not allow the plans to be brought to the jail.

After the death or recovery of Agnes the coroner's inquest in the case will be held and James will be called on to testify before the coroner's jury as to the death of his mother and sisters.

DAMROSCH WAS GIVEN WARMEST APPROVAL

Program of His Compositions Played Last Night—Last Wagner Program Tonight.

One more day after this and the Pittsburgh Exposition season of 1902 comes to a close. The last two days are sure to be remarkable for attendance and enthusiasm. The program of Damrosch compositions presented last evening proved an agreeable innovation, since it revealed Mr. Damrosch's splendid qualities as composer. His intensely dramatic "Danny Deever," sung with utmost vigor by Harry Luckstone, evoked thunderous approval.

The last Wagner program will be rendered at 7:30 o'clock tonight. Harry Luckstone will sing the beautiful "Evening Star," while Miss Henriette Keil will render "Elsa's Dream," from "Lohengrin," and will sing a Gomez number at the 9:30 concert.

Mr. Damrosch's program for this afternoon follows:

3 P. M.

Overture, "Mignon" ..... Thomas
(a) Lullaby
(b) Valse Gracieux ..... Sam Franko
March from the Lenore symphony ..... Raff
Symphonic poem, "The Wheel of Omphale" ..... Saint Saens
Waltz, "Stories From the Vienna Woods" ..... Strauss

4 P. M.

Overture, "Euryanthe" ..... Weber
"In the Woods" ..... Chabrier
Waltz from serenade in F ..... Fuchs
Violin solo ..... Mr. David Manner
Prologue to "Pagliacci" ..... Leoncavallo
Mr. Harry Luckstone.
Scherzo, wedding march, from "Midsummer Night's Dream" ..... Mendelssohn

A Popular Visitor.

A small luncheon was given yesterday at 1:30 o'clock by Mrs. Darwin S. Wolcott at her home in Frederick avenue, Sewickley. The affair was in honor of Mrs. Albert L. Richardson, who is visiting in the valley. Besides the honor guest there were present Mrs. John Culbertson, Mrs. Alexander Laughlin and Miss Catherine Lee Goldsborough. From this luncheon Mrs. Richardson went to Osborne as honor guest at a 4 o'clock tea given by Mrs. Charles McKnight.

Miller—Evans.

Miss Edith Miller and Gilbert Evans were married last evening at the country home of the bride's parents, at Irwin, Pa., the Rev. Peter Doerer officiating. The attendants were Miss Millie Miller, sister of the bride, and Curtis Welty of Irwin. About 60 guests were present. After the wedding supper the bride and groom left on an eastern tour.

GRAND FREE EXCURSION TO FEDERAL PLAN OF LOTS,

10th Ward, McKeesport, Pa.

THOUSANDS ARE GOING TO OPENING SALE TOMORROW.

Get Free Tickets today from Gault & Giffen, Agts., 316 Fourth Ave. A hundred irrefutable reasons prompt the far-sighted ones to go. This sale is the REAL opening of rich investment opportunities at McKeesport. It is Fortune's call to action.

FEDERAL PLAN IS BUT 5 MINUTES' WALK FROM THESE VAST INDUSTRIES.

And the Business Center of the City Is But a Step or Two Away.

This accessibility means that owners of Federal lots have the whole situation in their grasp; 20,000 men can work within sight of their homes, a condition impossible if Federal Plan was not ready for this market.

This splendid property, open to investors, becomes at once the logical home site for the thousands and thousands of men who are ready to buy, build or rent, but insist on doing so within easy walking distance of their work. Federal is the only plan that fills this demand. A thousand homes can spring up in its boundaries, and a thousand families stand eager and ready to occupy them. Check off the properties now open to this increasing population, and outside of Federal you'll find none but what is either too remote from the mills or too high priced for consideration. Can you think of any proposition more certain of large and rapid profits?

CHOICE LOTS, $100 AND UPWARDS.

5 per cent down on Lots $300 and over; 10 per cent on Lots under $300, balance 2 per cent monthly.
10 per cent discount for cash in 60 days.

Prices quoted are fully 40 per cent under what is now asked for less desirable lots.

Owners of Federal Plan were fortunate in securing it long before the great advance that came with the announcement of the big $10,000,000 Tube Plant. You cannot only buy where the investment is the surest, but you get your bargain 40 per cent under current prices. Remember that there are but 400 lots. So eager are the knowing ones to own at Federal Plan that active speculation on day of sale will turn your first payment, be it $10 or $20, into five times the investment. 46 of these lots are right on Fifth avenue, McKeesport's most important business street.

FEDERAL HAS ALL IMPROVEMENTS.

You don't have to wait for growth; you have a thriving city all around you. Churches, Schools, Finished Streets, Sewerage, Gas, Water, etc. The district immediately adjoining is built up solid with homes entirely modern. Near to the mills, but no smoke, another good feature at Federal Plan.

CONDITION OF MINES

Some Will Be Abandoned on Account of Flooding—Plenty of Work for All Men in Region in Few Days.

By WILLIAM L. ROSS.
Staff Correspondent.

Mahanoy City, Pa., Oct. 16.—Preparations by the hard coal producing railroads for the mining and transportation of the product immediately upon the return of the men to work were started today with renewed vigor. Of the 23,000 coal cars of the Reading half have been idle during the strike, and a large number has been in use in the soft coal region about Pittsburgh. The latter have all been recalled, and all are being centered at the various storage yards near the mines. Over 5,000 trainmen, who have for five months and over had nothing to do, have been notified that they will have employment in the course of a few days.

Before work is resumed it will be required by the state mining laws that the mines be carefully inspected by the authorized inspectors personally. In the Mahanoy valley the mines are in fairly good condition for the most part, but some are flooded and others are caved in at places. There will be work for all the men in restoring these mines at once to good condition.

Figuring on Output.

It is stated tonight by local mine officials that the normal product of 12,000 tons daily from this valley will be forthcoming in less than 10 days after the men return. To days after work is resumed there will be sufficient coal in the eastern cities to bring prices back almost to normal and thereafter the supply will be continuous.

Below is a report from official sources for each of the large companies:

Philadelphia & Reading—Number of collieries, 38. Nine are now working, 26 will resume within a week, but in eight or nine it will take four to five months to clear up the water. Five or six of these may be shut down altogether and the working force concentrated at some of the better producing mines. The company expects, within three weeks after work starts, to be producing its normal output.

Lehigh Coal & Navigation—Number of collieries, nine. Two are workin, six will be started in two or three days and one is rather badly damaged.

Delaware, Lackawanna & Western—Number of collieries, 22. Eleven are now working and the remaining 11 are in such good shape that all can be started within a week.

Delaware & Hudson—Number of collieries, 30. Five are now working, 16 will be started within a week and nine in from two weeks to a month.

Six Now Running.

New York, Ontario & Western—Number of collieries, 14. Six are now working and all can be started within a week.

Erie Coal Company—Number of collieries, 20. Three are now working; 14 will start within a week and three within a month.

Lehigh Valley Coal Company—Number of collieries, 21. Seven are gow working and 10 others will be started within a week, and the others in three weeks.

Temple Coal and Iron Company—Number of collieries, 8. Two are working and the other six can be started within a week.

Lehigh and Wilkesbarre Coal Company—Number of collieries, 11. Three are now working and the other eight can be started in 48 hours.

Susquehanna Coal Company—Number of collieries, 15. Five are working, and the others will be started in a week.

For the nine months of this year the anthracite coal companies have shipped 19,840,818 tons, as against 40,309,786 tons for the same time last year. This loss cannot be made up, as it is almost impossible for the coal companies to mine much over 5,060,000 tons a month. Last November and December the production was almost the maximum.

Condition of Big Five.

SCRANTON, PA., Oct. 16.—Of the 98 collieries operated by the Delaware, Lackawanna & Western, Delaware & Hudson, Temple, Erie & Ontario and Western companies, the five big "carriers" having headquarters here, only two, the Butler, at Pittston, and the Hallstead, at Duryea, which were allowed to flood, can not be reopened at once, by which is meant within a week from the time strike is declared off. At 44 of these places some work has been going on. At most of the others, men, the number of 40 in some instances, have been under ground for several weeks making repairs, cleaning up "falls," and cutting coal.

The fact that there are only 10,000 non-union men at work; that 10,000 of the 40,000 miners who have left the region or gone into other employment will never return to the mines, and the further fact that the collieries will be operated to their fullest capacity is certain to prevent any possibility of conflict arising between union and non-union men because of the one crowding out the other.

It can be expected, according to a hint dropped today by a local strike leader, that the union will endeavor to win over the non-unionists rather than force them out.

MISSING PEOPLE WANTED.

Police Asked to Make Search for Those Who Have Disappeared.

The Pittsburgh police were asked yesterday to locate several persons who are missing.

Edward B. McCleese, aged 60, a collector for Schible & Co., No. 312 Bijou building, has been missing since October 7. He is about 5 feet 6 inches tall, has a full grey beard and wore a dark blue serge suit; he has a defect of one eye.

Harriet Jones, a 15-year-old colored girl, has been missing from her home at No. 5220 Ellsworth avenue, since October 12. She wore a mixed blue skirt, blue hat and red waist.

Martin Dougherty, 11 years old, of East Pittsburgh, has been away from home since September 22. His mother is very ill, and the chief of police of Braddock requests that a diligent search be made for him. The boy is tall and slender, and wears a double-breasted coat, with knee pants.

Harry Blanchfield, 27 years old, of No. 111 Humboldt street, Knoxville, has only been missing since last Wednesday afternoon, but his folks are worried. He is a stationary engineer, and was last seen at the B. & O. station.

Strike Makes Trouble Locally.

Tenants of houses in the East End are having trouble to secure hard coal for furnaces. In that district landlords exact an agreement from tenants not to use soft coal, and as a result many will be compelled either to violate the agreement or to close a part of their houses until anthracite can be secured.

NO DEAL STOPPED K. OF L. LITIGATION

Hays Says Denny Faction Was Unable to Put Up the Funds for the Appeal.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
625 Fifteenth St., N. W.,
WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 16.

John W. Hayes, general secretary-treasurer of the Knights of Labor, was seen at headquarters this morning by The Gazette correspondent and asked to explain the alleged deal whereby the litigation between the two factions of the Knights had been abandoned. Mr. Hayes was surprised at the allegation that there had been a deal, and said:

"There is no deal. The Parsons faction simply abandoned the fight and the regular organization wins on the decision of the court made in May. Here are the exact facts in the case:

"Last May the courts upheld the regular organization. The other side immediately gave notice of an appeal and was advised that an appeal probably would cost $10,000, as there were at least 10,000 pages of testimony to be printed. However, they deposited $200 as evidence of good faith and engaged the services of an attorney, A. A. Hoeling, Jr., of this city, to make the appeal. Mr. Hoeling demanded $500 as his fee and they paid him $250 on account. In July, as his clients were not ready to file the $10,000 bond, Mr. Hoeling secured an extension until September 15, and on the latter day again secured an extension until October 15.

"Yesterday was the limit of the second extension and as his clients were not ready to proceed with the details of the appeal, Mr. Hoeling had the $200 paid over to him and abandoned the appeal. Thus the decision of the court, made in May, stands and is in favor of the regular organization."

"Do you know what was the real reason that caused the abandonment of the appeal?"

"Lack of the necessary funds. The Denny faction of window glass workers was behind Parsons and his associates in making the fight against us."

CHARLES W. METZGAR.

HONORED MINISTER.

West End Methodist Congregation Gave Farewell Reception to the Rev. G. W. Terbush.

The congregation of the West End Methodist Episcopal church gave a farewell reception to the Rev. G. W. Terbush at the church last night. Mr. Terbush, who has been pastor of the West End church for two years, left last night to assume his duties as presiding elder of the Allegheny district.

Superintendent of Sunday School John Weaver, on behalf of the congregation, presented to Mr. Trebush $50 in gold and to Mrs. Terbush a handsome collarette. Eulogistic speeches were made by the Rev. T. N. Boyle, presiding elder of the Pittsburgh district; the Rev. J. B. Thompson of the First United Presbyterian church, and the Rev. E. R. Donehoo of the West End Presbyterian church. Mr. Terbush made a fitting response.

The church was profusely decorated and beautiful solos were rendered by Mrs. Newton Parker, Miss Nellie Weaver and Miss Mazie Richards. At the conclusion of the reception the congregation and guests sat down to an elaborate collation.

MISSION WORKERS MEET.

Women of Methodist Protestant Church Received Greetings from Japan.

The Pittsburgh branch of the Woman's Foreign Missionary society of the Methodist Protestant church met yesterday in quarterly session at the Fourth Methodist Protestant church, East End. The morning session was presided over by Mrs. Cordelia J. Lewis. The report of the treasurer showed a balance of over $500. Harder work on the part of the members to keep the fund up was urged.

Mrs. C. E. Wilbur read several letters from the society's missionary, Olive Hodges, in which she stated that the foreign work was more than satisfactory. Miss Hodges is now at Yokohama, Japan.

It was proposed to send Olive Forrest to Yokohama to assist Miss Hodges, but this was not done at this time, because of the lack of necessary funds.

The attendance was fairly good, about 75 delegates being present from the 30 different branches.

Patrick's Band Together.

An organization, composed entirely of men who wear the christian name of Patrick, has been formed in Pittsburg. P. A. Rleards, a well-known Irish nationalist, of the Fifth ward, is credited with being the originator of the idea. The membership is limited to 200. To-day 600 applicants are on the waiting list. P. A. Regan was elected president and P. J. Leonard secretary. The details of the organization will be perfected at a meeting in Moorehead hall, October 26.

MINERS WILL BE WORKING IN WEEK

Secretary Dodds Says President Mitchell's Word Will Be Carried Out.

ROOSEVELT APPLAUDED

Arbitration Commission Members Meet the Universal Approval of Pittsburgh Labor Leaders.

Pittsburgh labor leaders who were interviewed yesterday are unanimous in the opinion that the commission appointed by President Roosevelt to arrange for the settlement of the mining strike has been selected with the undoubted intention of fair dealing with both operators and miners, and will bring about an early resumption of work in the mines.

Vice President Uriah Bellingham of the United Mine Workers said:

"The president has undoubtedly used his knowledge and judgment to have fair-minded men on the commission, and they should be satisfactory to the miners. The demands of the miners are conceded in several particulars, as it recognizes Mitchell's ability to have the findings of the commission accepted on their part, and it follows precedent in extending the eight-hour day in the government shops to the mines, one of the principal contentions.

Dodds Approves Commission.

William Dodds, secretary of the United Mine Workers, said: "I have nothing to say against the composition of the commission. I know only two of the members, Bishop Spaulding of Peoria and E. E. Clark, grand chief of the Order of Railroad Conductors, and they are both friends of organized labor. The other men I know by reputation, and I have no reason to doubt their honesty and fairness.

"The whole matter is now in such shape that I believe that all the miners in the district will be at work by next Wednesday. Of course the strike cannot be legally declared off until after a convention of the delegates from the different unions has so decided, but the men can go to work pending the action of this convention.

"I have no fears that the miners will not approve of any action that Mitchell and the other officers take, and I am satisfied that the resumption of work will be permanent. Mitchell is the representative of all those miners. They have elected him to that position and he is authorized to act for them as their representative and attorney, and they will do as he advises.

Thinks Congress Will Act.

"It is my opinion that congress will take some action to prevent the recurrence of another such condition of affairs by the appointment of a board of arbitration."

M. F. Tighe, secretary of the Amalgamated association, said that he believed that the commission was composed of fair, men and as the miners only wanted justice there was little probability of the commission's failing to make an equitable settlement.

Duncan McDonald, general organizer of the United Mine Workers, is well satisfied. "The commission seems to be selected from the ablest men in the country," he said, "and they are likely to handle the questions without prejudice. The appointment of Bishop Spaulding is especially pleasing to me, as he has a record for his liberal expressions on all public questions, and is particularly familiar with the industrial conditions of the country. I feel satisfied that the president has made his selections wisely and with the intention of serving the interests of the whole country."

HOLDING TEMPERANCE RALLY.

G. L. Wharton of Hiram College Addresses Disciples of Christ Convention.

OMAHA, Oct. 16.—Probably 1,500 delegates to the national convention of the Disciples of Christ arrived today.

The big temperance rally planned for at the convention in Minneapolis last year, which began last night, was continued today under the leadership of W. H. Boles of Alma, Ill. Among the speakers was G. D. Wharton of Hiram college (Ohio), his address being on "The Liquor Traffic in Foreign Countries."

Rhododendron Park and Return.

Saturday, October 18, Pennsylvania railroad will run their autumn excursion to Rhododendron park, leaving Union station at 8.05 a. m., stopping at East Liberty, Wilkinsburg, Braddock, Turtle Creek, Wilmerding, etc. Rate, $3 round trip, tickets good to stop off at Altoona on the return trip, and good to return until the 20th.

LABOR LEADERS WILL TAKE A HAND

Most Prominent Trade-Unionists Organize to Aid Pennypacker.

BELLINGHAM AT HEAD

Object of the Organization Is to Work for the Election of the Republican State Ticket and Expose "Muddy Waterites."

The Amalgamated Labor league was formed in Pittsburgh last night. The object is to advance the interests of the Republican state ticket and to expose the attempts of alleged labor leaders who are endeavoring to aid Grimes' "Muddy Water" party.

The labor leaders of the county held a meeting at the hall of the United Mine Workers of America. The Amalgamated Labor league was formed, and it is composed entirely of representatives of organized labor, as the list of officials will show. The following are the officers:

President, Uriah Bellingham, vice president of the United Mine Workers of America; vice president, John Pierce, organizer of the Amalgamated association; secretary, Paul J. Peter, secretary of the Window Glass Workers; executive committee, C. E. Winslow, Simon Burns, W. B. Wilson, A. J. Duffy, C. L. Langlands, Uriah Bellingham; committee on speakers and meetings, Paul St. Peter, M. F. Tighe, John Fernau, William Boate and C. E. Whitesides. There is also to be a general committee to consist of two members from each trades union in the county.

This statement was issued by the league last night:

The organization has been carefully planned, and it has been the endeavor of those in charge to have a truly representative labor organization to assist in the election of Judge Samuel W. Pennypacker, and to expose many of the theories advanced by the so-called "Muddy Water" party and its adherents, who are striving to elect a man as governor who has always shown himself to be an enemy of organized labor, but whose record in the Homestead strike, in the vetoing of the educational bill, in the vetoing of the mechanics' lien law, and in the signing of other measures, has forever placed himself under the bane and continued displeasure of those who have the true interests of labor at heart.

The movement is especially directed against those mercenaries who pose as labor leaders, but who in reality are not stand in line light of investigation without showing that their interest has been entirely selfish and for personal gain.

Policeman Kelly in Trouble.

At a hearing given J. E. Hensler, colored, yesterday morning, by Magistrate McGarey, Mrs. Taylor, of No. 921 Bedford avenue, charged that Policeman A. J. Kelly, who arrested Hensler, was drunk and gave the latter a terrible beating with his mace. She testified that when bystanders tried to interfere Policeman Kelly said, "Let me kill him; he's only a negro." Supt. McAleese had the magistrate postpone the hearing until 10 o'clock this morning, so that other witnesses could be secured.

FAVOR RECIPROCITY.

Implement Dealers and Manufacturers Discuss Subject With Enthusiasm.

MINNEAPOLIS, Oct. 16.—At today's session of the national convention of Implement Dealers and Vehicle Manufacturers the subject of reciprocity was interestingly and enthusiastically discussed.

The election resulted: Martin Kingman, Peoria, Ill., president; O. W. Johnson, Racine, Wis., first vice president; F. E. Myers, Ashland, O., chairman executive committee; Robert H. Foos, Springfield, O., treasurer. The association will meet at Cleveland next year.

Boarding-House Looted.

A Slavish boarding house, conducted by Mike Closoc, at No. 10 Forge street, Rankin, was entered by two negro burglars, early yesterday morning, and Closoc and his wife, at the point of a revolver, were compelled to tell where $50 was concealed. After securing the money, which was hidden under the bed, the negroes ransacked the house and secured small amounts of money from the pockets of the boarders' clothing.

ANOTHER VISIT TO COKE REGION

Pennypacker Party Takes a Trolley Ride Through Abodes of Prosperity.

TWO GREAT RECEPTIONS

Workmen Too Busy to Attend Meetings Line Up Before Mills and Ovens and Cheer the Next Governor and Senator Penrose.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

Mt. Pleasant, Pa., Oct. 16.—From the stalwart stronghold of the "frosty sons of thunder," old Somerset, the Pennypacker gubernatorial party today went through miles of blazing coke ovens and roaring furnaces, and met the "brawny sons of fire" in hustling old Westmoreland. The reception of Pennypacker, Brown and Penrose was a fitting climax to the four-days tour of this wonderful section of Pennsylvania.

A trolley ride from Connellsville to Scottdale was broken by such a reception in busy Scottdale as is generally accorded only to victors and benefactors. The shrill whistle of the busy mills; the respectful lines of brawny workmen drawn up in front of the great industrial establishments, who were too busy to attend the meeting; the cheers of the crowds which lined the busy streets, and the applause of the crowd of earnest workmen who gathered in the opera house just before going on their o'clock shift at the steel mills, made this an eventful day in the campaign, and should be an object lesson for the Pattison men who will invade this territory tomorrow.

Scottdale Ovation Repeated.

At the Hill house there was a reception followed by a big meeting in the opera house, over which ex-Representative J. R. Byrne presided, and which vigorously applauded Candidates Pennypacker, Brown and Huff, and rang in a cheer for Senator Penrose. The reception later in the day at Mt. Pleasant was a repetition of the enthusiasm at Scottdale.

A special train whirled the candidates here from Scottdale, and the party was met at the depot by half the population, and two open trolley cars, decorated with red, white and blue streamers, one of which received the gubernatorial party and the other a brass band. From the platforms of both cars hundreds of Roman candles and dozens of packs of firecrackers were exploded.

Another big reception was held at the National hotel, where the party was quartered for the night, while the streets were ablaze with fireworks and noisy with the tooting of horns, the entire stock of which Col. George F. Huff, candidate for congress, had purchased from a dealer here and handed out to the boys and girls.

Then followed another great meeting in the opera house, over which Lawyer John D. Hinchman presided and at which ex-Judge Pennypacker, ex-Senator Brown, Senator Penrose, ex-District Attorney Schaffer of Delaware county, Col. Ned Arden Flood and Col. Huff again spoke amid enthusiastic demonstrations of approval.

The Reception Committee.

The entire county was represented by the harmonious leaders of both old factions. Conspicuous in the reception committee were County Chairman Joseph Kenney, ex-State Treasurer James S. Beacon, Samuel Aultman, James Trimble, Dr. W. H. Fetter, ex-Representative J. R. Byrne, W. S. Cox, W. T. Carroll, Joseph E. Snead, J. J. B. Wall, Howard Robinson, C. D. Reid, John A. Stephenson, J. B. Colesmith, Capt. Frank Morrison, James Shey, D. Edwards and J. Sterman.

Judge Pennypacker said that all through the western part of the state he had noticed features common to all of those communities—earnest, vigorous, busy people; laborers all employed; employers all making money; things prosperous and a happy and contented set of people. Continuing, he said:

It is very difficult to argue the question with our Democratic friends. They really don't care to discuss any of the issues or principles that arise in the campaign. On these subjects their mouths are closed. All that they do tell you represents a low, monotonous and lugubrious wail of complaint. They are sad.

Now, really, and the very best argument—and we hardly need to argue it—is to point out to you just what you see around you everywhere. Those of our party who have been traveling over the railroads through the state have found all the trains late; have found all the business places at work. We are told here that many men who would attend are busy in their factories. This represents the condition of things all over the country. That means that you are in the midst of prosperous and happy times; but what the Democrats apparently desire to do, is to change all this.

In reality, they would like to have their candidate for governor elected with a view to impressing upon the people of the country elsewhere that Pennsylvania has gone backward in her Republican faith, and thereby gain control of the affairs of the country.

Pattison and Cleveland.

Ex-Senator Brown, referring to the talk about tariff revision, said:

I see that Grover Cleveland has emerged from his obscurity and is again talking tariff reform. Do you remember, away back in 1882, when Pattison was a candidate for governor, Cleveland was then talking tariff reform? And you remember that in 1890, when Pattison was again a candidate for governor Cleveland was the chief exponent and loudest proclaimer of tariff reform. Isn't it a singular coincidence that the same man is running for governor of Pennsylvania and Cleveland the same man in New York is proclaiming the same doctrine as before? Don't you know that Robert E. Pattison always has been, and is now, the same free trader, and that he was such back in 1882?

There was a hearty cheer for Senator Penrose when Mr. Brown, referring to the proposed settlement of the anthracite coal strike, said:

When the brave, manly, vigorous Roosevelt, seconded by Senators Quay, Penrose and by O'Bill and Platt, took hold of this question, it was not long until a rift came in the clouds and today we see sunlight shining through it. We hope that that cloud has gone away forever; that industrial peace shall reign, that you boys in this part of the country, who are working in coal, will no longer have to contribute a part of your wages to maintain the strike in the anthracite region. All honor to the politicians; all honor to the brave president who has opened the gate of the great storehouse of coal, so that there may be no suffering.

Prediction by Penrose.

After the applause had subsided Senator Penrose was introduced amid renewed applause. Senator Penrose made a strong argument in favor of electing the entire Republican ticket so as to insure not only a Republican governor, but a Republican congress and a Republican senate through a Republican legislature, in conclusion he said:

Judge Pennypacker will be your next governor by a majority of over 200,000. There was one cloud upon the political sky, the unfortunate industrial disturbance in the anthracite region. No voice was raised in the effort to bring about an honorable settlement of that controversy except Republican voices. They were raised insistently and firmly, and to them is largely due the happy result. You men will rejoice with those men in Eastern Pennsylvania, because it was through your generosity, your bounty, your regularly-paid contributions, that they were enabled to be supplied at least with the necessaries of life during that long struggle. Therefore, with them, the victory is yours.

Strong addresses earnestly applauded were made also by Col. George F. Huff, District Attorney W. I. Schaffer of Delaware county and Col. Ned Arden Flood of Crawford county.

The party will leave here for Pittsburgh tomorrow morning and meet the voters of Armstrong county at Kittanning tomorrow night.

NOLAN VERY BLUNTLY GIVES HIS PARTY AWAY

He Admits in Stump Speech He Does Not Expect to Be Elected This Fall.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Public Ledger Building.
PHILADELPHIA, PA., Oct. 16.

"I do not expect to be elected, am not an orator, and made the most of my money under the Cleveland administration."

This was the startling declaration of James Nolan, Democratic candidate for secretary of internal affairs, at the Keystone hall seance tonight. Gov. Pattison was stunned. Mr. Guthrie elevated his glasses so that he could better focus the man who had turned state's evidence. There was a pained hush, and for a moment the sparse bunch of Democrats down in front waited for the speaker to name Pennypacker's majority.

Gov. Pattison also was game. He didn't drop a period, or skip a comma of his stereotyped speech.

"I would not undo a single act of mine, no, not one," he shouted.

Then Mr. Guthrie was given a chance. Mr. Guthrie still feels grieved that the last legislature failed to pass a legislative and senatorial apportionment bill. He admitted that Judge Pennypacker had explained the matter in a recent speech, but he refused to be comforted.

Another effort was made in Textile hall. The audience, though small, refused to be boisterous. Here Nolan failed to anticipate defeat. He had been admonished.

Col. J. M. Guffey was "at home" to his friends today at the Continental hotel. He is a better drawing card than his candidates, for state audiences. Probably 100 men from all parts of the state paid their respects to the colonel. He had a very busy session and left for Pittsburgh at 9 o'clock.

CHARLES D. POTTER.

OSCAR THE GREAT IS COMING HERE

The Warldorf-Astoria Autocrat Contemplates a Trip of Inspection to Pittsburgh.

The great and only Oscar, he who presides over the cuisine of the Waldorf-Astoria in New York, who stands close to statesmen, captains of finance and merchant princes, who is recognized by royalty when it comes to this country, whose recognition of anybody carries with it a mark of distinction, who is known to all the rounders and whom those who would like to be considered as rounders strive to know—this somewhat celebrated individual is expected in Pittsburgh in a few days.

Oscar is coming here to pass upon the appointments of the new Union club, which is to have palatial quarters on the top floor of the Frick building, and the Union restaurant, to be established in the basement of that wonderful building.

Oscar is interested because William Urbauer, who is to be the presiding genius of the culinary departments and wine vaults of the club and restaurant, was before coming to Pittsburgh one of his trusted lieutenants at the Waldorf-Astoria. He left Oscar to come to the Frick building. He has been in this country a comparatively short time, but as a result of being in a position where he, in company with Oscar, could tickle men's palates and be in turn tickled with their investment tips, he is said to have a very comfortable bank account.

PRINCE IS DEMOCRATIC.

Henry of Prussia Carries Water, Talks in Low German and Mingles With Workmen.

BERLIN, Oct. 16.—Incidents illustrating Prince Henry's democratic ways are coming from correspondents all along the route of his automobile trip to Darmstadt, where he arrived today. When the boiler of his machine was refilled at Holzendorf the prince carried four or five buckets of water himself from the pump and talked in the low German dialect with the wife of the inn-keeper.

While staying over night with the automobile repairer at Siegberg the prince revealed his identity. He remarked that Emperor William would have a good laugh over his adventures, and shook hands with the workmen in the shop.

SHOOK FIST IN PREMIER'S FACE

Attack Upon Balfour by John O'Donnell in Parliment Yesterday.

IRISHMAN IS SUSPENDED

Exciting Scenes Follow the Opening of the English House of Commons—Serious Party Struggle Is Promised.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

London, Oct. 16.—During an exciting scene in the house of commons today, Premier Balfour moved the suspension of John O'Donnell, and the latter crossed the floor, stood in front of Mr. Balfour, shouted defiance and shook his fist in the premier's face. Mr. O'Donnell was suspended by a vote of 341 to 51.

Parliament was reopened today without any of the usual formalities, the house proceeding immediately to the business of the day. Owing to the controversial character of the education bill, and the unbending determination of both sides, the session promises to be the occasion of the most serious party struggle witnessed in the house of commons since the last general government retired from office.

The sitting opened with a turbulent debate. Premier Balfour moved that the remainder of the session be entirely devoted to government business, which, he explained, would consist mainly of the discussion of the education and London water bills.

Patrick O'Brien, sitting in the place usually occupied by John Redmond, the Irish leader in the house, asked that at least a day between now and Christmas be devoted to the discussion of the serious state of affairs in Ireland.

Mr. Balfour replied that if the request for such an opportunity came from the Liberal leaders the government would grant it, but they could not notice it from the Irish party.

William O'Brien thereupon made an impassioned speech, warning the house that Ireland was on the verge of revolt. The constitution, he said, was practically suspended, and now the members were gagged in the only parliament they had.

Ultimately Mr. Balfour moved the closure, and the uproar broke out again with renewed vigor. John O'Donnell stood up and refused to give way to the speaker. His fellow Nationalists shouted encouragement and cheered vigorously. The speaker repeatedly warned Mr. O'Donnell that he was out of order, and an exciting scene followed.

Mr. Balfour moved the suspension of Mr. O'Donnell and the latter made his attack upon the premier, which resulted in suspension.

Parliament Member Sentenced.

SLIGO, IRELAND, Oct. 16.—P. A. McHugh, M. P., editor of the Sligo Champion, was sentenced today to two months' imprisonment at hard labor, after having been convicted of conspiracy and intimidation. McHugh entered an appeal and was admitted to bail.

VOLCANO SUFFERERS ANGRY.

They Resent Governor's Efforts to Deport Them and Ask His Removal.

KINGSTON, ST. VINCENT, Oct. 16.—At a meeting of volcano sufferers of all classes, including Carib Indians, resolutions denouncing Sir Robert Llewellyn, British governor of the Windward Islands, and calling for his removal, were adopted. The governor is characterized as obstinate, cruel and arbitrary.

Gov. Llewellyn has been trying to induce the sufferers to emigrate to Jamaica, threatening them with deprivation of relief and alleging that the government is without means to provide lands for them. This allegation is flatly contradicted by the resolutions, which point out that the government is holding in trust for the people a sum of money sufficient not only to acquire the lands necessary, but to assist in restoring the industries of the colony.

It is also charged in the preambles that "while many of these people have been starving, large quantities of the supplies contributed by the American government for relief have been gradually shipped from the colonies, and other supplies lie rotting in storerooms."

PRESIDENT TO VISIT EX-PRESIDENT'S HOME.

PRINCETON, N. J., Oct. 16.—The announcement was made tonight that President Roosevelt will be entertained at the home of ex-President Cleveland if his health will allow him to attend the inauguration of President Woodrow Wilson on October 25.

SHENANDOAH MINERS NOT ALL SATISFIED

Their Chief Objection Is to Going to Work With Non-Union Men.

By GIBBONS M. MARSH,
Staff Correspondent.

SHENANDOAH, PA., Oct. 16.—The miners here are of the opinion there is little prospects of an immediate settlement being effected. Tonight they were informed one of the conditions they would be compelled to abide by would be to work with the non-union men already working in the mines. They positively say they will not do this, even though solicited by the officers of their organizations. Before the union coal diggers will agree to return to work the non-union men will have to vacate the mines.

There is a great deal of comment tonight in the streets with reference to the conference among the miners at Wilkesbarre on Monday. The conference will be a stubborn one. Many of the representatives to the special convention are willing to relinquish some of the concessions they demanded when they left the mines. The miners will not tolerate any such agreement made with the commission.

General quietude reigned in the borough of Shenandoah today. While several thousand miners gathered in the streets they were orderly. It was anticipated that there would be some disorder at the hearing of August Remus, who was arrested for participating in the shooting affray on Wednesday night at the Philadelphia and Reading railroad station. Information was made against him for felonious shooting, and he was arraigned before Justice William Shoemaker and held for court.

While the hearing was in progress about 1,000 miners gathered about the squire's office. Guards were summoned and ordered the miners away. They obeyed, displaying no bitterness. The other men arrested for this affray were discharged.

Andy Pekulki, who was cut and seriously injured by Peter Wallaridge on Wednesday night, is still confined in the miners' hospital at Ashland and is expected to die. Wallaridge was committed to jail for court at a hearing tonight.

Brig. Gen. J. A. Wiley will come here tomorrow to inspect the camp of the Eighteenth. Col. Rutledge had a map made of the location of the camp, which will be given to Gen. Wiley, showing the water lines and the connections with the adjoining railroads.

Lieut. Cratty was detailed to make a scout among the hills surrounding the camping grounds in search for speakeasies. A resort known among the miners as "Congress Hollow" was raided by Lieut. Cratty and three members of the Eighteenth were found in the place. The men were placed in the guard house and the proprietor of the resort warned not to give or sell whisky to any men in uniform.

THE TWO VOLCANOES AGAIN IN FULL PLAY

Darkness Caused by Volcanic Dust from La Soufriere Stops Business.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

BRIDGETOWN, BARBADOES, Oct. 16.—Volcanic dust from the Soufriere volcano, on the island of St. Vincent, is falling here and has caused a stoppage of business. Shopkeepers are closing their stores and returning to their homes. It was so dark at 10 o'clock this morning that it was necessary to light lamps.

KINGSTON, ST. VINCENT, Oct. 16.—There was a slight eruption of the Soufriere volcano between 8 and 9 o'clock last night and it increased to a full eruption at 4 o'clock this morning, lasting until 4:30 a. m. It was accompanied by a fall of coast sand.

BASSE-TERRE, GUADELOUPE, Oct. 16.—Between midnight and 3 o'clock this morning loud detonations were heard and glimmering lights were seen in the direction of Martinique.

There were two earthquakes yesterday at Les Saintes islands, off the southern extremity of Guadeloupe, and at Maria Galante island, south-southeast of Guadeloupe.

A Rare Musical Event.

By request the concert for the benefit of the Sisters of the Good Shepherd, November 11, in Carnegie Music hall, will afford an opportunity of hearing works performed which are seldom given. Palestrina, who has been called the prince of music, is known historically to many people, but his works and their character are unfamiliar, principally on account of the difficulty of their performance. On this occasion the choir of St. Paul's cathedral, incressed to about 40 members, will interpret "O Bone Jesu," the "Kyrie," "Sanctus" and "Benedictus" from the celebrated "Missa Papae Marcelli," of the great master, besides many other capella compositions. The Pittsburgh orchestra will take part in the program.

Ida Carter's Body Found.

JEFFERSONVILLE, IND., Oct. 16.—The body of Mrs. James T. Kelly, leading woman of the "King Pong-Pong" theatrical company, who was drowned in the Ohio last Friday, has been found. Mrs. Kelly's stage name was Ida Carter. She jumped from a steamer into the river.

DIFFICULT TASK TO HOLD FIELDS

New Castle People Believe Sufficient Evidence Is Lacking.

M'CLAREN KEEPS SILENT

Prosecutor in the Latest Blevins Murder Sensation Says He Would Not Tell His Wife What He Knows of the Case.

By WALTER J. CHRISTY,
Staff Correspondent.

New Castle, Pa., Oct. 16.—It is the general impression here that the authorities will find it a hard task to secure sufficient evidence to hold Frank J. Fields for the murder of John Blevins. Charles M. McClaren, the prosecutor, is silent, but doing a large amount of thinking. He says that he would not even tell his wife what he knows.

James A. Wakefield, attorney for Fields, today employed ex-Judge J. Norman Martin to assist in defending the Pittsburgher. He is one of the leading members of the Lawrence county bar and has a vast fund of information of his own concerning the Blevins murder. In his opinion, the prosecution does not have a case, and he is ready to force the hand of District Attorney Mehard. He will first ask that the hearing be changed from Wednesday until Monday. After the hearing, if Fields is held to await the action of the grand jury, habeas corpus proceedings will be instituted to secure the release of the prisoner on bail. A New Castle trust company is ready to go on the bond of Fields. The ex-judge appears to be ready to give the entire case the fullest airing possible.

Defense Loses a Point.

The defense will be unable to show that Judson Field was in the Lawrence county jail when the murder was committed on the night of January 7, 1899. The records were found in the prothonotary's office today. Judson Fields was committed to jail January 2, 1900, charged by George Von Berg of Enon Valley with horse stealing. Squire S. D. Siemmons of Enon Valley was the committing magistrate. On the night of February 9, 1900, with two other prisoners, Fields walked out of the prison.

District Attorney Mehard was not at his office today and it was said that he had gone to Pittsburgh to make an investigation of his own about the character of Frank J. Fields. Squire Gilliland, who issued the warrant for Fields, says that he has no other warrants for anyone connected with the Blevins murder. "From the appearance of Fields," said he, "it is hard for me to believe that he is guilty of murder."

McClaren did not rise until late this morning and did not appear to be in the most amiable mood. He is considered the American "Sherlock Holmes," but Chief Horner says that to his knowledge this is the first detective work McClaren has done. He has made a living painting houses, and will probably stick to the brush in the future.

McClaren Keeping Quiet.

McClaren refused to discuss the case. When asked if he knew H. R. Peak of Gorham, Kas., the painter-detective declared that they were old friends. When pressed for information as to whether Judson Fields had really died, he carefully weighed the question and decided that he would produce any proof that he might have in the court. The district attorney said yesterday that he had no proof that Judson Fields is dead.

John G. McConaghey, who drew the information for McClaren, is not positive that he will act as counsel in the case. He admitted today that when he drew the paper charging Fields with murder he did not know what evidence McClaren had in his possession. It was said that McConaghey was present when Fields was "sweated." He denies this and says that, while he was invited, it is not in his line to get information from defendants.

Malcolm McConnell and C. H. Akens, the committee appointed by councils to investigate the Blevins murder, said today that they had nothing to do with the prosecution brought by McClaren. Mr. McConnell said it was a very serious thing to charge a man with murder unless the evidence warranted it. He remarked that Representative Thomas Kennedy of New Brighton had telephoned him this morning that he had known Fields since childhood and was certain a mistake had been made.

Mr. Akens does not place much confidence in the Peak confession. He says that his committee virtually had the same confession, but did not think it reliable. In all correspondence with Peak the Kansas man endeavored to prove that his own character was all right.

WILL TRY TO PROVE ALIBI FOR FIELDS

Attorney Wakefield Is Confident He Can Establish One—Brothers Were Not Unfriendly.

Attorney Wakefield returned yesterday to his office in the Frick building, and spent the afternoon in consultation with Frank Ruff, Fields' partner. Mr. Wakefield is almost certain he can prove an alibi for his client.

Mr. Wakefield said he would not be able to secure Fields' freedom before next week. It will require several days to bring Peak from Kansas. Peak will be the star witness for the prosecution. In the opinion of Wakefield, the Lawrence county authorities have a weak case, and the fact that they caused a man's arrest without obtaining proof of Judson Fields' death has excited derision among the friends of the imprisoned man.

Judson Fields was a shiftless man, and frequently borrowed money from his relatives, but it is declared that he had made no recent requests on Frank J. Fields, and they had always been on comparatively friendly terms.

Frank J. Fields has kept in communication with his family in Pittsburgh, and his wife has been assured that her husband will soon return.

W. C. T. U. Convention Today.

PORTLAND, ME., Oct. 16.—Everything is in readiness for the opening of the national W. C. T. U. convention tomorrow. 300 state delegates today joining those who came earlier in the week. Several public meetings were held in churches during the day.

AN UNUSUAL OPPORTUNITY FOR THE CAREFUL INVESTOR

Stock of the United States Bankers' Corporation Offered at Par

It is a very common complaint of the investor of small means that he does not have an equal chance of safe, sound and profitable investment with those whose financial means are considerably greater than his own. The good things are quietly taken over by syndicates, and the stock only reaches the smaller investor when it carries a considerable premium over the price at which it was originally offered.

Doubtless there is some ground for this complaint. It is much harder to find safe and profitable investment for $500 than it is for $5,000.

But there is another fact also to be considered. The small investor is not generally as quick to see and seize a good opportunity of investment as the man of larger means and probably larger experience.

These reflections are suggested by the unusual offering of a limited amount of the stock of the United States Bankers' Corporation at par. This Company, organized with a capital of $6,000,000, purposes to establish trust and deposit banks in forty or more of the chief cities of the United States. It intends to hold a controlling interest in each trust company it establishes. It has the advantage of a new and special system of banking facilities for building up a large and profitable business possessed by no trust company organizations heretofore. It is strongly organized and ably officered. In pursuance of its policy of distribution rather than concentration of stock, it offers its shares to the public at large for subscription, its minimum subscription of ten shares at par, $10.00 per share, amounting to $100.00, giving an opportunity for the smallest investor. And yet the probabilities are that the bulk of this issue of stock will find its way into the hands of country bankers and men who deal in finance, rather than of the general public which meantime is looking anxiously for a safe and profitable investment.

Perhaps the reason for this is not far to seek. The practical financier, familiar with the names of the great financial leaders, will at once recognize that the United States Bankers' Corporation, with John G. Carlisle, ex-secretary of the treasury, and other well-known men on its directorate, must be a sound and important organization. They will naturally investigate the Corporation's proposition, and as naturally secure promptly for themselves an interest in so great and profitable an undertaking.

It may however that may be, it would seem that the opportunity for the small investor, offered by the United States Bankers' Corporation, is so rare and unusual that it should at least attract prompt inquiry as to the Corporation's plans and prospects.

For the information of investors a pamphlet has been prepared giving detailed information as to the plan and scope of the Corporation. This may be obtained at the offices of the Corporation, New York Life Building, New York City. Specific inquiries by letter or telegram will be answered as speedily as the pressure of business permits.

NINE COLUMNS ON THE BALLOT

Its Arrangement Completed by the Dauphin County Court Decisions.

UNION PARTY DROPPED

Nominations of Both Factions Declared Invalid—Tickets of Other Organizations Were Pronounced Legal.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

Harrisburg, Pa., Oct. 16.—The Union party will be deprived of a column on the official ballot by a decision of the Dauphin county court. The court decides, in an opinion written by Judge Simonton and filed today, that the certificates of the state candidates of both the Pennypacker and Pattison factions are invalid, on the ground that neither convention was legally organized.

The Pattison faction recently filed nomination papers in the state department for its candidates, but these have been rejected by Secretary Griest because they do not contain sufficient signatures.

The decision in the Union party case, and a number of other contests decided by the court today, will enable the state department to prepare the official form of the ballot and certify the nominations to county commissioners without further delay.

Nine Columns in the Ballot.

The ballot will be about two feet wide and will be one of the largest ever voted in Pennsylvania. It will contain nine columns—eight parties and one blank. The order in which the party columns will appear upon the ballot are: Republican, Democratic, Prohibition, Socialist-Labor, Socialist, Citizens, Anti-Machine and Ballot Reform.

The attempt of the Allegheny county ring to weaken legislative fusion in the First, Second, Fourth, Sixth and Eighth legislative districts and the Forty-second and Forty-fourth senatorial districts of Allegheny county is effectually disposed of in an order by Judge Weiss sustaining the nominations by the Democrats of the Citizens candidate in these districts. The court also sustains the nominations by the Citizens of Benjamin F. Anderson and Samuel L. Mawhinney for the assembly in the Third Allegheny district.

Judge Weiss states in his order, which is very brief, that the objections raised by the ring under rule 9 of the Democratic party in Allegheny county do not show a sufficient variance in the provisions of the rule from the construction placed upon rule 11 in the decision declaring valid the nominations by the Democrats of the Citizens candidates for congress in Allegheny county to warrant an adjudication that the certificates of the candidates for the assembly are invalid.

Other Nominations Upheld.

Judge Weiss also sustains the nominations of the regular Democratic state candidates by the Grimes-Flinn Ballot Reform party and the Anti-Machine party. The certificates of the Anti-Machine candidates for congress, orphans' court judge, senator and assemblymen in Allegheny county, the Union party candidates for assembly in Bedford and Lebanon counties and the anti-machine candidates for assembly in Cambria county are declared valid.

The court will hand down an opinion tomorrow in the Lackawanna county congressional contest. Congressman Connell, the regular Republican nominee, and George W. Howell, Democrat, both claim the Democratic nomination. It is thought the court will throw out both certificates. This will leave the Democrats without a candidate and assure Connell's election.

FOR MUNICIPAL THEATERS.

Henry Irving Says City Ownership Would Improve Shows.

MANCHESTER, Oct. 16.—Speaking at the lord mayor's luncheon today Sir Henry Irving urged the need for municipal theaters, which, he said, "would encourage the state of things opposed to high kicking and other discreditable performances."

He agreed with the bishop of Ripon, in the belief that the weariness in villages arising from lack of healthy entertainment was driving people to the cities. If the municipalities controlled some theaters people would have better views of life in these sordid times.

La Fleur, being of an ultra grade, none is sold without first passing the judgment of our expert corsetier.

Demonstrations are given daily in the second floor Corset Department.

PENN AND FIFTH.

Society

WITHIN the beautiful music room of "The Maples" last evening was solemnized the wedding of Miss Sarah Elizabeth Gillespie, daughter of Mrs. A. S. Gillespie, and Robert Wray. It was one of the prettiest and most exquisitely appointed ceremonies ever seen in Pittsburgh. The white and gold music room, extending along one side of the stately Magee mansion in Forbes street, Oakland, placed at the disposal of the bride by her aunt, Mrs. C. L. Magee, was decorated with a profusion of regal palms, massed upon the dais at the farther end of the concert room, while smilax and graceful trailing vines formed a dark tracery about the snowy columns supporting the entrance. Clustered pink and white chrysanthemums added to the beauty and richness of the artistic ensemble. Tall palms and ferns appeared throughout the drawing room, the library and the large entrance hall, and roses and chrysanthemums completed the decorative scheme.

The bride, a member of an old and well-known family, prominent in the social and business life of Pittsburgh, was given away by her brother-in-law, George W. Darr, formerly of this city, but now living in New York. She was attended by a group of maids, the large bridal party being effectively grouped before the low dais in the music room, while the ceremony was performed by the Rev. Robert J. Young, pastor of the First Methodist Protestant church in Shadyside. The hour was 7:30 o'clock. The bridal party gathered on the second floor, and descending the wide staircase, was ushered into the music room by two little flower girls, Miss Elizabeth Dravo and Miss Dorothy Dravo, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Horace Dravo. They carried the ribbons which formed the broad aisle through which the bridal party passed. The ushers were Thomas Watson and Robert Sutton, cousins of the bridegroom; Mr. Elmer of Altoona and Marquis Stone. The two bride's maids, Miss Eva Stoner and Miss Lucy Hay, followed by the two maids of honor, Miss Eleanor McCallam and Miss Elsie Metcalf, preceded the bride, who entered with Mr. Darr.

The gowns of the bride and her maids were beautiful in their simplicity. The bride wore a princess dress of white peau de spang, a new material, which was fashioned with a full court train, lined with tiny ruffles of chiffon and lace. The bodice was almost covered with pointe lace. The bridal veil of tulle, reaching to the edge of the train, was fastened with a half coronet of orange blossoms. In her hand she carried a shower bouquet of lilies of the valley. The attending maids wore dainty gowns of white chiffon and lace, with demi-train. Short Cupid veils of pink tulle floated over their shoulders, and in their arms they carried clusters of pink chrysanthemums.

Supper was served at small tables in the dining room, the breakfast room and the adjoining apartments. The bride's tables, at which the bridal party sat, was decorated entirely in white and green, while pink blossoms with graceful ferns adorned the other tables.

During the evening Mr. and Mrs. Wray left on their wedding trip. They will return in a couple of weeks and will be at home Wednesdays in November at No. 916 St. James street, Shadyside.

Mr. Wray is vice president of the Brown-Zortman Machine Company.

The absence of Mrs. C. L. Magee, who has decided to spend the winter in Rome, was regretted. Her sister, Mrs. Warrington Warwick, presided over "The Maples" and was assisted by a sister of the bride, Mrs. George W. Darr, who came on from New York last week. It was originally intended to have the wedding at the Gillespie homestead at Evergreen.

Mueller—Willetts.

Distinctively novel in many of its appointments was the wedding last night of Miss Edna Mueller and Dr. Joseph Ellwood Willetts. It took place at the home of the bride's father, John H. Mueller, in Dithridge street, Bellefield, the ceremony being performed at 7 o'clock by the Rev. Frank T. Sneed, pastor of the East Liberty Presbyterian church, assisted by the Rev. Dr. Kennedy of Allegheny. A large marquee was erected upon the lawn beside the house, and there the ceremony was performed. The marquee and the covered ways leading to it were brilliantly illuminated with electric lights, and the decorations were entirely in autumn colors. The walls were festooned with smilax which was caught up with branches of vividly tinted autumn leaves, while the gaily-colored leaves wreathed the lights. The effect was original and distinctively novel. At the farther end of the marquee, 60x75 feet in size, was a slightly raised platform banked with tropical plants. Here the bridal party stood during the ceremony. Upon either platform concealed by a network of vines and palms was the orchestra. The marquee was entered by a covered way leading directly from the street, and by another from the house, into which the bridal party passed after the ceremony, to receive in the drawing room. The same lavish decorative effects prevailed throughout the house, tropical plants, American Beauty roses and chrysanthemums combining to produce most artistic and beautiful results.

The bridal party was large. The bride, who appeared with her father, by whom she was given away, was attended by her sister, Miss Gertrude A. Mueller, the maid of honor, and by Mrs. Augustus Wylie, as matron of honor. The bridesmaids were Miss Louise Elkins, Miss Laura Reineman and Miss Emma Heisey of New York. Alvin Morris was the best man and the ushers included Dr. Carl Emmerling, R. B. King, George Reed, Charles Wood Tindle, Dr. James D. Heard, and Dr. Clark George. The bride wore a wedding gown of white chiffon with trimming of duchess lace. Her veil was fastened with orange blossoms and she carried a shower bouquet of white bride's roses. The matron of honor wore white chiffon, and carried a bouquet of American Beauty roses, while the maid of honor appeared in a gown of white chiffon with hand-painted medallions, and carried American Beauty roses. The other maids wore similar gowns with short cupid veils of pink tulle and their flowers were red roses.

Dr. Willetts and his bride went away on a wedding trip. They will return in a few weeks and will make their home in this city. The bride is a social favorite and is an expert horsewoman. Dr. Willetts, who has been living at the Hotel Schenley, is well known in his profession.

Miss Price's Debut.

Mrs. Will Price gave a very handsome afternoon tea yesterday to introduce her daughter, Miss Myrtle B. Price. It was also the first large reception given in the new house in South Negley avenue, which the Prices took possession of in the late summer, and consequently the reception yesterday was practically a housewarming. The hours were from 3 until 6. Standing with Mrs. Price and her daughter in the parlors, were Miss Celeste Downey and Miss Martha Hohlizell, intimate friends of the debutante. The assisting ladies included Mrs. Thomas Jefferson Duncan, Mrs. C. L. Flaccus, Miss Sara Metcalfe, Miss Lillian Metcalfe, Miss Viola Sheip, Miss Nettie Nicholson and Miss Jessie Macchumb.

The young girls in the receiving group were prettily gowned in white, Miss Price wearing a particularly dainty gown of white lace. Mrs. Price was gowned in crepe meteor of a delicate gray shade, trimmed with beautiful lace. The decorations harmonized with the furnishings in each apartment. In the parlors were American Beauty roses, contrasting richly with the delicate mural tints. In the library, yellow and white chrysanthemums appeared in relief against the dark woodwork, while in the dining room yellow chrysanthemums appeared on the tables and yellow flower-like shades covered the candles and lights overhead. The afternoon tea was followed by an informal supper for the assistants, and in the evening a card party was given, the guests being chiefly the younger people.

Day—Blackiston.

The Shadyside Presbyterian church has been the scene of some of the handsomest weddings in Pittsburgh. Last evening its doors were opened for the marriage of Miss Florence Means Day, daughter of Mrs. Thomas Power Day, of St. James street, Shadyside, to George P. Blackiston. The ceremony was performed at 8 o'clock by the Rev. Dr. Maitland Alexander, pastor of the First Presbyterian church. The church was filled with guests, both the bride and bridegroom being very popular among the younger social set, though Mr. Blackiston only recently came to Pittsburgh. The church was handsomely decorated with tropical plants. Palms and ferns were massed upon the pulpit platform, and the flowers which appeared amid the green and decorated the ends of the pews reserved for the guests, were white chrysanthemums. There was a large bridal party: Miss Alice L. Biggert, a cousin of the bride, was the maid of honor, and the bridesmaids included Miss Georgia F. Gormley, Miss Cornelia McKelvey, Miss Anna Chalfant and Miss Elizabeth Friend of Pittsburgh; Miss Alice Bowden of Brookline, and Miss Alice Howell of New Bedford, Mass. Edward P. Mellon was best man and W. W. McKaig, C. P. Hill, J. F. Garrison, Sumner Robinson, Harvey Miller and Ernest Paddock, the ushers.

The ceremony at the church was followed by a small reception for the relatives and a very few intimate friends, at the residence of Mrs. Day. The bride was a debutante a couple of seasons ago, but has appeared in Society but little, as the family has been in mourning. Nearly all of the attending maids were former schoolmates and girls who entered society the same season. After a short wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Blackiston will make their home with the bride's mother.

Myers—Phillips.

Running away from their friends in an automobile is the most up-to-date trick of the bride and bridegroom. In this manner William Wirt Phillips, formerly of New York, and his bride, who a few hours before was Miss Louise Myers of Allegheny, escaped from their friends and started on their wedding trip last evening. The wedding took place in the Emmanuel Protestant Episcopal church, Allegheny, the ceremony being performed by the Rt. Rev. Cortlandt Whitehead, in the absence of the rector, the Rev. Ernest Paddock, who was one of the ushers at the wedding of Miss Florence Day and George P. Blackiston in the Shadyside Presbyterian church half an hour later.

The ceremony was performer at 7:30 o'clock and the pretty little church in Allegheny was crowded with invited guests.

The bride is a daughter of Mrs. Milton L. Myers of Allegheny avenue, Allegheny, and was educated at Miss Barclay's school on the North Side, and later at Hollidaysburg. She choose for her attendants a number of her classmates. These were Miss Clarabelle Doan, daughter of John Dean of Hollidaysburg, justice of the supreme court, who was maid of honor; Miss Grace McCaslin of Emporium, Miss Katherine McKinnie of East End, Miss Olive Scott of Sewickley and Miss Sharon of Newport, who were bridesmaids. The other bridesmaids were Miss Nichols of Sewickley, Miss Grace Irwin of Bellevue and Mrs. Parker McGough. Mr. Cate of Boston was the best man and the ushers were John Digby and Mr. Lodge of Philadelphia, R. H. Witherspoon, M. T. Smick, John McEnulty and Charles L. Woolridge of the East End.

The wedding colors were white and yellow. The church decorations were chiefly of palms but at the home of the bride's mother, where the reception was given, yellow and white predominated among the flowers which appeared throughout the house. The bride wore an imported gown of embroidered French mull and her veil of Parisian lace was caught with a diamond ornament and aigrette. She carried a shower bouquet of white bride's roses. The bride was given away by her brother-in-law, Edward M. Norton. Her maids wore gowns of white batiste, the skirts alternating tiny tucks and insertions of lace, and the bodices trimmed with lace. They wore sashes of yellow liberty silk and in their arms they carried long-stemmed chrysanthemums.

At the reception following the ceremony the guests included relatives and personal friends of the bride and bridegroom. Miss McKinnie caught the bride's bouquet as it was thrown from the landing upon the second floor, and before their friends realized the fact, the bride and bridegroom escaped from the house, jumped into the automobile and started on their wedding journey alone. They will return to Pittsburgh after a few weeks and will make their home in Library place, Allegheny.

Hayes—Hiller.

A society event in Bellefonte last evening was the marriage of Dr. Hiram Hiller of Philadelphia and Miss Blanche Hays, adopted daughter of Mrs. W. P. Wilson. The wedding took place at 7:30 o'clock in the Presbyterian church in the presence of 50 guests, the Rev. Dr. William Laurie, pastor of the church, performed the ceremony. Miss Mary Miles Blanchard was maid of honor and the bridesmaids were Miss Hiller, a sister of the groom; Miss Louise Valentine, Miss Caroline Orvis, Miss Mary H. Linn, Miss Rebekah G. Blanchard and Mrs. W. Fred Reynolds. Alfred G. Harrison of Philadelphia was best man, and the ushers were Francis D. Patterson, George C. Stout, John G. Clark, Robert G. LeConti, Archibald G. Thompson of Philadelphia and John Blanchard of Bellefonte.

The bride's dress included a bodice and front skirt of chiffon and pointe de Venice lace, with court train of old ivory satin. She carried a bouquet of orchids and lillies of the valley. The maid of honor wore white dotted lace, trimmed with medallions of Irish point, and carried a bouquet of maiden hair fern. The bridesmaids wore white point d' esprite gowns, white roses in their hair and carried large bouquets of chrysanthemums. Following the ceremony a reception was held at the residence of Mrs. Wilson and later Mr. and Mrs. Hiller departed for a brief trip.

Cox—Rudolph.

The principal social event of this month at Wilmington, Pa., was the wedding yesterday afternoon of Miss Kate Cox and Harry Rudolph. The wedding was attended by a large company of relatives and friends of the contracting parties from the vicinity and from Mercer and Allegheny counties. The Rev. C. F. McKinley of the New Wilmington Methodist Episcopal church performed the ceremony.

Notes of Society.

Mr. and Mrs. William E. Lincoln arrived in New York on Wednesday after a short trip to Europe. They are not expected to come to Pittsburgh until the first of next week.

Mrs. S. E. Nelson and daughter, Miss Cora May Nelson of Federal street, Allegheny, have gone to Boston. They will stop in New York and other eastern cities before returning to Pittsburgh.

Dr. Edwin G. Conklin of the University of Pennsylvania lectured last evening in the Carnegie Music hall on "The Life of Micro-Organisms." The lecture was the opening of the season by the Academy of Science and Art.

Miss Lois Bailey, whose wedding to Edward Duff Baldwin takes place this evening, entertained the bridal party at luncheon yesterday at the Pittsburgh club.

A party of 14 women enjoyed a tally-ho ride yesterday afternoon, given by Mrs. Charles Cooper and Mrs. James Cooper of Sewickley. Quite a lengthy drive was taken through the valley, dinner being served at Economy.

A pretty wedding took place yesterday at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Leon Robbins in Sharon, Pa., when the latter's sister, Miss Pearl Ashton became the wife of Lyman Marshall of Cleveland.

AND NOW EAT GRAPES.

Stem and wash the grapes, throwing out all imperfect ones; pack them in glass jars, stand the jars in a large boiler with a block or a few large nails under each jar to prevent breaking; fill the boiler with warm water reaching nearly to top of jars and heat to a boiling point; fill each jar with boiling water and let stand until the grapes change color; then turn off the water; have ready a syrup, allowing one pound of sugar to one pint of water; boil this ten minutes, then pour over the grapes, which should still remain in the boiler to keep them hot. See that all air is expelled from the jars, then seal them airtight. The syrup will be like a delicious wine when the jars are opened, and the grapes will keep a great length of time.

Grape Shortcake.

Sift together half a pound of flour, a teaspoonful of salt, a tablespoonful of sugar and two teaspoonfuls of baking powder. Work into this half a cup of well-washed butter that has stood on ice half an hour (using flexible knife or wooden spoon, but not the hands). Mix quickly, still using knife or spoon, using sufficient quantity of cold boiled milk to make a soft, smooth dough. Toss on a floured bread board, divide into two parts and then pat gently with a floured rolling pin into a half inch thickness, keeping it round in form. Bake them same as other fruit shortcakes and when done carefully break each cake apart. On each half spread a layer of jelly, apple is if you have it; on this arrange a layer of large grapes, cut in half and seeded; cover this with whipped or velvet cream.

INQUIRES ANSWERED.

Mrs. J. R. K. writes: Can you give me directions for making Irish bread?

Warm slightly one quart of milk with half a cup of butter and a teaspoonful of lard; then add six well beaten eggs, a teaspoonful of salt and flour enough to make a stiff batter; add a half compressed yeast cake dissolved in lukewarm water. Beat for ten minutes; then cover and set to rise for five or six hours in not too warm a place, as it must rise slowly. Bake in a moderate oven about forty-five minutes. It should be set to rise in a stem cake tin in which it is baked. Split open and butter while hot. The above quantity makes two cakes.

M. R. F. wishes a recipe for egg omelet.

Peel and chop three large, ripe, but solid tomatoes very fine; stew soft, season to taste with salt and pepper; add small piece of butter and just before taking from the fire stir in three eggs.

FOR MOTHER AND CHILD

In effect, if not in so many words, numerous mothers exclaim daily, "Get away, little soul, while I trim a dress for your little body. I like better to use a needle and busy myself with this pretty fancy work, which allows my mind to be idle, than to strain my wits trying to keep up with the pace of your young intellects or weary myself developing your good instincts and checking erring tendencies. Don't make demands upon my attentions. Let me alone!"

Preoccupied Mothers.

Ah, mothers, mothers, you know not what you do! It were better to deny yourselves the indulgence of pretty, easy work, and accept the great work which is your supreme duty on earth, and the one fraught with the sweetest blessings that humanity knows. There is no other duty so exigent to a woman as that of fostering and protecting the happiness of a child. Through the making of the child's happiness she shall develop within him the seeds of goodness more effectually than if she labored sternly to repress his faults. The world hardens and hardens us, but deep within our hearts there always lives one little oasis, where brood some memories of our childhood's happy days. And when the meaner impulses of our nature pull us hard, these delicate memories swing us back into the right path, and we are better men and women because once, in the long ago, we were happy children.

A luncheon basket should always be attractive to the eye. A child, whose appetite is more or less fickle, is inclined to eat what looks especially attractive and to reflect what goes not without regard to ulterior excellence. Line the basket with a snowy napkin, wrap up the various articles of food in waxed paper, place in the basket and cover with another snowy napkin. If preferred, the Japanese paper napkins may be used.

The School Luncheon.

Whenever it is possible in cold weather the child should go home in the middle of the day and have a hot, stimulating meal. Where the distance is too long, broth or milk should form a part of the luncheon. It has been suggested that the state should provide in connection with free textbooks a bowl of hot broth for each pupil.

Send out invitations for Halloween and write on the lower left hand corner, "To pull candy."

A Hallowe en Candy Pull.

When the guests arrive bring out a pile of large checked aprons and have them donned and cuffs rolled back. Then lead the way to the dining room table, which should be covered with white oil cloth. Have a bowl of flour passed and each guest flour his hands. When all are in readiness to pull the candy, have the kitchen door opened and a tray brought in with boxes. Give each guest a box, and in the end find the candy already pulled and ready to eat.

Let the regulation Halloween charms follow this hoax, which is a fine one if well carried out.

A pretty long coat for a child is of white cloth, has a "dickey," and a little standing collar of the material, and fastens at one side. The double-breasted effect is emphasized by four ornaments of silk set in pairs on the front. These are star-shaped, like the star fish in which children are always so much interested at the seashore. Each of these stars has three little acorn-like buttons dangling from it, hung on short cords of silk. There is a pretty collar of white brocade with a design of pink roses in it, square of lace sets into this, the extreme edge being finished with squares of white cloth stitched and put on cornerwise around the collar. The lower part of the sleeve is finished with stitched points to match the edge of the collar, the brocaded silk filling in the intervals to form a straight line where the sleeve joins a straight stitched cuff.

German jointed dolls dressed by a "Quaker lady" is the offering of one of our toy stores.

German Dolls.

Whatever a child's choice, she is sure to find it gratified, and all the dollies are correctly done, there being no outward show at the expense of unseen details. These underpinnings not only "come off," but are correct even to the tucks and edgings considered necessary to any doll or her owner in comfortable circumstances.

One smart little girl doll at $5.50 is pretty in a dotted mull frock, a rose-trimmed hat and a hunting-pink cloth box coat. Another is noted in party attire, her pink mousseline dress being adorned with row after row of pink satin baby ribbon. She has ribbons to match in her hair, not to mention silk stockings and kid slippers.

Onions are valuable as a remedy for children's colds. Never be without onions in the house, and never be without oil of some kind. Camphorated oil is generally the best remedy to use upon the appearance of a cold. Warm a little and rub the chest and back (as the lungs come as near to the back as to the chest), then oil the nose and soles of the feet. This will often be all that is necessary, but if it is not, make an onion syrup by slicing raw onions, covering them well with sugar, and putting them in the oven until they are well shriveled up and the juice extracted, then give a teaspoonful occasionally. For older children make the syrup of molasses by slicing up an onion and putting it to boil in half a cup of water and half a cup of golden syrup. When the onion is well cooked strain and give a teaspoonful of the syrup as needed. If the cold seems very tight, roast onions, lay them on a napkin and pour warm oil over them, then put the poultice on the child's chest.

To Cure a Cold.

This should always be tried in severe cases.

Bobbie had been forbidden to play with the water in the bathroom, but one day the temptation proved too strong and he turned on the faucets. Nurse, coming to the door a little later, beheld a rapidly-filling tub, beside which knelt a small boy, who, with clasped hands and terrified voice, was saying: "Oh, Lord, if you know how please turn off this water, but if you can't please send some one who can."

Faith Rewarded.

The mother will determine, as a rule, never to say "no" to a perfectly reasonable desire; never to say "no" unless there is a good, sufficient and just reason, and then when she says "no" to mean it. She will soon find her children accepting her "no" willing as final. She may not always give her reason for the "no," but she should have one, and whenever it is possible and the child is old enough to comprehend, she should tell the child her reason.

How to Say No.

For the child's own sake, as well as the comfort and happiness of the mother, absolute unquestioned parental authority must be developed. Not, I pray you remember, the authority that consists in terrorizing the child into submission by a loud voice and a stamping of the foot, but a gentle, quiet, unquestioned authority, which, in the past, has been so systematic and just that the child places dependence upon it and never thinks of disputing it, responding at once willingly with an "All right, mamma."

It is said that those who eat fruit need fewer stimulants than those who do not. There are many persons who simply cannot combine the two together.

Fruits as Health Food.

Fruits have always been considered a valuable remedy for invalids suffering from almost every kind of disease. Albert Broadbent, an authority on the apple, says, for instance.

"With rare exceptions apples are good for those disposed to gout and sluggish liver, and for those who follow a sedentary life. The juice of apples without sugar will often reduce acidity of the stomach, becoming changed into the alkaline correctives and thus curing sour fermentation.

"Where unsweetened cider is used as a common beverage, stone or calculus is unknown; but how much better the fresh, ripe fruit must be."

Oranges, again, are used as a cure for influenza, especially in Florida. Nearly every fruit will purify the blood, partly because of the soft water (which takes up more injurious material in the system than hard water) and partly because of its salts. Lemon is famous for this reason.

But such fruits are by no means rich in proteid. Somewhat richer, though often over-estimated in this respect, are figs and prunes and raisins. The banana abounds in fatty and oily material.

Nuts are the proteid kings. It is on them that the apes maintain much of their vigor.

Growing girls who are tall for their age frequently allow the shoulders to droop forward and thus contract the stooping habit. This tendency should be corrected the first time it is observed. Braces will not do good. They will rather injure the child, for the reason that they prevent the exercise of those muscles which should be trained to produce an erect carriage.

To Avoid Stooping Habit.

High pillows and soft mattresses should be avoided, a flat, hard bed, with low pillow, being preferable for a growing child; and a five minutes' exercise in walking with a book on the head is of great benefit if practiced daily.

MUSH MAKES MISERY.

The old theory that mush makes a practical diet has been exploded by modern scientific research by physicians of great repute, such as Chittendon of Yale, and men of like scientific fame. It has been proven that mush is in a class with indigestible wheat cakes, black coffee and like dietetic crimes. Mush lies in the stomach, a pasty, indigestible mass, fermenting and producing discomfort and indigestion. Such a diet lowers the vitality and leads to serious and often fatal bodily ills. Discard mush and treat your system royally to Toasted Wheat Flakes, sweetened with Malt Honey, which is a toothsome delicacy, easily digested and makes strong muscles, mind and nerves. Every package of genuine Toasted Wheat Flakes bears a picture of the Battle Creek Sanitarium.

RARE PAINTINGS BY OLD MASTERS

Art Treasures for Carnegie Loan Exhibition Insured at $2,000,000.

PICTURES COME TODAY

The Collection Will Be One of the Best Ever Seen in This County—Nearly All Masters Will Be Represented.

One hundred and fifty-five paintings from the brushes of the European and American masters will hang upon the walls of the Carnegie art galleries during the second loan exhibition which opens on Founder's day, Thursday, November 6. The total valuation for insurance, placed upon this collection of treasures, is $2,000,000, the largest sum ever written on any collection of pictures in this country. The Corot painting, loaned by the Gould estate, is insured for $75,000.

The collection will rival some of those in the famous galleries of Europe. Two of the most beautiful and valued works will come from the well-known group of 13 paintings in the Demidoff collection in the art institute of Chicago. These will be brought to Pittsburgh by a special messenger, who will carry the prized canvases in a Pullman car. Van Dyck's celebrated portrait of Princess Helena Leonora de Sievere will be included among the number, and it is the first time that the Chicago art institute has permitted any of the Demidoff collection to leave the galleries.

Many Local Pictures.

Since the last loan exhibition at the Carnegie galleries six years ago, local art collectors have added many rare paintings to the walls of their homes and more than half of the pictures loaned come from Pittsburgh and Allegheny. The first consignment of pictures is expected to arrive from New York today, and until the opening day of the exhibition, the work of hanging the paintings will go on. Director John W. Beatty, who returned from Chicago last night after completing arrangements for the two rare canvases from the art institute, said:

"The exhibition will be the most important ever seen in Pittsburgh, and will give our people a tolerably comprehensive view of the art of painting. This will be especially true of the works representing the early English school, but the Dutch, French and Scotch schools also will be well represented.

Many Rare Canvases.

"Among the works are many that rank high in the art world. It is doubtful if there are any finer examples of Corot in existence than several of the canvases included in the eight from the brush of that painter. I know of no finer work by Daubigny than the noble painting coming from Philadelphia.

"Turner, Ruisdael, Hals, Maes, Mauve, Diaz, Waels, Maris, Millet and Troyon will be represented by works of unexcelled quality—in fact, these and other masters will be represented by works of such rare and beautiful character that it would be hardly worth while to seek elsewhere for better."

This will be the eighth exhibition at the Carnegie galleries, the loan exhibit this year supplanting the competition by living artists held in previous years. When the committees set to work it was intended to limit the exhibit to 100 pictures, but later the number was increased to 150. This collection, while comparatively small, will allow space for hanging them in a dignified manner. The exhibition will close on January 1.

The following is a full list of the treasures that have been loaned for the exhibit:

Mrs. Kiefers Reception.

Mrs. Fred W. Kiefer of Lincoln avenue, Bellevue, entertained yesterday afternoon at a handsome reception, her daughter, Miss Elsie Kiefer, received with her. The house decorations were extremely handsome, the prevailing colors being pink, white and green. Roses and chrysanthemums, with palms, lent pretty color effects to the parlor and reception hall, and roses formed the decorations in the other parts of the handsome house. In the evening Miss Kiefer gave a card party for her house guests, Miss Evans and Miss Elizabeth Jacobs of Youngstown, and Miss May McAllister of West Newton. Six-hand euchre was the game, and pretty prizes were awarded the winners.

The assistants during the afternoon were Mrs. William H. Pfahl, Mrs. Charles F. Stifel, Mrs. Clarence F. Kiefer, Miss Eunice Evans, Miss Betty Jacobs, Miss Mary Hudson, Miss Gertrude Kiefer, Miss Isla Rodgers, Miss Jeannette Riggs, Miss Flora Langenheim and Miss Laura Cooper.

Baltimore & Ohio Plans to Make Big Improvements at Wheeling

Officials of the Baltimore & Ohio road met at Wheeling yesterday to outline plans for improvements to be made at that place. Those present were Arthur Hale, assistant general manager; Thomas Fitzgerald, general superintendent at Baltimore; L. G. Haas, general superintendent in Pittsburgh, and a number of officials from the various divisions centering in Wheeling. Recommendations were framed to be presented to President L. F. Loree.

It is proposed to construct a large new passenger and freight station and materially increase the yard facilities at that point. Recently the Baltimore & Ohio purchased property that will enable the company to more than double the present yards.

The officials yesterday made a thorough inspection of the Cleveland, Lorain & Wheeling, on which radical changes are to be made in accordance with the project to make this part of the through line.

"The plans for the Wheeling improvements will likely be taken up in a short time," said Superintendent Haas yesterday afternoon. "At our meeting the question of better terminals, larger yards and a general improvement of the rod were minutely considered. To estimate the cost of the work is impossible at present, but it is the intention of the company to carry out plans on an extensive scale.

"The new bridge over the Ohio river at Bellaire has been finished and will be in service in a short time. This structure replaces a single track span that had long outgrown its usefulness. Between Pittsburgh and Wheeling it is probable that additional improvements will be made, particularly in the extension of the double track. It is the intention to have the work commenced in the early spring."

NEW BRANCH LINE.

Bessemer & Lake Erie Will Be Able to Reach Valuable Coal Lands.

Contractors began work yesterday on the construction of a branch line for the Bessemer & Lake Erie, from a point known as Muddy Creek to Grady's bend. The line will be 30 miles long and will open up vast fields of valuable coal lands.

It is being constructed by a company independent of the Bessemer, but will be operated as part of that system. It is expected that the road will be completed in six months. Considerable heavy grading will be required and three long tunnels must be used in securing a grade. The contract for the line was awarded several weeks ago for $1,500,000.

WABASH TRACK WORK.

First Rails of Wabash's Pittsburgh Extension to Be Laid Shortly.

J. W. Patterson, chief engineer of the Pittsburgh, Carnegie & Western, stated yesterday that the first consignment of ties for the Pittsburgh extension will be received at Bridgeville tomorrow. The company has ordered 200,000 to be used in the local work.

Mr. Patterson has also been advised that the delivery of rails from the Carnegie Steel Company will commence in the early part of next week. With the arrival of this material the work of laying the first rails on the local extension of the Wabash will be commenced.

LARGE ENGINE ORDER.

Pennsylvania Railroad Has Placed Orders for 350 Locomotives Outside Its Own Shops.

As predicted in The Gazette several days ago the Pennsylvania Railroad Company has placed another large order for engines with the Baldwin locomotive works. It was officially announced yesterday that 150 locomotives are to be made during the coming year, in addition to 200 ordered about a month ago. The total order of 350 is the largest the company has ever given and as they are to be delivered early next year it is said that by the end of the summer the Pennsylvania will be in a position to take care of all the business offered to it.

Besides the locomotives to be constructed by the Baldwin works the company will also build at its own shops between 175 and 200. To accomplish this orders have been given to carry on work at the shops day and night. Thirteen locomotives are being turned out each month at the Altoona works, but with the introduction of more machinery the output will be materially increased.

Negligence of Shippers.

Freight traffic officials of the Pennsylvania system concluded a meeting in Philadelphia yesterday, at which arrangements were made for handling the business during the winter, and particular attention was paid to the shipment of coal to the east. The officials claim that there is no shortage of cars at present, but maintain that the negligence of shippers in unloading freight at terminal points is largely responsible for the frequent congestions. They look for little if any trouble during the coming winter.

Millions to Be Spent Hereabouts.

Official statements from the east are to the effect that the improvement work of the Pennsylvania railroad during 1903 will involve an expenditure of $20,000,000. Of this amount more than $5,000,000 has been authorized for the completion of many projects in and about Pittsburgh.

Railroad Notes.

W. W. Dunnavant, traveling passenger agent of the Queen & Crescent, is in the city.

J. C. Hyde, superintendent of the Buffalo, Rochester & Pittsburgh at Butler, was here yesterday on business.

L. A. Robinson, general passenger agent of the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie, will return today from the general passenger agents' convention, at Portland, Me.

The new freight house of the Panhandle in Grant street, has been completed. The old building at the south side of the new structure was removed yesterday and on its site several additional freight tracks will be constructed.

Daniel Willard has been elected third vice president of the New York, Susquehanna & Western. He is now third vice president of the Erie railroad, and was formerly assistant general manager of the Baltimore & Ohio.

RACIAL POLITICS ARE NEVER RIGHT

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

CHARLESTON, S. C., Oct. 16.—In view of the action of the Republican party in Alabama and North Carolina on the negro question, and the holding of Republican conventions this week in the congressional districts in this state, Capt. John G. Capers, United States district attorney and Republican national committeeman for South Carolina, was asked today what was the position of the Republican party in this state on the negro question. He said:

"The organization and operation of political parties upon purely racial classification is, to my mind, wholly inconsistent with the spirit of our government, requiring as our government does, well defined duties and responsibilities from all of its citizens. In the exercise of citizenship, when the negro asserts a right and demonstrates that it rests upon intelligence and character rather than upon race prejudice or fancied and unearned distinction, his rights should be respected as an American citizen, regardless of his color.

"In politics the negro's trouble in the south comes in a large measure from the advice he receives from his northern colored brother, who ruins the effect of a protest against a white man's party in the south by a practical demand for a black man's party. There is no good reason why the Republican party in the south should be all white, and there is every reason why it should not be all black."

A GOOD DEAL OF NONSENSE.

About "Blood Purifiers" and "Tonics."

Every drop of blood, every bone, nerve and tissue in the body, can be renewed in but one way, and that is, from wholesome food properly digested. There is no other way, and the idea that a medicine in itself can purify the blood or supply new tissues and strong nerves is ridiculous and on a par with the fol-de-rol that dyspepsia or indigestion is a germ disease, or that other fallacy that a weak stomach which refuses to digest food can be made to do so by irritating and inflaming the bowels by pills and cathartics.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets cure indigestion, sour stomach, gas and bloating after meals, because they furnish the digestive principles which weak stomachs lack, and unless the deficiency of pepsin and diastase is supplied it is useless to cure stomach trouble by the use of "tonics," "pills" and "cathartics" which have absolutely no digestive power, and their only effect is to give a temporary stimulation.

One grain of the active principle in Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets will digest 3,000 grains of meat, eggs and similar foods, and experiments have shown that they will do this in a glass bottle at proper temperature, but of course are much more effective in the stomach.

There is probably no remedy so universally used as Stuart's Tablets, because it is not only the sick and ailing, but well people who use them at every meal to insure perfect digestion and assimilation of the food.

People who enjoy fair health take Stuart's Tablets as regularly as they take their meals, because they want to keep well. Prevention is better than cure, and Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets do both; they prevent indigestion and they remove it where it exists. The regular use of one or two of them after meals will demonstrate their merit and efficiency better than any other argument.

HOSPITAL SITE POINT BROACHED

A Question Whether Places Offered in Allegheny or Suburbs Are Valid.

DEPENDS ON WORD "AT"

Treasury Department Commission to Visit This City Next Week to Inspect the Tracts Submitted.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
601 Fifteenth St., N. W.,
WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 16.

Next week the commission representing the treasury department in the selection of a site for a marine hospital in Pittsburgh will start for that city. It will consist of Dr. Williams of the marine hospital service and inspector Wheaton of the supervising architect's office.

They will be instructed to examine the 27 sites offered, and to report which one is best fitted for the purpose named, provided that the price is commensurate with the appropriation.

From advices received at the department, the sentiment of those in Pittsburgh and vicinity who are most interested in the hospital is in favor of a site on high ground above the harbor, such as those offered in Bellevue; but there is a possibility that sites thus considered eligible cannot be accepted unless congress, by an amendment to an appropriation bill, makes them eligible. The law authorizing the hospital and the clause in the appropriation bill making the first payment, both specified that the hospital was to be "at Pittsburgh." This raises the question whether congress intended that the hospital should be placed within the limits of the city of Pittsburgh or not. If the law had stated "in Pittsburgh," there would be no question.

It is argued that Allegheny is nearly as much interested in the commerce of Pittsburgh harbor as Pittsburgh, and that it should be entitled at least to have its property considered in connection with the site.

Assistant Secretary of the Treasury Taylor today selected sites for public buildings in Washington and Oil City, as follows:

Washington—The northwest corner of Franklin and Wheeling streets. The property includes two lots belonging to Thomas Hershey and Mrs. H. C. Beatty, who are willing to sell, and a lot belonging to a Mr. Curren and sister, who are not willing to sell, but which will be secured by condemnation proceedings. The price to be paid will be in the neighborhood of $11,000.

Oil City—A lot on the west side of North Seneca street, fronting 140 feet on that street and running back 200 feet to Oil Creek. The price to be paid is $10,000.

A site was not selected for New Castle today because a new bid has been received which the department desires to consider before making a selection.

Charles J. Beardsley today was appointed postmaster at Hoblet, Bradford county, Pa., vice Mrs. R. J. Jackson, resigned. CHARLES W. METZGAR.

DECLINE OF HAZING.

West Point Superintendent Says There Has Been but One Serious Case During the Year.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 16.—Col. A. L. Mills, superintendent of the United States Military academy, makes the following reference to hazing:

"During the year there has been no relaxation of proper efforts to make permanent the reforms already accomplished bearing on the treatment accorded new cadets by their older comrades. The regulations governing the subject have been carefully enforced, and with but a single exception that is worthy of note, cadets have shown a soldiery regard for their obligations in the matter.

"The exception referred to—the first under the new regulations—is that of a cadet, who without authority, made a fourth-class man assume a constrained position and used threatening and abusive language to him. For this offense the cadet was brought to trial by court-martial and, being found guilty, was dismissed.

"No one conversant with the progress new cadets now make apprehends any ill effect in training from the passing of hazing."

ADMIRAL EVANS IN CHINA.

His Silence Seems to Indicate Outbreaks Were Not Serious.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 16.—(Special.)—Rear Admiral Evans, senior squadron commander of the Asiatic station, who recently transferred his flag to the Helena for a trip up the Yang-Tse-Kiang river to Ichang, near the scene of disturbances in the province of Szechuan, which it was feared might lead to a repetition of the Boxer outrages, has started to return to Woosung, at the mouth of the Yang-Tse. Rear Admiral Evans has reported nothing to the navy department in regard to the conditions prevailing at Szechuan, and it is thought his silence means there is nothing dangerous in the condition of affairs there.

Several weeks ago ten native Christians were killed and Christian chapels were burned, but the Americans in the province suffered no molestation.

President Dreyfuss Is Not Afraid of Losing the Baseball Grounds

NOT WORRYING ABOUT THE PARK

President Dreyfuss Not Much Afraid of the Railrord Move.

THE EXHIBITION TOUR

It Was a Success and Netted the Players a Neat Sum for Winter Expenses---May Have an Indoor Team Here.

The publication in yesterday morning's Gazette of the plan of the Pennsylvania and Pittsburgh & Western roads to block the Wabash by establishing a large freight yard in Allegheny and thus close up Exposition park was a subject of much discussion in local baseball circles yesterday.

President Dreyfuss, who owns the ball club and has a five-year lease on the park, seemed the least disturbed of all those who were talking the matter over. He said that he was not doing any worrying, but he could not be induced to do any talking on the subject. His position, he said, was such that he could not afford to talk; but one thing was certain, and that was he felt secure and did not seem to fear the move as outlined in the paper.

The Pittsburgh club officials not only hold a five-year lease on Exposition park, but they also hold a lease for the same number of years on the ground adjoining the park, which extends from the park to Union bridge. The lease on that ground was secured over a year ago and the object was to balk any movement on the part of the American league to place an opposition club here. It was for this purpose also that a lease was secured on old Recreation park and which is now controlled by the owners of the Pittsburgh club.

Now that the exhibition tour of the champion Pirates is over and the players have gone to their homes for the winter, there will be a dearth of news about the champions for the next five months. The exhibition series was a big success and netted the players something near $400 each, which is a tidy sum to keep them over the winter season. The one matter of regret was the playing of two games with the All-Americans at Cleveland. These games proved a financial frost, and one of the players stated yesterday that more money was secured from the first game played in this city, even though it did rain the best part of the day, than the two games brought in the Forest City.

The last of the players to get away from here were Bransfield and Merritt, who departed for Worcester, Mass., last night. It will be of interest to local followers of the game to know the winter address of the players, and here they are: Manager Clarke, Winfield, Kas.; Phillippe, South Dakota; Zimmer and Leach, Cleveland; Leever, Goshen, O.; Smith, Massillon, O.; Wilhelm, Wooster, O.; Falkenberg, Chicago; Doheny, Northfield, Vt.; Conroy, Camden, N. J.; Bransfield, Worcester, Mass.; Beaumont, Rochester, Wis.; Burke, St. Louis; McLaughlin, Plainfield, N. J.; Merritt, Paterson, N. J.; Phelps, Albany, N. Y.; Sebring, Lycoming county, Pa.; Wagner, Carnegie, Pa.

The only players to remain over were Leever and Phillippe, who have gone with Honus Wagner on a hunt for game, and as Honus is an old hand at the business, he knows where game abounds most. Tommy Leach's haste to get away was due to the fact that he wants to get into action with the Occidental indoor baseball team of Cleveland at once and get the players in shape for a hard championship race this season. Tommy is very anxious to bring his Occidentals---which is made up of himself, Bradley and a number of other players of importance---over here for a game, and he may get the chance. President Dreyfuss is thinking of organizing a team to be made up of Honus Wagner, Al Wagner, Patsy Flaherty and other players who make their homes here and playing the game at Duquesne garden. Honus Wagner is interested in the matter and has consented to captain the local team.

DAN PATCH PACED VERY FAST AT DAVENPORT

Went the Mile in 2:01 Flat, and Reduced the Record of the Track.

DAVENPORT, IA., Oct. 16.—Dan Patch paced a remarkable mile on the Davenport mile track this afternoon, reducing the track record to 2:01 flat on his first attempt.

The weather was clear, but with a stiff breeze blowing and the track soft from Sunday's heavy rain. It was at least two seconds slow. With a running mate abreast of him most of the way, Dan Patch paced the mile like clockwork. Time by quarters: :29¾, :30¼, :30½, :30½. The former track record was 2:02¾, made by Robert J.

BLOCKS FOR SHAMROCK.

Rhode Island Firm Fills an Order for Sir Thomas.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Oct. 16.—An order for blocks, given by a representative of Sir Thomas Lipton in July, has just been filled by a Rhode Island firm and the blocks sent to Brooklyn. At the time the order was given the understanding was that the blocks were to replace those of Shamrock II., which were burned in a sail loft where the challenger's equipment was stored. It is believed here that many of the blocks will be sent to England for use on Shamrock III.

GAVE THE STARS FINE PRACTICE

COTTAGE TEAM HUSTLED PITTSBURGH ELEVEN.

Scored Two Touchdowns in First and One in the Second Half. Mathewson in the Game.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

GREENSBURG, PA., Oct. 16.—Fighting gamely against superior strength and training of the Pittsburgh eleven, the Cottage Athletic club of Homewood went down to defeat this afternoon in the first game of the season on the local gridiron by the score of 17 to 0. It was a contest in which the fastest and most powerful aggregation of football stars in the country were pitted against lighter and less experienced adversaries, but so fast was the play of the "big fellows" and so stubborn the defense put up by the Cottage players that the game was by no means uninteresting.

The individual strength of the Pittsburgh eleven was clearly shown. Time and time again Lawler and giant Kirkhoff tore through their opponents. Crolius and Miller hurdled the line and circled the ends, and Mathewson with the force of a battering ram plunged headlong into the Cottage line and carried the ball and half his adversaries yards nearer their goal. But of team play there was practically nothing. Not because Coach Richardson has not drilled the squad in the fundamental principles of football, every player in every play, but for the reason that the Cottage players were unable to make the opposition required to test the full strength of the eleven as a whole, and not as individuals.

Crolius and Richardson were the bright particular stars of the game. The former gave a pretty exhibition of dodging and hurdling the line, and Richardson's interference was responsible in great part for many of the gains of Mathewson. Lawler and Miller, Kirkhoff and Lang were also prominent in advancing the ball, and Hare and Donohoe, while not used on the offensive, proved a speedy pair of ends, getting down the field well under Mathewson's long punts.

But while the big fellows were getting burst after burst of applause from the enthusiastic groups along the lines, the Cottage club players were receiving their share of credit for their hard fight. The field was soft and mushy, and while they were unable to hold for downs, they compelled frequent second and even third downs. Hill, Wright, Lewis and Schotte tackled fiercely throughout the game, and the entire eleven played a creditable defensive game. The Stars made two of their touchdowns in the first and one in the second half. The score and lineup:

Pittsburgh---17.	Position.	Cottage---0.
Donohoe	L. E.	Haben
McNulty	L. T.	Horn
Kirkhoff	L. G.	Bend
Shirling	Center.	Bloom
Lawler	R. G.	McMannis
Lang	R. T.	Blunt
Hare	R. E.	Wright
Richardson	Q. B.	Miller
W. Miller	L. H.	Hill
Crollius	R. H.	Lewis
Mathewson	F. B.	Schotte

Touchdowns---McNulty, Miller, Mathewson. Goals from touchdown---Richardson 2. Substitutions---Barney for McNulty, Dushane for Miller, Fightner for Lawler, Hutchison for Lang, McChesney for Mathewson. Referee---Church. Umpire---Brown. Linesmen---Latta, McChesney and Shronts. Time of halves---20 minutes.

THE WASH.-JEFF. TEAM STARTS FOR PRINCETON

Eleven Is Badly Crippled, and Its Supporters Are Not Very Sanguine.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

WASHINGTON, PA., Oct. 16.—The Washington and Jefferson football team had a light practice this afternoon and left this evening for Princeton to meet the Tigers next Saturday. There isn't much enthusiasm about the game since the defeat of the locals by Lafayette Tuesday and the disasters to the eleven which have followed. It will be no surprise to the fans here if the team is worsted, as Capt. Hayes is injured and may not be able to go into the game.

His knee was dislocated in the game Tuesday, and although he stayed in during the first half he was forced to give way to Gibson in the second half. Since then he has been in bed and walked today for the first time. Gibson will be taken along as a substitute for the captain, and although he is a good and aggressive player he does not take Hayes' place as a leader.

Burns, fullback, was injured in the Lafayette game and forced to retire in the second half on account of injuries he received to his leg. He will start in the Princeton game, but Prowitt will be on hand to take his place if necessary. The latter is a good kicker, but uncertain in a pinch, and he cannot take Burns' place in aggressive work against the line or in backing up the line men on the defense.

May Be Apostolic Delegate.

ROME, Oct. 16.—It is considered certain at the vatican that Mgr. Zaleski, apostolic delegate in India, who for a year has been living in Rome, will be appointed apostolic delegate in Canada in succession to the Most Rev. Diomede Falconio, who is now papal delegate in the United States.

THE HANDICAP WON BY REDPATH

Fourteen Fine Sprinters Were Starters in the Event at Morris Park.

O'CONNOR'S FINE RIDE

Had Mount on Merito in New Rochelle Handicap and Won It in Clever Style---Only One Favorite Won.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

New York, Oct. 16.—Redpath, with Minder up, won the Westchester high-weight handicap at Morris Park today. He was heavily played, opening at 30 to 1 and backed down to 12 to 1, and galloped home an easy winner. This race is a six and a half furlong gallop, and 14 good sprinters responded to the call, with the 2-year-old Sergeant favorite at 3 to 1 and Six Shooter second choice at 7 to 2. Belle of Lexington was an added starter, and was well supported at 15 to 1.

Belle of Lexington broke in front and showed the way to the stretch, where Sergeant, who was running third, took the lead and was apparently winning easily when Redpath, who was running last up to this time, began to make his run and coming from second place in the stretch had the favorite beaten at the eighth pole. Redpath won galloping by a length from Sergeant, who was three lengths in front of Unmasked.

O'Connor's Clever Ride.

Merito, admirably ridden by O'Connor, won the New Rochelle handicap by a head from Grand Opera, with Potente third, a head away. O'Connor rode a perfect race on the winner. Getting off none too well he nursed his mount along to the stretch and won driving. Only one favorite won. O'Connor and Smith each rode two winners. The weather was clear and track fast. Summaries:

First race, for 2-year-olds and up, the Eclipse course---Lux Casta, 109, Lyne, 11 to 5 and 7 to 10, won; St. Daniel, 99, J. MADE A BIG KILLING.

St. Louis Sports Had It Their Own Way at Worth.

CHICAGO, Oct. 16.—E. J. Arnold & Co. of St. Louis engineered one of the biggest coups of the year in the Oaklawn stakes at Worth today, which was won by the firm's colt Fitzbrillar, backed from 13 to 1 to 7 to 1 at post time. The owners enjoyed the dainty morsel all by themselves, as few other people gave Fitzbrillar a chance in company made up of the best 2-year-olds in the west. Battiste rode the colt and put up a wonderful finish, beating Hindi, a 10 to 1 shot, only by a neck. Gregor K. secured third place, a length in front of Ejocarine, the favorite.

Weather clear and cold; track at its best. Summaries:

First race, 6 furlongs---Andes, 96, Robbins, 7 to 1, won; Irene Lindsey, 109, Coburn, 6 to 5, second; Fairbury, 102, Pieratt, 15 to 1, third. Time, 1:14. Carl Kahler, Charlie Thompson, Fast Tag, Georgie, Orla, Annu and Theory also ran.

Second race, one mile---Talpa, 107, T. Dean, 12 to 5, won; Marque, 112, Winkfield, 3 to 2, second; Mattie Spencer, 107, J. Steele, 40 to 1, third. Time, 1:41¾. Corinne Uhlman, Brookwink and Pronta also ran.

Third race, 1 1-16 miles---John McCurdy, 100, Pieratt, 9 to 5, won; Jack Doyle, 85, Robbins, 30 to 1, second; Vulcain, 106, T. Dean, 10 to 5, third. Time, 1:48 2-5. Jack Demund, Illowano and Old England also ran.

Fourth race, 6½ furlongs, the Oaklawn stakes---Fitzbrillar, 113, Battiste, 7 to 1, won; Hindi, 110, Coburn, 10 to 1, second; Gregor K, 118, Donnelly, 2 to 1, third. Time, 1:03 2-5. Ejocarine, Ivan Doa, Linguist, Lady Jocelyn, St. Minor, Cypress, Vincente and L. F. M. also ran.

Fifth race, 1¼ miles---Edith Q., 106, T. Dean, 8 to 1, won; Obelisk, Simpson, 4 to 1, second; Diamante, 102, Daly, 4 to 1, third. Time, 1:42 4-5. Monia, Glen Rice and Vestia also ran. Worth entries for tomorrow:

MAKING MANY CHANGES.

Grove City Eleven's Weak Spots Are Being Strengthened.

GROVE CITY, PA., Oct. 16.—(Special.)—A number of important changes are being made in the Grove City college football team in order to strengthen the weak spots shown in the W. U. P. game last week. Taylor, a heavy man on the scrub team, will replace Hagsett at right end, while Hildebrand will take Elliott's place at left halfback; the latter player being ill. Craig's shoulder promises to be in shape so he can play on Monday in the game against Grove City's old rival, Westminster, while Stewart's injuries have also healed, and he will be found at his old position at tackle.

Great interest is being taken in next Monday's game with Westminster and a big crowd is expected.

Marshall Made a Great Run.

CAMBRIDGE, MASS., Oct. 16.—(Special.)—The day was put in by hard work on the part of the backs, and several brilliant plays were made. The West Point game will be swift, so far as Harvard is concerned. Today two fast 20-minute halves were played, and at the conclusion the 'varsity team was fresh. Quite the most remarkable exhibition was the show play by Marshall, the star quarterback. On the kick-off he caught the ball after a great bounce on the 25-yard line, and although surrounded by vicious players, he broke through the crowd, ran 85 yards and scored a touchdown. The other backs are in great form and the team shows great and rapid improvement.

COLLEGE TEAMS DOING HARD WORK

ALL OF THEM READY FOR GAME TOMORROW.

Pittsburgh Boys Continue Their Good Work for Yale---Harvard Prepared for a Stiff Battle.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW HAVEN, CONN., Oct. 16.—Yale's 'varsity football players were sent through a slashing 20-minute practice this afternoon and the 'varsity were kept on the defensive most of the time by the despised scrubs. Johnny Moorhead was given right end, as Coffin was lamed in yesterday's game with Vermont. The 'varsity were able to score only once. They used up two sets of backs in getting their touchdown, the first set being Metcalf, Preston, Ward and Farmer, and the second set Rockwell, Soper, Wilhelmi and McClintock. Jack Owsley was obliged to retire because of a wrenched ankle. Vandergoot for the scrubs tried a goal from the 'varsity 25-yard line, but missed. Ex-Capt. Chamberlain was the only new coacher here today. McClintock and Moorhead are Pittsburgh boys.

Wharton Gave Pennsy a Lesson.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 16.—Charley Wharton, the giant guard, who made the name of the University of Pennsylvania famous in the college football world during the seasons of 1895-96, has been a spectator at the practice of the candidates on Franklin field for the past week. Today he could not patiently witness the execrable work of the line men, no longer and in his street clothes he went out on the gridiron and gave the squad of line men a lesson which they will not soon forget. He tumbled the candidates for guard and tackles around as if they were so many pigmies, and when he was through, no man knew at last the rudiments of how to block a charge against the line and also how easily it was to be bowled over by one who possessed confidence and experience.

Wharton directed his work mainly against Brenton and the latter not only took it good naturedly, but tried to sidestep and checkmate the sturdy guard. It was an excellent lesson and the few members of the faculty and football committee present were highly elated and appreciated Wharton's interest in the welfare of Pennsylvania, as much as the candidates did.

Will Watch the Wash-Jeff Game.

ITHACA, N. Y., Oct. 16.—(Special.)—The approach of the last day for registration has thinned out the ranks of the football squad at Cornell very perceptibly and even Coach Reed himself left for his home in Dunkirk in order to get his name on the books. Reed will go from his home to Princeton to watch the Princeton-Washington and Jefferson game and thus will not be in Ithaca when Cornell meets the redskins.

Cornell's preparation for this contest has not been at all satisfactory, and there are a good many of Cornell's supporters who are fearful of the result. Coaches Reed and Morrison have been seriously hampered all of the week on account of injuries to players and thus the work has been light when hard practice was most needed.

CHAMPION BYERS MET HIS DEFEAT

E. E. Giles of Westmoreland Plays in the Final Golf Match Today.

DR. FREDERICKS WON

Oil City Crack a Favorite for the Chief Honor—R. P. Nevin, Jr., G. A. Ormiston and W. C. Fownes, Jr., Were Retired.

The defeat of E. M. Byers, the hitherto invincible local champion, the victor over W. J. Travis, and the runner-up for the championship of the United States, furnished the feature of the Pittsburgh Country club's open golf tournament yesterday, as well as the sensation of the present season. The holder of both the open and the amateur honors of Western Pennsylvania, who has never before tasted defeat in a local match contest, and who has won every tournament he has ever entered in the Pittsburgh district, was beaten 3 up and 1 to play by a golfer comparatively unknown here, E. Ellsworth Giles of the Westmoreland Country club.

The victor came here this year from New York and was first heard of in the championship play a few weeks ago, when he qualified in the first eight, but was beaten in the first round of match play 4 up and 3 to play by the champion whom he retired yesterday.

E. E. GILES.
Who Furnished a Surprise by Defeating Champion E. M. Byers.

Giles and Fredericks Today.

Giles in the afternoon defeated R. P. Nevin, Jr., of Edgeworth by 4 up and 3 to play, and in the final today will meet Dr. D. P. Fredericks of Oil City, who yesterday defeated George Ormiston of Highland 3 up and 2 to play in the morning, and W. C. Fownes, Jr., of Highland 6 up and 5 to play in the semi-final. It is Fredericks' first competition in a big local tournament. He is best known by his defeat of A. Poole and A. G. Lockwood in the Chicago championships, where he was defeated in the semi-final by E. M. Byers.

It is but fair to state that Byers did not play his fastest golf yesterday, though Giles offered an unquestionably strong game in defeating him. Giles was equal to the opportunity and his ultimate success was largely due to the fact that he obtained a lead on the champion at the very start and never once loosed his hold. He went out in 39, and in, in 40, a total of 79, against 41 and 42 for Byers.

Both Giles and Nevin were erratic at times in the afternoon. Giles showed the strain of the two hard matches and took 30 for six holes to 35 for Nevin.

Fredericks Had Easy Matches.

Fredericks had little to try him in either of his matches. Ormiston was badly off in putting in the morning. W. C. Fownes, Jr., was badly off his game in the afternoon and never threatened the Oil City doctor. Fredericks, if in form, should win the tournament today. O. D. Thompson is regarded as an easy victor for the second cup. Eighteen holes will be played in the morning and 18 in the afternoon, the final contestants being requested to start play at 10 o'clock in order to avoid the handicap field. The cards for the matches follow:

PLAYING FOR A CUP.

Chevy Chase Golfers Start Their Fall Tourney.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 16.—The annual fall tournament of the Chevy Chase Golf club began here today and will continue through Saturday. There are about 40 entries, including several persons from clubs outside Washington. Today's play was confined to the qualification rounds at 36 holes, stroke competition, for the club cup.

Final in Women's Tourney Today.

In the play for the cup offered by Miss Lucy Christy on the Edgeworth course at Sewickley yesterday Mrs. Elliott Rodgers defeated Miss Bertha Taylor, 3 up and 2 to play, while Mrs. R. P. Nevin, Jr., defeated Mrs. C. I. Shannon by 1 up. Today in the final Mrs. Rodgers plays Mrs. Nevin.

IS NOW OR NEVER FOR THE HORSE SHOW

Weather Man Promised to Be Good Today and Country Club Seized Chance.

After several unsuccessful attempts to hold their open-air horse show, the members of the Pittsburgh Country club have decided to take another chance, in the hope that favorable weather will permit the closing of the much-planned affair. The show will be held this afternoon at the club grounds. The officers of the club yesterday consulted Forecaster Ridgway, and were assured by him that the weather today would be fine.

If the show fails today it is not likely that it will be held at all, as many of those having horses entered have been put to a lot of expense and inconvenience in keeping their entries at the Country club stables. J. B. Vandergrift, who has six horses entered, brought them all the way from his farm at Wellsburg, and H. J. Heinz had a pair of thoroughbreds brought from Lexington, Ky. Other members who have displayed the same spirit in endeavoring to make the show a success, have become tired of the delays and want to see the affair finished.

The horse show tomorrow in addition to the events in the last day of the invitation golf tournament, will probably draw large crowds to the club grounds. Class 1.—the pony class in the show—will be shown at 4:30 today, instead of at 1:30, as was scheduled. This will set all other classes forward one half hour, making class 2 the first on the card.

PLENTY OF GAME.

Westmoreland County Hunters Are in Great Luck.

GREENSBURG, PA., Oct. 16.—(Special.)—Game is plentiful in Westmoreland county and the Greensburg nimrods who spent yesterday in the field report prospect for the best sport in years. Scores of local field shooters spent the first day of the season trudging over the hills, but the amount of game secured was not large, despite the abundance of squirrels, quail and partridges.

The frosts have not been especially heavy and the leaves still hang thick on the trees, making accurate shooting impossible. Chestnuts, walnuts and wild grapes are plentiful, and the hunters say there is no danger of the game leaving the country. Rabbits, it is also reported, are plentiful. The game laws will be strictly enforced in this county.

HIT THE BOOKS HARD.

Pittsburgh Phil Made a Killing on Kittanning.

NEW YORK, Oct. 16.—(Special.)—"Pittsburgh Phil" hit the ring pretty hard today on Kittanning, taking fully $15,000 from the bookmakers on the success of the Dwyer castoff.

After the colt's clever warm-up the agents of the Pittsburgher took all the 15 to 1 in sight, then 12 and 10 to 1, and at the start 6 to 1 was being accepted. But the plunger from the Smoky City lost thousands on Judith Campbell and Grand Opera in their races, reducing his winnings on the colt race. Herbert, however, landed him a good wager, and he closed winner on the day.

STABBED AT A WEDDING.

Riot at a Slavish Celebration Will Have Fatal Results.

A riot at Halket avenue and Thirteenth street, Braddock, last evening, resulted from a Slav wedding celebration at the house at No. 1216 Halket avenue, occupied by a Slav family. Some 50 Slavs from Rankin went to the house, intending to carry things to such themselves. There was a general uproar in which knives, beer bottles and other weapons were soon in active play. Andrew Tiffoil of Braddock received a long and deep slash across his left side above the heart, and a gash across the right shoulder that penetrated to the bone. Constable William Rothrauff was called to the scene and chased a score of Slavs down the tracks of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad, firing into the air as he ran. Paul Yacum of Rankin and Michael Mazum and George Frecila of Braddock were captured at Ninth street. It is alleged that Yacum stabbed Tiffoil. He was locked in the Braddock police station on a charge of felonious assault and battery. The other two will have hearings on a charge of rioting. Warrants have been issued for 18 others.

BIG LABOR MEETING.

Iron City Central Labor Council Takes a Dip Into Politics.

The Iron City Central Labor Council held the largest meeting in its history last night and admitted 18 new delegates. Resolutions were passed unanimously condemning Robert E. Pattison, Democratic candidate for governor. Resolutions were also adopted condemning H. Kirke Porter, candidate for congress, for refusing to recognize the machinists' union.

A resolution was passed asking all trades unionists to support Joseph G. Armstrong, a candidate for legislature in the Fifth district, a member of a labor union, and all other candidates carrying legal union cards.

William J. Kelly was elected the representative of the council to the convention of the American Federation of Labor in New Orleans.

Greensburg Lawyer Married.

At the home of the bride's parents, in New Rochelle, N. Y., Miss Anna V. Frantz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Frick Frantz, and Frank Good of Greensburg were married last evening. The groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George W. Good and the Rev. and Mrs. S. L. Kreps and Mr. and Mrs. Curtis H. Gregg of Greensburg attended the ceremony. The attendants included R. K. Porter and H. B. Marsh of Greensburg and W. F. Ulery of Scottdale. Mr. Good is a member of the Westmoreland bar. After a honeymoon of a fortnight Mr. and Mrs. Good will take up their residence in West Newton avenue, Greensburg.

A Sewickley Wedding.

On Wednesday, October 29, will occur the marriage of Miss Elsa Velma Linn to James Baxter McKillips of the East End, Pittsburgh. The wedding will take place at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Linn, Nevin avenue, Sewickley, and will be witnessed by only a small number of relatives and close friends. The ceremony will be very simple, with the interments. The decorations and appointments, however, will be of the handsomest.

POOL OPERATIONS AGAIN ACTIVE IN WALL STREET

Heavy Dealings in Specialties and a General Advance the Features--Call Money Easier--Local Stocks Are Firmer.

By JOHN O. BAGLIN, Financial Editor.

The most striking feature of the eastern market yesterday was the resumption of pool operations in various specialties. These operations did not become prominent until some time after the opening, when the general public had had an opportunity to give expression to its satisfaction over the outcome of the coal strike. The miners will meet today and their officers will recommend the acceptance of President Roosevelt's arbitration board and a resumption of mining pending the decision of the board. London manifested its satisfaction by sending over higher quotations accompanied by buying orders, and Wall street traders were disposed to help the movement along. It is probable that some shorts were put out on the rise and there was unquestionably some heavy liquidation, which caused the advancing movement to pause. It was at this time that the pool operations in Norfolk & Western, Pennsylvania, Southern Railway and a few other specialties became prominent. The heaviest buying, particularly of Norfolk & Western, which contributed 120,000 shares to the total day's transactions, was credited to the Gates following. During the latter part of the day the dealings increased in volume, and enormous blocks of stock changed hands on the advance. The latter was stimulated by the easier tendency of call money rates, which ranged between 6 and 8 per cent, and by the confident statement that the secretary of the treasury would announce his acceptance of a large block of government bonds today. The market closed generally at the best prices of the day.

⊙ ⊙ ⊙

The three prominent features of the September foreign trade report issued this week were the increase of nearly $21,000,000 in imports of merchandise, the decrease of $12,860,000 in the excess of exports over imports, and the decrease of nearly $9,000,000 in gold imports. The total value of our imports of merchandise for the month was $87,819,707, which, with one exception (April, 1895, just before the new tariff schedule went into effect) is the largest total for any month in the history of the country's commerce. The total exports were valued at $115,521,984, which is the largest September total ever reported and about $10,000,000 larger than for the corresponding month last year. When imports of merchandise increase to the extent noted for last month it is usually a sound argument testifying to the prosperity of the importing country—the latter has the means for satisfying its demand for foreign goods, otherwise it would no have bought. When increased shipments accompany abnormally low commodity values—as was the case a few years ago when we were exporting the cheapest breadstuffs ever sold to Europe—the movement is construed as indicating the distressed condition of the seller who has been forced to sacrifice his goods. In the case of the foreign shipper of merchandise to the United States last month, however, this argument will not apply. A year or more ago it was feared that the industrial depression prevailing in Europe, and particularly in Germany, would result in foreign manufacturers flooding our markets with cheap goods; but an examination of the figures in the current trade report, taken in connection with known conditions in our markets during the summer, tend to prove that it was the extraordinary demand which domestic manufacturers were unable to fill, resulting in high prices, which stimulated shipments of foreign goods to this country. Thus the value of imports of dutiable goods received during September exceeded $51,000,000, an increase of $13,400,000 over the same month last year. These figures also reveal the source of the excess of government revenues over expenditures, and tend to show why it was, with money ruling higher than a year ago and considerably above the London parity, our net imports of gold amounted to only $2,497,000, as compared with $11,742,000 for the corresponding month last year. A considerable proportion of our imports was iron and steel, and these were rendered necessary because pressing orders could not be filled at home. One reason for this inability of our manufacturers to meet the demands upon them was the shortage of fuel in consequence of the coal strike. The latter has now ended, and an increased output of iron should follow, which will have the effect of shutting out foreign shipments. Orders for the importation of coal have also been countermanded, which is another factor that should have, together with heavy exports of cotton, a favorable effect upon our balance of trade for the remainder of the calendar year.

⊙ ⊙ ⊙

On the Pittsburgh stock exchange there was a decided increase in the volume of trading and as a rule the tone of the market was firmer. The activity was again confined principally to the steel stocks. United States Steel common advanced to 40½ and closed at a net gain of ½, while the preferred closed ⅝ higher at 90 and was in good demand at that price. Crucible Steel common sold at 21⅝ and 21½ and closed at a loss for the day of ¼. The sales aggregated 550 shares. The preferred stock was firm at 85⅞@86. The policy of the company in deferring dividends on the common stock and making liberal charges for depreciation, strengthens the position of the preferred in the estimation of investors. The coal stocks remained quiet but steady, the only change being an advance in Pittsburgh common to 30, the stock closing at 29½ bid. River Coal common did not change hands, and the preferred was unchanged at 40. Window Glass was firmer, 400 shares selling at 60, an advance of ¾ per cent. Philadelphia Company was also firmer, the common advancing 1¾ to 48½, and the preferred to 49¾, while the new consolidated bonds were in good demand at 106¾ bid. Fire Proofing and the Brewing shares were dull but firmer and closed at small net advances. In the Westinghouse group some irregularity was displayed. Electric was firm, advancing to 107½ and closing ¾ higher than on the preceding day, probably in sympathy with the advance in General Electric and other industrial stocks in the East. Union Switch and Signal, on the other hand, was heavy, the common being offered at 94 and the preferred selling at 100, a drop of 10 points from the last preceding sale. Air Brake declined to 177, but subsequently recovered to 178.

Bank and trust company shares were dull and irregular. Colonial Trust rallied to 620, closing at 614 bid. Real Estate Trust sold as high as 309, but later declined to 305 and closed at 302½ bid. 305½ asked. Cosmopolitan National bank and Federal National bank each closed 1 point lower. Bonds were quiet but steady.

PITTSBURGH STOCKS.

NOTES AND COMMENT.

General Electric yesterday advanced to 185, a recovery of 15 points from the low point of the week.

Early in the day Wall street had a report of the death of Mr. Russell Sage, which proved unfounded.

At the opening of the market yesterday one leading New York bank loaned $5,000,000 at 7 per cent.

Mortgage Banking Company stock was quoted at 98 bid, and Sharon Steel was quoted at 109 bid, 115 asked.

The gross earnings of Baltimore & Ohio for September increased $464,353, and the net increased $125,121.

Amalgamated Copper declared the expected dividend of one-half of 1 per cent, the same rate as paid for the preceding quarter.

The comptroller of the currency has extended until October 18, 1902, the corporate existence of the Second National bank of Circleville, O.

H. P. Frothingham, the New York broker, says the government will probably take $12,000,000, which means $15,000,000 in cash, including premium.

Helping along the good feeling in Wall street was the announcement that the Tennessee Coal and Iron strike had been settled, and that 4,500 men had returned to work.

The comptroller of the currency has approved the selection of the National Mechanics bank of Baltimore as a reserve agent for the Citizens' National bank of Philippi, W. Va.

Henry Clews wired: "With the coal strike removed as a factor, money is the only thing of an adverse feature to be considered. Call loans are freely offered at 6 per cent, and time rates are still offered sparingly, 9 per cent being the rate for 90 days. If the secretary of the treasury buys $25,000,000 bonds, as talked of, that will clear the situation."

No commission house of any standing is predicting a bull campaign in the market this fall, but it is true that several powerful financial interests took over blocks of stocks carried by weak syndicates during the money squeeze, it would be reasonable to expect that the same interests would turn to making a market upon which to unload surplus holdings.

Comparing yesterday's prices with the lowest of Monday, the extent of the recovery has been as follows in leading stocks: Norfolk & Western, 10 per cent; Pennsylvania, 6½ per cent; St. Paul, 10 per cent; Baltimore & Ohio, 4¼ per cent; Missouri Pacific, 8½ per cent; Union Pacific, 5½ per cent; Illinois Central, 8 per cent; Atchison, Southern Pacific and Canadian Pacific, each 6 per cent; Metropolitan, 7½ per cent; Reading, 5 per cent; Wabash, 4 per cent; Wabash preferred, 5 per cent, and Sugar, 8 per cent.

Two New York stock exchange commission houses yesterday notified their Pittsburgh correspondents that they were ready to again accept margin business, the prospects in the money market, while not assuring ease, indicating that the period of severe stringency had passed. Several other houses, while they did not point blank refuse to take new business last week except on a cash basis, indicated very plainly that they did not care to increase their obligations. Commission house business yesterday was probably better than on any day during the past two weeks.

On the exchange Miller sold a block of $20,000 Philadelphia Company new 5s at 106⅞ to Sproul & Co. and Robinson Bros. Whitney & Stephenson were sellers of 400 shares Window Glass at 60 to Long, Ball and Sproul & Co. Kuhn Bros. were sellers of 500 shares Crucible Steel preferred to Miller, Sproul & Co. and Ramsey, Martin and McMullin were sellers of the common stock to Doty & Sutton and Martin, Speer Bros. were the principal sellers of Real Estate Trust, Hall taking 60 shares at 305 and Martin was a seller of 50 shares Colonial Trust to Holmes & Sons.

The explanation for the sudden revival of activity on the part of the bull pools runs something like this: Mr. Gates has just returned from Europe, feeling refreshed by his vacation. His pool in Louisville & Nashville is credited with having made between $15,000,000 and $17,000,000 on the deal. The latter is supposed to have closed Wednesday, placing a considerable sum in the hands of the pool. The Harris-Gates lieutenants probably sized up the speculative situation. They found the trade sold out, sore, and possibly "short" of the market. They also found a disposition in this short interest, the result being a fiveday slump in Norfolk & Western, and large gains in other specialties. In any event, the movement is in line with predictions as to the kind of a market that would likely follow the recent shake-out.

"Brokers who have studied the recurrent tantrums of money for 20 years draw distinctions between the present situation and those monetary stringencies of the past. It is not now a question of collateral, they say, but one purely of money. There is simply not enough money to go round. They have seen call money as high as 1 per cent a day and they have paid that much for accommodations for 10 days or more; but then it was a question of collateral. People were afraid to lend their money, and charged dearly for the chances they thought they were taking. It's different now. Money borrowed on government bonds costs quite as much as that borrowed on first-rate stock collateral. It is not that anybody is afraid to lend, but that they have not the money to lend. Under the circumstances, it is complained, there is small inducement for anybody to buy stocks just now, except one wants to take one's stock up and has the money to do so. Those who take up their stocks are an insignificant percentage of the whole, and anyway, they never bid for stocks. The discouraging consideration is that the immediate difficulties in the way of bidding stocks up seem insurmountable."—New York Commercial.

STOCKS BOUND UP IN WALL STREET

Big Sales Made on Rising Market on Influence of Strike Settlement.

TALK OF BOND SALE

Report That Syndicate Will Offer Secretary Shaw $15,000,000 at Satisfactory Figure — Market Buoyant.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

New York, Oct. 16.—The formal announcement that the coal miners' representatives had agreed to submit their difficulties with the coal operators to the board of arbitration appointed by President Roosevelt, removed any lingering doubts that existed in Wall street, as to a possible hitch in the efforts to bring about a satisfactory solution of the matter. With the rumor of this long deterrent factor as a market influence, speculators began to figure on the beneficial effects on general business that would follow the resumption of active mining operations. News from the anthracite region indicating that the miners were in jubilant spirits over the prospect of speedily returning to work was greeted with great satisfaction, as was the statement that the mine operators were making preparations to resume work on a large scale. Advices from abroad that the situation was viewed there with great cheerfulness intensified the optimistic feeling and caused heavy buying of the general market. London followed its satisfaction over the outcome by creating a strong and active market for American securities there and supplemented it with some large buying orders here. Prices opened with a rush upward, and huge blocks of stocks were bought at rising prices.

Deal in Pennsylvania.

The opening in the coalers was wide and there were 6,000 shares of Pennsylvania purchased on a fractional spread. Initial gains were well over a point throughout the active list, and after a temporary setback, the rise was renewed with vigor and advances of 2 and even 3 points became numerous. The buying movement embraced all of the usual favorites and at times was heavily centered in various groups, particularly in the Pennsylvania group. The pronounced strength of the market brought out the usual crop of rumors regarding special stocks, particularly Norfolk & Western, which advanced over 6 points to 80 on reports of an increased dividend. Much of the heavy buying throughout the list was credited to a heavy operator who has recently returned to the street after an absence abroad. After the first burst of enthusiasm over the favorable aspect of the coal strike situation the street began to regard that incident as a secondary factor in the market and commenced to discount the expected easing up of the monetary situation through the rumored bond purchases by Secretary Shaw.

All Left to Guess.

Nothing definite regarding this developed during the day, but there were very many circumstantial accounts touching the transaction. It was reported that the amount involved would be about $15,000,000, which would be tendered by a syndicate on satisfactory terms. Professional traders were inclined to regard the heavy buying as foreshadowing an early announcement of the transaction. Room shorts showed much concern over the heavy absorption of stocks and covered pretty extensively in many of the leaders. The market at times showed some hesitation while realizing was in progress, but where this process was going on the effect was largely counterbalanced by heavy buying at other points. Monetary conditions today were more favorable to borrowers and there were more liberal offerings of time money below recent rates. Prominent features in the day's movement were the Pacifics, Louisville & Nashville, Sugar, Illinois Central, the high-priced coal stocks and St. Paul. The latter was marked up above 190 on a revival of reports of closer relations with Union Pacific, which was also conspicuously strong.

Sterling Exchange Steadier.

Sterling exchange rates today were somewhat steadier, owing to a rather smaller volume of commercial bills. The statements of the large European governmental institutions were scanned with interest in view of some expectation here that there is an early likelihood of gold imports. The reports from the Bank of France and the Bank of England showed some contraction in resources, but the proportion of the latter's reserve to liability rose to 45.77 per cent against 43.38 per cent last week. Trading was in immense volume in the closing hour and there were many blocks of 1,000 shares and upward taken, one block of 5,000 shares of Norfolk & Western changing hands at 80. Prices all around were quite generally lifted to the best and the closing was very active and strong.

The bond market showed pronounced strength in sympathy with stocks. Total sales, par value, $4,310,000. United States new 4s coupon advanced ¼ per cent on the last call.

OLD GILMAN BANK CLOSES ITS DOORS

Failure in New York Announced, but No Other Concern Is Involved.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 16.—Failure of the banking house of Gilman, Son & co. was announced late today. The liabilities, it was said, are less than $200,000 and it was added that no other New York concern would be affected.

The business of Gilman, Son & Co. was largely in western farm mortgages. The house was founded in 1860 by Winthrop S. Gilman, who died in 1884, and the business was taken up by his sons, Theodore and Winthrop, Jr. For some time the bank has done little business.

Bainbridge Colby of the law firm of Alexander & Colby, who was called in for a consultation, said: "The firm appears to be embarrassed. Later, if I can, I will be glad to give the details."

DAY OF ACTIVITY IN GRAIN PITS

Higher Prices Prevail in All Cereals in Chicago on Good Demand.

BIG TRADES IN WHEAT

Statistics Are Bearish, but Local Bull Sentiment Ignores Them. Corn and Oats Rule Strong. Provisions Are Higher.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

Chicago, Oct. 16.—Activity in both grain and provisions was manifested today, and higher prices prevailed, December wheat closing ½c higher, December corn 1½@1⅝c higher and oats ⅛c higher, while January provisions closed from 7½@10c to 25c higher.

Wheat was active and strong and a large amount of trading was done both in May and December. The opening was firm on higher cables, and after a temporary decline, due to profit-taking by outside longs and selling by locals, the market again became strong. Good commission house demand, together with covering by shorts and strength in corn, were the main bull factors. Statistics were bearish, but little attention is being paid to them, the local sentiment being bullish. December opened a shade lower to ⅛@¼c higher, at 71⅜@71⅝c. After selling down to 71¼@71⅜c, there was a rally on covering by shorts, sales being made at 72c. The close was ¼c higher at 71⅞@72c. Primary receipts were 1,243,861 bushels, against 1,030,795 bushels a year ago.

Receipts Are Larger.

Minneapolis and Duluth reported receipts of 853 cars, which with local receipts of 115 cars—seven of contract grade—made total receipts for the three points of 968 cars, against 819 cars last week and 714 cars a year ago.

Active demand for December corn from commission houses caused that delivery to rule strong and a large volume of trading was done at an advance. Much of the buying was done by a prominent local trader, who was largely responsible for the September deal, and who is now said to be long a big line in December. The opening was strong on higher cables and there was some selling by commission houses early on the advance, but prices were well maintained and later the early sellers turned buyers, which helped to boost the price. There was considerable realizing again at the advance, and a slight decline followed, but near the close there was renewed demand and final figures were near the top. December opened unchanged to ⅜c lower at 40⅜@40⅝c, sold between 40⅜@51⅝c, closing 1½@1⅝c higher at 51¾@51⅞c. Local receipts were 208 cars, with 25 contract.

Fair Trade in Oats.

Oats were traded in fairly well, and the market was strong, largely in sympathy with higher prices in other grains. Good commission house demand, especially for May and covering by shorts were also bull factors. Light offerings helped prices. December closed ¼c higher at 31⅛c, after ranging between 31⅝@31½@31⅜c. Local receipts were 184 cars.

Continued small receipts of hogs and strength in grain pits caused an upward tendency to provisions. Trading was active; offerings became light late in the day, which helped to maintain prices. January lard was 25c higher at 7.20c, and ribs closed at 7½@10c higher at $8.42½.

Estimated receipts for tomorrow: Wheat, 140 cars; corn, 355 cars; oats, 209 cars; hogs, 16,000 head.

COLLINS AVENUE PROPERTY SOLD

Pittsburgh Upholstering Co. Buys Corner Lot for $27,500.

GOOD BUY IN ALLEGHENY

Railroads Securing Options on South Side—East End Company to Change Name—Another Batch of New Houses.

The Pittsburgh Upholstering Company has purchased the property at the northeast corner of Collins avenue and Broad street, East End, for $27,500. The deal was made through W. C. Moreland, who secured the property from Mrs. Richard B. Mellon. The lot has a frontage of 75 feet in Collins avenue and 112 feet in Broad street, extending through to an alley. An old brick house is the only improvement. This will be torn down to make way for a five-story brick block which the purchasers will erect at a cost of $20,000. The company is now located in Spahr street, and will remove to the new location as soon as its building can be erected.

This is the fourth corner property in Collins avenue that has been sold within the past six months. The southeast corner of Broad street and Collins avenue was purchased by Charles Cramer, and the northwest and southwest corners of Kirkwood street and Collins avenue were sold recently to W. R. Kuhn and a local builder.

Old Residence Brings $48,000.

A. D. Wilson, the Allegheny real estate broker, has purchased the old Joseph H. Brown residence property at the northwest corner of Stockton avenue and West Diamond street, Allegheny, for about $48,000. The lot is one of the largest and best adapted for business purposes in that district, having a frontage of 60 feet and a depth of 240 feet to Park way.

A few weeks ago it was reported sold to Boggs & Buhl, who at that time bought the Tiernan property, near the corner of Stockton avenue and East Diamond street. The deal fell through. It is reported, however, that the present purchase was made by Mr. Wilson in the interest of this firm. The Brown property was purchased from Mrs. C. B. King, who declined to name the exact price, but intimated that it was not over $800 a foot. On the lot is an old three-story brick house occupied as a dwelling.

With the Ft. Wayne improvements completed, Stockton avenue, between Sandusky street and Sherman avenue, gives promise of becoming one of the best business streets in Allegheny and the large properties are considered by well posted real estate men to be excellent investments.

South Side Railroad Rumors.

A rumor was in circulation yesterday to the effect that the Pennsylvania Railroad Company has secured options on frontage on the north side of Carson street between First and Second streets, South Side. The plot includes 11 properties, which are in the hands of the following nine owners: B. Strumm, M. & R. Walsh, Mrs. C. Ryan, S. I. Thornton, the city of Pittsburgh, J. F. Walker, J. Sutton, M. A. Toomey and N. Sassar. Each of the lots has a frontage of 20 feet and extends back 100 feet to McKean street. The properties are situated in the "Y" between the elevated tracks of the Panhandle and those of the Pittsburgh, Virginia & Charleston railway.

Directly across McKean street from these properties the Pittsburgh, Virginia & Charleston Railroad Company owns several lots extending nearly to the river front and the property adjoining it and extending to Second street is also owned by the same company. The consideration offered for the 11 properties is said to have been in the neighborhood of $175,000, but as far as learned no sales have been effected yet.

It was also reported that the Pittsburgh, Carnegie & Western Railroad (Wabash) was securing options on the square between Second and Third street, on the north side of Carson street. The Wabash has already bought property in the rear of this plot, and other deals for lots in the near vicinity are now held up in court.

Will Change Its Name.

The Valley Trust Company of the East End will soon be known as the East End Savings and Trust Company, if the application filed yesterday with Gov. W. A. Stone for a change of name is favorably passed upon. The change was decided upon at a meeting of the directors Tuesday and is a part of the broader policy program which the company has entered upon since the increase in its capital stock. In connection with its real estate and trust business the company already has a thriving savings department, and soon as its new building on the Sheridan hotel site, at the corner of Penn avenue and Sheridan street, is erected, another banking department is to be added, which will make the company one of the strongest institutions in the entire East End district.

W. R. Kuhn, the East End caterer, proves to have been the buyer of the J. R. Mellon property, at the southwest corner of Collins avenue and Kirkwood street, which was sold a few weeks ago for $21,000. The final papers in the deal were delivered yesterday, the sale having been made through James B. Lawler, of the Valley Trust Company.

Wabash Pulling Down Walls.

The Pittsburgh, Carnegie & Western Railroad Company is rapidly cutting its way through a business portion of the first ward to Liberty avenue. Yesterday the work of razing the three-story brick buildings at Nos. 13 and 15 Fourth avenue, was started. Several old buildings running through from Liberty avenue to Fourth street will be torn down and the work of clearing the right of way for the proceed as rapidly as the condemnation suits can be adjusted. It is said that the Wabash has now secured all the property in the triangle bounded by Fourth avenue, Liberty avenue and Ferry street, with the exception of two lots.

The purchase by Charles Ruben, of the firm of Solomon & Rubin, of the Maurer property, in McKeesport, for $140,000, exclusive mention of which was made in The Gazette yesterday, is the most important deal in business property made in that city for years. The location is a very desirable one, on the corner of Fifth avenue and Walnut street, and the price paid, $1,166 a foot for the Fifth avenue frontage is considered reasonable. If the property is improved, as it probably will be, with a good business block, this corner will be the natural business center of the city.

Lumber Long Delayed.

The trouble in getting building material has of late been the greatest in the case of handsome lumber orders. A large job of house building have been at a standstill for two weeks on account of the non-arrival of finishing stuff. At McKeesport about 15 houses are waiting on such material, and in the East End contractors report that many first-class homes already under roof cannot be finished for the same reason. The scarcity of good finished timber in the Pittsburgh market has led many builders to order direct from the east, and these shipments, some of which were due in August, have not yet arrived.

Store and cement are also hard to get at times, the supply of the latter having been short all summer. Although the supply of many kinds of building materials is short and the delivery slow, carpenters and masons are plenty and the work now under way is likely to be well closed up before freezing sets in.

Building in Bradley Place.

Three more fine residences are assured for Bradley place. One of them, a colonial brick house to cost $10,000, is to be started by the Bradley Land Company in a few days in Brown street. Another residence, of the same type, to cost $8,000, will be erected by Frank A. Hite, in Morewood avenue, on a site which he bought a few weeks ago. The third house will be built in Brown street and will cost $10,000. The purchaser, whose name is withheld, has just completed a deal for a lot, 60x100 feet, for which he paid $4,000.

Another fine residence in the Twentieth ward has changed owners for a price approximating $15,000. It formerly belonged to James M. Donaghey and was bought by the Misses Brown. The residence is an 11-room, buff brick, reception hall house, standing on a lot having a frontage of 75 feet in Amber street, 77 feet in Baum street and a depth of 100 feet to an alley. The purchase was made for a home.

More Houses for Belmar.

Nine more houses are to be erected in Belmar place by C. D. Conner. The houses, for which a permit was taken out yesterday, will cost $54,000 and will be built in Race street, between Sterrett and Collier streets, Twenty-first ward. Every house will contain 11 rooms and an attic. John C. Brown will build six two-story frame houses in Ohio street, to cost $2,000 each.

A small frame church, to cost $3,500, is to be erected by the Presbyterians of the Thirty-seventh ward, at the corner of Blackadore and Perchment streets.

The Pittsburgh Provision Company was yesterday granted permission to erect six two-story brick houses on Herrs island, Eighth ward, Allegheny, to cost $4,500, and a two-story brick blacksmith shop, in the same location, to cost $2,500.

Allegheny, W. L. Scott & Co. sold for Thomas Tate to P. J. Ritter an eight-room brick house, lot 20x100 feet, at No. 1118 Rebecca street, Allegheny, for $3,500.

Uses Thirteen Old Bricks.

NEW YORK, Oct. 16.—Daniel Frohman today laid the corner stone of his Lyceum theater in West Forty-fifth street. A part of the ceremony was the laying of 13 bricks from the old Lyceum theater in the foundation of the building. Each was laid by one of Mr. Frohman's old Lyceum employes, who will all hold their old positions in the new house.

Movements in Trade.

NEW YORK, Oct. 16.—The Amalgamated Copper Company has declared a dividend of ½ per cent for the quarter.

NEWARK, N. J., Oct. 16.—Vice Chancellor Emery today appointed Chauncey G. Parker of this city receiver of the New Jersey Agricultural Chemical Company. The assets are placed at $194,261 and the liabilities, exclusive of the $500,000 capital stock, $170,788.

DETROIT, Oct. 16.—On petition of the Union Trust Company, receiver of the wrecked City savings bank of this city, Judge Donegan today ordered a dividend of 20 per cent paid the Savings depositors.

MEMPHIS, Oct. 16.—A strong effort is being made in Tennessee, Mississippi, Louisiana and Arkansas to organize every sawmill firm of any importance into the Hardwood Manufacturers' association of the United States.

CHICAGO, Oct. 16.—The stockholders of the Pullman Car Company met today and re-elected all the old directors. The usual quarterly dividend of $2 per share was declared. The annual statement for the year ending July 31 shows a total revenue of $20,927,987; total expenses, including dividends declared, $17,852,-182, leaving a net surplus of $3,015,751; surplus brought forward, $7,762,279; total surplus, $10,778,030.

RECENT FROSTS MAKE VEGETABLES GO UP

Southern String Beans Soon to Arrive—Concord Grapes Decline.

Notwithstanding the fact that there were somewhat increased receipts of millfeed yesterday, quotations were held firm, even going a little higher. White middlings are quoted as high as $19 50 for No. 2, and one prominent broker stated very decidedly that he would sell none under $20 00. Demand for feed is quite lively, and it is costing jobbers more than it did a few days ago. Hay is very steady, and the future outlook is for a strong market. Corn is unchanged, new car being offered yesterday for 60c. Oats are strong at the advances of Wednesday.

No change has occurred in the flour situation, the return selling price in the local market continuing at $4 15. Dealers assert, and with truth, that this is not a high enough price considering the recent mill advances, but local competition is holding figures down. There is some selling as low as $4 10, but not much, while a few sellers report sales at prices above $4 15.

Little Grocery Action.

Aside from flour there is little to attract attention or cause comment in listed groceries. Lima beans are higher, being firmer in sympathy with the high market for navies. Canned goods are steady, with demand increasing. Dried fruits are active, quotations which have ruled for over a week. New raisins are on the road to arrive here in the near future.

The decline in laundry soap noted a few days ago continues, and a number of the leading manufacturers have followed the cut made by a western firm. Just why the reduction was made does not seem clear to local jobbers, but nevertheless it has been made, and buyers are the gainers. The market is still unsettled, as it is not known whether the cutting has all been done.

The heavy frost of Tuesday night has commenced to influence the market, and home raised vegetables are thinning out. String beans are scarce and much higher, but few remaining in the hands of farmers; shipments are now en route here from the south, and these will soon take the place of home grown.

Grapes in Abundances.

Egg plant is also sharply advanced in price. Onions, both in barrel and by the bushel, are a little easier, owing to increased supplies. Grapes are in much greater abundance than heretofore, and prices have declined quite materially. Peaches are dragging along, quotations being nominally unchanged, but nearly every sale is a law unto itself, price being made according to the condition of the fruit, and sellers are really waiting for offers. Potatoes are maintaining their strong position. Nuts are in growing demand, as Hallow'een approaches, and prices are moderate.

Butter conditions are very firm, and dealers are now expecting another advance in quotations next Monday. Cheese is in active demand, and is tantamount to go still higher in price. Eggs are steady but unchanged.

No changes have occurred for several days in the poultry market, both live and dressed stock remaining as they were at the opening of the week.

AGED SWINDLER PLEADED GUILTY

Paul Brigham, 76 Years Old, Sentenced Eight Years for Forgery.

GOT $2,600 ON BAD CHECK

Buncoed Henry S. Mould Company on Pretense of Buying Stock—Forged Cashier's Checks Turned in for Cash.

Paul Brigham, alias Charles W. Bartlett alias Adam Keith, the aged swindler and forger, who last summer succeeded in getting $2,600 in cash from the Henry S. Mould Company, was taken before Judge Stowe yesterday, where he pleaded guilty to the indictments against him. He was sentenced to four years to the penitentiary on each of the three indictments, two of the sentences to run concurrently and the third to take effect at the expiration of the other two, aggregating an eight-year term for the old man.

Bingham wore a straw hat. Attorney William Price, after the pleas had been entered, made a fervent appeal for mercy on account of Bingham's age. He said Brigham was 76 years old and his wife, who is blind, is 74 years old.

Judge Stowe said he had sympathy for the man's age and that he would likely not live long after gaining his freedom, but he was compelled to impose sentence according to the law. Sentence was suspended in the false pretense indictments against Brigham.

Brigham came to Pittsburgh in August, 1901, representing himself to be looking for an investment. The Henry S. Mould Briquetting Company became interested in him, and it was arranged that he was to take a block of the company's stock. About September 6 Brigham decided he would like to go to California for the winter and succeeded in getting $2,500 for his expenses on the strength of three checks purporting to be on the Merchants' National bank of Boston, and bearing the signature of S. F. Otis, the cashier.

The checks were drawn by "Adam Keith" and made payable to his order with the alleged certificate of the bank on the back. One was for $2,500 and the others for $1,500 and $500. By depositing these he secured the local company on their loan of $2,500 and a previous one of $100. Brigham was traced to Boston by Roger O'Mara.

IKE HARRIS ACQUITTED.

Killed John Williams in Self-Defense—C. F. Hetzel Not Guilty of False Pretense.

"Ike" Harris, a negro, was acquitted of murder yesterday after short deliberation by the jury. He was charged with killing John Williams, colored, in a fight at the home of William Brackston, at Corks Run, on July 13.

Self-defense was set up by Harris' attorneys, J. M. McJunkin and William M. Price, and District Attorney Haymaker did not oppose the contention.

There was a party at Brackston's house and Williams arrived intoxicated. He was intent on quarreling, and when Harris acted as peacemaker Williams drew a knife on Harris. The latter was cut several times and then picked up a shovel and dealt Williams two blows on his head, which caused his death a few days later. Harris at the time gave $1 to pay for a physician's services to attend Williams. Judge Stowe charged for acquittal.

In Judge Collier's criminal court Charles F. Hetzel was tried on a charge of false pretense, made by Henry Herzog, who represented that he was the losee of $4,804 through misrepresentations of Hetzel. Hetzel owned the "Vinos Manufacturing Company" and sold a half interest in the business to Herzog for $2,804, and subsequently his own interest for $8,000.

The firm possessed a recipe for "turning water into wine," as Judge Collier remarked while waiting on the jury to return. "Vinos" was the name given to the drink, and it was represented to be as "sweet and palatable as nectar, with all the invigorating elements of the stronger beverages." It was cheap to manufacture and Hetzel stated the business was worth $100,000 a year. Herzog claimed that before he took his half-interest orders amounting to $1,500 were waiting to be filled, according to Hetzel, but he found these to be bogus.

Hetzel said the business was fully as good as he represented and brought several witnesses to show the sales made. The jury acquitted Hetzel, but placed the costs on him.

Other acquittals were: Sebastian Scherf, selling liquor without a license, August Hingst, the prosecutor, to pay the costs; Alphone Bucher, assault and battery on John A. Angel, costs divided; Patrick Kane et al, malicious mischief in tearing down a fence, Joseph E. Holly, prosecutor, costs divided; Minnie Myers, selling liquor without a license, prosecutrix, Emma J. Chaffee, to pay the costs.

Kate Wilben pleaded guilty to illegal sale of liquor, but sentence was suspended on the payment of costs.

LOSES ON TECHNICALITY.

Court of Appeals Reverses—$51,550 Verdict Against Insurance Companies.

The circuit court of appeals reversed the United States circuit court in nine cases brought by Frank J. Hearne against the Glens Falls Insurance Company, the Aetna Insurance Company, the Baloise Insurance Company, the New Hampshire Insurance Company, the New Netherlands Fire Insurance Company, the Citizens Insurance Company, the Greenwich Insurance Company and the Rochester German Insurance Company, to recover damages for the loss of his house in Murray Hill avenue by fire on February 28, 1901. The house was not occupied at the time of the fire and extensive improvements were being made.

The defense was that by the terms of the policies 15 days' notice was to be given in case the house was not occupied, that no such notice was given, and that, therefore, the policies were void. The suits were tried together and a verdict of $51,550 was rendered for the plaintiff.

In the United States district court Wesley P. Norris of Clearfield filed a petition in bankruptcy. His liabilities are $8,332 and assets $1,975. A similar petition was filed by Daniel Winters of Allegheny. He owes $10,492 and has $155 in assets. Harry Schaeffer and Charles W. Townsend of Pittsburgh were discharged from bankruptcy.

LEGAL BRIEFS.

George M. Bauer of Pittsburgh gave a $7,400 estate to his wife.

Daniel Sorg of Pittsburgh bequeathed a $1,750 estate to his brothers and sisters.

The will of J. K. Miller of Etna left an estate worth $1,050 to his wife and children.

Anthony Washinski asks for $5,000 damages from A. M. Byers & Co. He was hurt by an explosion.

J. C. Rayburn willed an estate worth $8,500 to his children, J. C. Rayburn, Jr., and Elizabeth A. Atcheson.

In orphans' court the South Side Trust Company was appointed guardian of the eight children of George F. Hansman, deceased.

An execution attachment was issued by E. H. M. Jones against S. P. Kennedy, naming R. M. Gulick & Co. and Michael Daly, garnishees.

Robert R. Souseman took out letters of administration on the estate of Charles Odell, worth $10,000. Attorney D. M. Alston represents the estate.

The McKeesport Gas Improvement Company sued W. W. Kelly for $5,000 damages. It is alleged the defendant damaged the gas pipes of the plaintiffs while excavating.

Suit in behalf of Theodore Sheminski was entered against the Pennsylvania Railroad Company for $20,000 damages. Sheminski, who is five years old, was run over by a train at Pike and Statesville streets, losing a leg.

In the case of Robert S. Robb, administrator of the estate of Theodore Hostetter, the Union Trust Company filed a statement that it had turned over to Robb 288 $1,000 bonds of the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie Railroad Company and 100 $1,000 bonds of the Corona Coal and Iron Company.

UNIQUE ELECTION WAGER IS OFFERED

Citizen Has an Odd Proposition for Machine Men Who Have Favorites to Back.

Machine men who wish a bet can be accommodated. Dozens of men in Pittsburgh desire to wager money on the Citizens county ticket, but the most unique offer was made in Hummel's cafe yesterday.

The machine has issued a large card containing the pictures of the Republican nominees for state offices and the candidates for congress, Legislative and county offices. The proposition made yesterday is this: Cut out the faces of Judge Pennypacker, W. M. Brown, I. B. Brown, John Dalzell and Judges Stowe and Cohen. This leaves the old organization ticket. The card is then to be turned upside down. The man who wishes to bet is to be blindfolded and given a lead pencil. The Citizen will allow his to touch any or all of the remaining faces, and in each case agrees to wages $500 that the man selected will not be elected. This is taking the largest chances possible, for there are men on the card who are likely to be elected.

EXPERT CAUGHT IN WASHINGTON

Jacob Stearn Is Wanted Here for Diamond Robbery of Last Winter.

GOT M'CANDLESS' TIMER

Was Afterward Released by Police on Condition of Returning Property—It Is Said He Pulled Off Trick That Same Night.

Detective Supt. Demmel was yesterday notified of the capture of Jacob Stearn, alias Joseph Miller, an expert pickpocket. Stearn is under indictment in Allegheny county for having robbed Joseph Kaufmann of Chicago at the Pittsburgh, Ft. Wayne & Chicago railroad station of a large diamond stud, in January.

Stearn was captured in Washington, D. C., some days ago. Supt. Demmel

JACOB STEARN.
The Man Who Lifted Director McCandless' Watch.

notified the detective headquarters of the Pennsylvania railroad here.

It is possible that Stearn will be brought to Pittsburgh to answer the charge preferred against him by the railroad company. He was arrested in Pittsburgh last January, in company with John Saulters, alias Red Hacket, and the latter is now serving a term in the Western penitentiary for light-fingered work.

Detectives Elmore and Dennison arrested Stearn and Hackett on a street car at Fifth avenue and Smithfield street on January 7, when all Pittsburgh was excited over the numerous hold-ups that had occurred on street cars for two weeks previous.

On the night preceding the arrest, Director McCandless was robbed of his watch and chain while going to his home on a trolley car. Previous to this John Moorhead had been held up on a car and robbed of $120, and a contractor named Jolley had lost a valuable diamond stud in the same manner.

On a promise that they would return all the stolen plunder and leave the city the thieves were allowed to go free. The money, diamond and watch were returned and the prisoners were liberated.

The two crooks on the night of their liberation went to the Ft. Wayne station in Allegheny, where they stole the stud from Kaufmann. The theft became known and officers boarded the train at a station in the Beaver valley.

Instead of arresting the crooks before they got out of the state, they followed them to Chicago, where they were put in jail, but soon gave bail and were released. Stearn got away and all efforts to capture him failed, until he made his appearance in Washington recently. He is wanted there for larceny from the person.

DISCOURAGING STRAW BONDS.

Head of the Industry Gets a Six-Year Prison Sentence.

NEW YORK, Oct. 16.—(Special.)—Leopold S. Oppenheim, whom Judge Newburger today designated as "the head of the straw bond industry," was sentenced to prison for six years and eight months on a charge of perjury.

For several months Assistant District Attorney Miner has been close on the trail of a gang that has been making a business of bailing out persons charged with misdemeanors, and as a result of his work four persons are serving time in state prison.

Hats That Look Like Folks You Know.

When our milliners set to work to make and trim a hat they keep in their mind's eye some woman they know. Her tastes and tendencies are considered, her likes and her dislikes, her whims and her prejudices, and the hat is shaped, trimmed and given the last deft touches of art just as if her order had actually been taken. This is what gives our Trimmed Millinery so much individuality—such diversity—such suggestiveness of the acquaintance or that friend or some relative.

And this same quality pervades our entire line from the fifty styles at Five Dollars up to the masterpieces of elegant headwear at $25 and $30.

Shall we tell you what three of our Ten Dollar Trimmed Hats are like:

(1)—This is a large roll Turban with Bell crown, made of interwoven chenille braid and felt stripes. A wide black satin ribbon encircles the brim and falls over the back in a double drooping bow. Two black quills and two rhinestone caboncbons are so disposed as to give a dashing touch.

(2)—Here we have one of the large black flat Hats so much in vogue. The broad brim is shirred silk, stitched at half-inch intervals. A binding and flat bow of black silk velvet and a pair of glossy black wings and a bow of black satin ribbon falling over the back complete the garniture.

(3)—This is a large flare Hat in rich red tones. The shape is made of black and red chenille, braids woven together, the facing is shirred red silk and draped around the brim to the back is a band of red Panne velvet passing through four black jet rings.

WHAT WILL YOU WEAR SUNDAY?

You Can Wear a New Coat.

Something jaunty, up-to-date in style and a satisfaction to yourself and friends—a double-breasted tight-fitting 29-inch Kersey Jacket for $7.50—a "Monte Carlo" in cloth or silk for $10 or $15—or something still finer for $18, $20 or $25, and as high as you want to go up to $75 for one of the richest Velour Coats you ever saw.

You Can Wear a New Suit.

A stylish Fall Suit in a Zibeline, a Cheviot, a Venetian or a Covert—a "snowflake" suit with riffle-back blouse and seven-gore skirt, for $17.50—a handsome black cheviot suit with taffeta-trimmed blouse jacket, with postillion back and a nine-gore skirt for $20—something still less expensive for as little as $7.50—something still more elegant for as much as $37.50.

You Can Wear a New Skirt.

One of those fetching Sample Silk Dress Skirts, for instance, which we bought in New York two weeks ago. The Silks are Peau de Soie and Taffeta, the trimmings are ruffles, gimps, medallions, lace all-over tuckings and velvet. Some have the new slot seams. Twenty chances to choose. Prices $8.50 to $25.

You Can Wear a Walking Skirt.

And one of the new ones that will look best on you will be found in our line of Pedestrian Skirts with side tucking, side or inverted pleats, which give the flare effects; tailor stitching at the bottom, slot seams, self-cording—blues, black, tans, browns, castors, fancy mixtures and a few checks. Prices $2.98 to $12.

NICETIES OF DRESS.

Ruffs—Just now, when it is too cold for unprotected necks and too warm for furs, every woman wants a fluffy Liberty Silk or Chiffon Ruff for Exposition wear—for calling purposes—for the theater—for street wear on bright days. We have a lovely line in boa shapes and cape effects, accordeon pleated, edged with ribbon and juby trimming—black or deft combinations of black-and-white. Prices $1.00 to $14.

Lace Collars—Small round, large cape and horseshoe effects. Venise, Batiste and Irish Crochet laces. White, butter color and Arabian shades. For children's coats, ladies' silk coats and silk waists. $1.00, $1.75 and up to $6.98.

Lace Ties—Oriental and repousse effects, with applique ends. One and a half yards long, for twice around the neck and tie in a bow. 25c, 50c, $1.00 and upward.

Embroidered Crepe Ties—All colors. Black, white, pink, blue and lavender. Embroidered in same or contrasting colors. Average length about a yard and a half. Prices 75c to $1.50.

Postilion Belts—These popular belts with two or three tabs, in Peau de Soie, Barathea, Moire and plaid silks—some beautifully braided—with or without buckles—50c, 75c, $1.00 and $1.50.

BEST SHOES FOR STYLE, FOR WEAR.

Lower figures than our prices are often quoted for shoes, but not by stores that are ready to guarantee their footwear to be all that the most expert shoe-making and best leathers can produce.

Examine, try on and wear any of the following and you will come back after another pair of the same kind when at last they are worn out.

Ladies' Superba Shoes, In patent leather, vici kid, patent kid, box calf, patent coltskin or enameled leather—all weights and a diversity of styles for $3.00 a pair.

Misses' Corona Coltskin Shoes, Shoes, with dull kid tops, at $2.25.

Ladies' Argyle Shoes, In patent leather, box calf and vici kid—the best shoe ever made to retail at $2 a pair.

"Little Gent's" Shoes, In vici kid, satin calf, box calf and patent coltskin, made on mannish lasts—dressy and durable—$1.50, $1.75 and $2.00.

Childrens' Patent Leathers, lace shoes with velvet tops for $1.35.

Ladies' Juliets, Easiest shoes for the feet ever made, for house or street wear. For $1.50 pair.

R·I·PANS

I had indigestion and doctored for it, but it cost me so much I could not afford it any longer. The first time I used Ripans Tabules was through a lady who called to see me and asked if I had tried them. She said: "They will help you," so I got them and took four that day and one going to bed. I was always sick at my stomach and had a pain around my heart, which is wind from dyspepsia. In the morning my headache wes gone, I did not have a pain around my heart and my stomach felt much better. I have been taking them ever since and must say I am entirely cured.
